Preparing and Training for the Full Spectrum of Military Challenges David Eugene Johnson, 2009 The difficult and continually evolving operations in Iraq and Afghanistan show the complexities of what is now termed irregular warfare and highlight the need for new approaches to the security challenges with which the United States is now contending and will likely confront in the future The research reported in this monograph focused on answering a rather straightforward but thus far largely unanswered question What can the U S military learn from other militaries about how better to prepare for full spectrum operations and deployments To this end RAND was asked by the OSD for Personnel and Readiness to examine the militaries of China France the UK India and Israel P xiii      Echo Class David E. Meadows, 2009-02-03 From the bestselling author comes the second book in the naval military series Class that will have readers holding their breath as they turn to the next page When the destroyer USS Dale is ordered to hunt down and track the Soviet Echo class submarine K 122 two professional but adversarial nations find themselves in a saber rattling battle of wits and wiles that finds them one step away from the precarious invisible line the could spark World War III Meadows will keep you turning pages and thinking new thoughts Newt Gingrich When Meadows men set sail it s sure to be a mission like no other W E B Griffin An absorbing compelling look at America s future Visionary scary Great battle scenes believable heroes plus villains you ll love to hate Joe Buff author Tidal Rip      Final Run David E. Meadows, 2008 Ordered to spy on the Soviet Northern Fleet using the USS Squallfish an old diesel engine sub Chad Shipley and his crew must prepare for battle when the first Soviet nuclear sub sets its sights on the Squallfish Original      The Bases of French Peace Operations Doctrine Joseph Philippe Grégoire, 2002 France believes that external threats to its vital and important interests spring more from potential instability on the periphery of Europe than from rival European powers France has modified its military doctrine to reflect this strategic calculus and France s conception of peace operations reflects this doctrinal change France s revision of its peacekeeping doctrine has led or lagged its NATO partners evolution in thinking but doctrinal convergence is evident A meeting of minds has come about because developments that jeopardize France s security are likely to affect that of its key allies as well

France has taken steps to defend its interests within a UN or NATO framework through the application of force if necessary NATO political leaders now have cause collectively to play a greater role in North Atlantic Treaty deliberations than they had during the Cold War Defending Western interests in the face of amorphous threats calls for unity of effort and clarity of purpose If France's comparative advantage lies in the use of force for peacekeeping and associated operations the Alliance may want to institutionalize this fact via an appropriate mechanism U.S. Military Operations in Somalia United States.
