Josef Manes:

Flying with Wax Wings Pavla Machalíková, 2024-10-05 A necessary contemporary reframing of a classic nineteenth century artist Josef Manes 1820-71 was a creator on whom the Czech revivalist society placed its hopes for the creation of a national art Manes was a painter draftsman decorator author of models for applied art and architecture and an enfant terrible of the domestic art scene A disgraced artist but an entertaining companion he was idealized and profaned in various cultural and political contexts This volume offers a new perspective on a canonized figure broadened by the varied voices and approaches of collective authors Flying with Wax Wings explores the many depictions of Manes the result of the research of a collective of authors whose aim was to introduce the key personality of nineteenth century Czech art in the context of contemporary European art and from the current position of today's art history The result is strangely enough the first monograph on Josef Manes that does not present a distorted picture of his life and work Josef Mánes Josef Mánes, Miloš Jiránek, 1905 Josef Manes Miloš Jiránek, 1921 The Coasts of Bohemia Derek Sayer, 2000-03-19 A cultural history of the Czech people examining the significance of the small central European nation's artistic literary and political developments from its origins through approximately 1960 Josef Manes (1820 - 1871), 1980 The Studio, 1908 Studio International, 1909 The Slavonic Review, 1925 Jewish Physicians Nathan Koren, 1973 Over 9000 entries Pt 1 covers from earliest times through the 18th century includes all known Jewish physicians Pt 2 covers the 19th and 20th centuries includes Jewish physicians prominent as teachers clinicians practitioners and advancers of medical science Entries include name dates short annotations and coded references to sources listed separately at end Colonial Constructs Leonard Bell, 2013-11-01 How did the European settler perceive Mori What images of Mori society and culture did European artists create for their distant audiences What preconceptions and aesthetic models lay behind early European depictions of Mori These are some of the questions explored by art historian Leonard Bell in this major study of the relationship between the visual representation of Mori and the ideology of colonialism He explores the complex and unbalanced cultural interchange between Europeans and Mori in nineteenth century New Zealand in addition to showing how the great range and variety of pictures often revealed more about the artists and their society and its attitudes than they did about Mori themselves This lively and readable book is well illustrated with examples of the artists work and will be an important contribution to the understanding of colonial New Zealand and the role played by the artist in expressing and creating cultural patterns Czechoslovak Art from Ancient Times Until the Present Day Zdeněk Wirth, 1926 The International Studio, 1920 Identity by Design Georgia Butina Watson, Ian Bentley, 2007 Fascinating discussion on the nature of identity in architecture and urban design Historical Dictionary of the Czech State Jiří Hochman, 1998 A well rounded overview of this Central European region including a chronology notes on spelling acronyms and abbreviations as well as two detailed maps 2011 Standard Catalog of World Coins 1901-2000 George S.
