novelists Hans Henny Jahnn and Hubert Fichte to sculptor and performance artist Joseph Beuys and filmmaker Werner Herzog to show that mythmaking is an indispensable human practice in times of crisis Against the background of mythologies based in nineteenth century romanticism and their ideological continuation in Nazism fresh forms of mythmaking in the narrative visual and performative arts emerged as an aesthetic paradigm in postwar modernism Boldly rewriting the cultural history of an era and setting in transition The Aesthetics of Mythmaking in German Postwar Culture counters the predominant narrative of an exclusively rational Vergangenheitsbewältigung coming to terms with the past Far from being merely reactionary the turn toward myth offered a dimension of existential orientation that had been neglected by other influential aesthetic paradigms of the postwar period Fischer's wide ranging transmedia account offers an inclusive perspective on myth beyond storytelling and instead develops mythopoesis as a formal strategy of modernism at large Art Is Everything Yxta Maya Murray, 2021-01-15 In her funny idiosyncratic and propulsive new novel Art Is Everything Yxta Maya Murray offers us a portrait of a Chicana artist as a woman on the margins. A native Amanda Ruiz is a successful performance artist who is madly in love with her girlfriend a wealthy and pragmatic actuary named Xchitl. Everything seems under control. Amanda's grumpy father is living peacefully in Koreatown. Amanda is about to enjoy a residency at the Guggenheim Museum in New York and once she gets her NEA she's going to film a groundbreaking autocritical documentary in Mexico. But then everything starts to fall apart when Xchitl's biological clock begins beeping. Amanda's father dies and she endures a sexual assault. What happens to an artist when her emotional support vanishes along with her feelings of safety and her finances. Written as a series of web posts, Instagram essays, Snapchat freakouts, rejected Yelp reviews, Facebook screeds and SmugMug streams of consciousness that merge volcanic confession with eagle-eyed art criticism, Art Is Everything shows us the painful but joyous development of a mid-career artist whose world implodes just as she has a breakthrough.

Art for an Undivided Earth Jessica L. Horton, 2017-05-18 In Art for an Undivided Earth Jessica L. Horton reveals how the spatial philosophies underlying the American Indian Movement (AIM) were refigured by a generation of artists searching for new places to stand. Upending the assumption that Jimmie Durham, James Luna, Kay WalkingStick, Robert Houle and others were primarily concerned with identity politics, she joins them in remapping the coordinates of a widely shared yet deeply contested modernity that is defined in great part by the colonization of the Americas. She follows their installations, performances and paintings across the ocean and back in time as they retrace the paths of Native diplomats, scholars, performers and objects in Europe after 1492. Along the way, Horton intervenes in a range of theories about global modernisms, Native American sovereignty, racial difference, archival logic, artistic itinerancy and new materialisms. Writing in creative dialogue with contemporary artists, she builds a picture of a spatially, temporally and materially interconnected world: an undivided earth.

Memento Mori in Contemporary Art Taylor Worley, 2019-11-28 This book explores how four contemporary artists, Francis Bacon, Joseph Beuys, Robert Gober and Damien Hirst, pursue the question of death through their fraught appropriations of Christian imagery. Each artist is shown to not only pose provocative theological questions but also to question the abilities of theological speech to adequately address current attitudes to death. When set within a broader theological context around the thought of death, Bacon's works invite fresh readings of the New Testament's narration of the betrayal of Christ and Beuys' works can be appreciated for the ways they evoke Resurrection to envision possible futures for Germany in the aftermath of war Gobe's immaculate sculptures and installations serve to create alternative religious environments and these places are both evocative of his Roman Catholic upbringing and virtually haunted by the ghosts of his excommunication from that past Lastly and perhaps most problematically Hirst has built his brand as an artist from making jokes about death By opening fresh arenas of dialogue and meaning making in our society and culture today the rich humanity of these artworks promises both renewed depths of meaning regarding our exit from this world as well as how we might live well within it for the time that we have As such it will be a vital resource for all scholars in Theology the Visual Arts Material Religion and Religious Studies The Ethics of Earth Art Amanda Boetzkes, 2013-11-30 Since its inception in the 1960s the earth art movement has sought to make visible the elusive presence of nature Though most often associated with monumental land based sculptures earth art encompasses a wide range of media from sculpture body art performances and installations to photographic interventions public protest art and community projects In The Ethics of Earth Art Amanda Boetzkes analyzes the development of the earth art movement arguing that such diverse artists as Robert Smithson Ana Mendieta James Turrell Jackie Brookner Olafur Eliasson Basia Irland and Ichi Ikeda are connected through their elucidation of the earth as a domain of ethical concern Boetzkes contends that in basing their works relationship to the natural world on receptivity rather than representation earth artists take an ethical stance that counters both the instrumental view that seeks to master nature and the Romantic view that posits a return to a mythical state of unencumbered continuity with nature By incorporating receptive surfaces into their work film footage of glaring sunlight an aperture in a chamber that opens to the sky or a porous armature on which vegetation grows earth artists articulate the dilemma of representation that nature presents Revealing the fundamental difference between the human world and the earth Boetzkes shows that earth art mediates the sensations of nature while allowing nature itself to remain irreducible to human signification Technicians of the Sacred Jerome Rothenberg, 1985 Technicians of the Sacred presents primitive and ancient poetries as the incantations they are loaded with power and very full of the magic that invests all good poetry A fresh ingenious selection of ritual and sacred poetry from around the world translated with irreverence and raw attitude Rothenberg finds incredibly powerful language in places where it wouldn't occur to most people to look and he's not afraid of crudeness and hilarity publisher Embodied Memory Anat Feinberg, 1999 In Embodied Memory Anat Feinberg offers the first English language study of the controversial dramatist George Tabori A Jewish Hungarian playwright and novelist Tabori is a unique figure in postwar German theatre one of the few theatre people since Bertolt Brecht to embody the ideal union of playwright director theatre manager and actor Revered as a theatre guru Tabori's career first in the United States and later in Germany is fraught with controversy Technicians of the Sacred, Third Edition Jerome Rothenberg, 2017-08-22 A wide ranging anthology of ethnopoeetry including origin texts visionary texts texts about death texts about events collected from Africa the Americas Asia Europe and the Ancient Near East and Oceania Provided by publisher The Parameters of Postmodernism Nicholas Zurbrugg, 2003-09-02 This ground breaking work offers a challenging and positive view of postmodern culture. It draws on the author's extensive interviews with a number of leading postmodern artists, writers and performers including Jean Baudrillard, Samuel Beckett, John Cage, Phillip Glass. The Parameters of Postmodernism focuses on both the prevailing negative theories of postmodernism and the more positive aspects of postmodern theory and practice. The negative aspect is exemplified by the work of writers like Brecht, Beckett, Barthes and Baudrillard who emphasise the death of artistic innovation and the lack of a permanent reality. Zurbrugg highlights the contradictions in the arguments of these writers and examines the later works in which they qualify their earlier more infamous statements. The positive aspect is characterised by artists such as Cage, Glass and Monk who interweave the new postmodern media with confidence and invention, and Eco, Grass and Wolf who revive mythological and folkloric traditions. The Parameters of Postmodernism argues that in each case high tech or revivalist postmodern creativity culminates in a highly positive synthesis of past, present and futuristic materials.
