precisely their hybridity and fluency in multiple cultural traditions Conrad and Gombrowicz's Polish childhoods emerge as cultural touchstones against which they formulated their writing philosophies Gasyna claims that in both cases negotiating exile involved processes of working through a traumatic past through the construction of narrative personae that served as strategic doubles Both authors engaged in extensive manipulation of their public image Above all Conrad and Gombrowicz's narratives are united by a desire for a linguistic refuge a proposed home in language and a set of techniques deployed in the representation of their predicament as subjects caught in between
