Learning And Teaching For Business Case Studies Of Successful Innovation:

Learning and Teaching for Business David Hawkrigde,2003-12-16 This collection of best practice examples of business teaching should inspire and inform those involved in the improvement of teaching in higher education Assembled by the Learning and Teaching Support Network the examples are drawn from institutions throughout the UK including The Open University Sheffield Hallam City University St Andrews Brighton De Montfort Liverpool John Moores Glasgow Leeds Met and Plymouth Individual case studies focus on everything from the use of action learning resource based learning using technology and peer assessment to the development of a knowledge management system Case Studies in Strategic Management Gunther Friedl,Andreas Biagosch,2018-09-08 Most business schools use case studies in their courses However these are typically based on past cases and assigned to students to solve This book describes a new approach for teaching with case studies which was developed and applied successfully at TUM School of Management In this approach student teams write and solve their own case study on a topic concerning current and future businesses A case can thus be on their own startup or a strategic decision of existing companies During the course the students receive intensive coaching while selecting and developing the case topic by the course advisors as well as feedback by industry experts and executives for whom the case is actually a burning question The authors present 17 cases covering strategic questions for startups and technology companies such as Deutsche Post BMW Ryanair Lufthansa Stadtwerke München Fielmann adidas Siemens Caribou Biosciences eon Airbus Unicredit and UBS The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education Richard M.S.

Wilson,2014-04-29 Many enquiries into the state of accounting education training undertaken in several countries over the past 40 years have warned that it must change if it is to be made more relevant to students to the accounting profession and to stakeholders in the wider community This book's overriding aim is to provide a comprehensive and authoritative source of reference which defines the domain of accounting education training and which provides a critical overview of the state of this domain including emerging and cutting edge issues as a foundation for facilitating improved accounting education training scholarship and research in order to enhance the educational base of accounting practice The Routledge Companion to Accounting Education highlights the key drivers of change whether in the field of practice on the one hand e.g. increased regulation globalisation risk and complexity or from developments in the academy on the other e.g. pressures to embed technology within the classroom or to meet accreditation criteria on the other Thirty chapters written by leading scholars from around the world are grouped into seven themed sections which focus on different facets of their respective themes including student curriculum pedagogic and assessment considerations Facilitating Learning in the 21st Century: Leading through Technology, Diversity and Authenticity Piet Van den Bossche,Wim H. Gijssels, Richard G.

Milner,2013-03-29 This book tackles the latest challenges in education in the business sector outlining how the students of the future must be taught to adapt to a highly fluid business environment in which their ability to acquire new skills and collaborate with others is more important than possessing facts Taking its cue from the growing body of theory advocating multi faceted and often multilingual education the book focuses on competences and collaborative team oriented project based learning Beginning with a set of studies on the differences in individual learning and ways of supporting students the volume moves on to a collection of papers on learning at the level of the group which include material on team learning and the sharing of knowledge in problem based learning The editors view these factors in education as an inevitable feature of pedagogy reflecting the fact that knowledge and its acquisition is increasingly collaborative in our working lives and especially in business A final section applies the principles developed in the first two parts at an organizational level evaluating the enormous implications these developments in our ideas about learning have for the educational institutions charged with teaching future generations Combining research and theory with practical factors in business education and training the volume provides wide ranging perspectives on developing best practice in the sector
