Learning At Home The Parent Teacher Child Alliance:

Learning at Home Alex Griffiths, Dorothy Hamilton, 1987 Multilingual Digital Storytelling Jim Anderson, Vicky Macleroy, 2016-03-02 Classrooms are increasingly multicultural in their social composition and students are increasingly connected through digital media to local and global networks However pedagogy has failed to take full advantage of the opportunities these resources represent Multilingual Digital Storytelling draws attention to the interfaces between learner engagement creativity and critical digital literacy as well as addressing the multilingual within the multiliteracies framework Addressing a significant gap in the field of multiliteracies by focusing on multilingualism this book explores new digital spaces for language learning and methods of extending understandings of youth literacy in an increasingly interconnected world Drawing on innovative and multi site research projects based in mainstream and community schools in London and overseas this book discusses how young people become engaged creatively and critically with literacy by demonstrating how digital storytelling can be used as a tool for language development The book begins by considering linguistic cultural cognitive and social dimensions of language learning from a theoretical perspective whilst the second part focuses on practical case studies that reflect and illustrate these theoretical principles Offering a powerful new perspective on multiliteracies pedagogy Multilingual Digital Storytelling will appeal to researchers and academics in the fields of education applied linguistics sociology and youth and community studies It will also be an invaluable resource for teachers teacher educators curriculum planners and policymakers

Hope for Justice and Power Kathleen Staudt, 2020-03-15 Texas based affiliates in the Industrial Areas Foundation IAF built on ideas principles and actions from the late Saul Alinsky offer a strong mature organizing model compared with other community organizations in the state and the United States as a whole IAF affiliates members consist of institutions most of them faith based congregations and synagogues Local volunteer leaders in those institutions work together in relationships of trust that draw strength unity and purpose from IAF principles and the social justice precepts of their different faiths In Hope for Justice and Power Kathleen Staudt examines the twenty first century activities of the Texas IAF in multiple cities and towns around the state drawing on forty years of academic teaching and on twenty years of active leadership experiences in the IAF She identifies major contradictions tensions and their resolutions in IAF organizing related to centralism versus local control reformist versus radical goals stable revenue generation greater gender balance in leadership and evolving IAF principles The political context in modern Texas is a challenging one compared to the Texas IAF founding period in the last quarter of the twentieth century yet local IAF volunteer leaders achieve their goals with a strong political base in divergent urban regions around the state With declining religious affiliation in U S society the Texas IAF has begun to recruit members from broad based institutions such as schools and health clinics The hope and winnable goals that sustain IAF organizing show the importance of organized power trained volunteer leaders and relationships with public officials in between elections With cross class alliances IAF affiliates work to foster equitable change toward a more just society To analyze the Texas IAF Staudt draws on participant observation in El Paso statewide meetings and training on interviews and on archival documents and media coverage This book will appeal to those interested in community based organizing and leadership Mexican American and women s politics civic capacity building in education political socialization and both Texas and urban politics Primary School People Jean Mills, Richard W. Mills, 2002-01-04 Beginning to teach in a primary school means establishing a whole new set of relationships with your class of course but also with the other adults who work in the school These include teachers and teaching assistants support staff of various kinds from the visiting educational psychologist to the essential school secretary and parents both as helpers in the school and as the major influences on their children s lives outside school This book is designed to give students and newly qualified teachers a taste of what they can expect and to help them to get the most out of these relationships both for themselves and for their children Throughout it draws upon the experiences of new teachers often in their own words but it also uses the voices of other primary school people to show students the view from the other side Throughout the text is supported by points for discussion questionnaires and check lists to help new teachers to define and analyse their own situation Involving Parents Alastair Macbeth, 1989 Your Child's Strengths Jenifer Fox, 2008-02-28 With this groundbreaking work renowned educator Jenifer Fox argues against the flawed and maddening paradigm that fixing kids weaknesses is the way to achieve success Rather Fox promotes focusing on kids natural inclinations in three interdependent areas Activity Strengths Relationship Strengths and Learning Strengths Pairing inspiring firsthand accounts of success with practical workbook tools alongside an outline of the award winning strengths based Affinities curriculum Fox has implemented in her own school Your Child s Strengths is a user friendly and indispensable guide for parents teachers and administrators alike A Practical Approach to Teaching Reading Dorothy Rubin, 1993 Strengths-Based Family and Community Partnerships in Early Childhood Special Education Research and Practice Chelsea T. Practical Home Economics ,1929 The Sept issue contains the annual Teaching aids section Parents and Schools William W. Cutler,2015-05-01 Who holds ultimate authority for the education of America s children teachers or parents Although the relationship between home and school has changed dramatically over the decades William Cutler s fascinating history argues that it has always been a political one and his book uncovers for the first time how and why the balance of power has shifted over time Starting with parental dominance in the mid nineteenth century Cutler chronicles how schools growing bureaucratization and professionalization allowed educators to gain increasing control over the schooling and lives of the children they taught Central to his story is the role of parent teacher associations which helped transform an adversarial relationship into a collaborative one Yet parents have also been controlled by educators through PTAs leading to the perception that they are company unions Cutler shows how in the 1920s and 1930s schools expanded their responsibility for children s well being outside the classroom These efforts sowed the seeds for later conflict as schools came to be held accountable for solving society s problems Finally he brings the reader into recent decades in which a breakdown of trust racial tension and parents rights have taken the story full circle with parents and schools once again at odds Cutler s book is an invaluable guide to understanding how parent teacher cooperation which is essential for our children s educational success might be achieved Building Parent Capacity in High-Poverty Schools Tiffany C. Anderson,2024-05-13 Discover practical strategies to foster meaningful connections with parents and families Parental engagement today changes the future of education for the students and parents of tomorrow In Building Parent Capacity in High Poverty Schools the educational leader known as the woman who makes schools work for the poor shares insightful strategies and personal stories to guide educators in fostering meaningful connections with parents Leveraging her wealth of experience in education

Dr Anderson underlines the vital role of family engagement and the integration of comprehensive support structures centered around families Underscoring the importance of nurturing parent capacity and cultivating authentic relationships with parents and community stakeholders the book enables learning communities where parents are active participants in their child s educational journey Additional features include Definitions of parent capacity involvement and engagement Learned and Lived stories highlighting school districts successfully supporting families and students In Action sections demonstrating the application of tools and strategies in different contexts A discussion of the significance of school funding and resource management By moving from rhetoric to reality from jargon to clarity and from bake sales to budget considerations this strikingly practical book offers tools methods and ideas that school leaders and educators can use to engage parents build their capacity and ultimately create a future of hope for generations to come California Federation News ,1925
