Learning to be an Anthropologist and Remaining "Native" Beatrice Medicine, 2001 Included in this collection are Medicine's clear eyed views of assimilation bilingual education and the adaptive strategies by which Native Americans have conserved and preserved their ancestral languages

This Is Not a Peace Pipe Dale Turner, 2006-02-06 How can indigenous people best assert their legal and political distinctiveness In This is Not a Peace Pipe Dale Turner explores indigenous intellectual culture and its relationship to and within the dominant Euro American culture He contends that indigenous intellectuals need to engage the legal and political discourses of the state respecting both indigenous philosophies and Western European intellectual traditions According to Turner the intellectual conversation about the meaning of indigenous rights sovereignty and nationhood must begin by recognizing firstly that the discourses of the state have evolved with very little if any participation from indigenous peoples and secondly that there are unique ways of understanding the world embedded in indigenous communities Further amongst indigenous peoples a division of intellectual labour must be invoked between philosophers who possess and practice indigenous forms of knowledge and those who have been educated in the universities and colleges of the Euro American world This latter group Turner argues must assert protect and defend the integrity of indigenous rights sovereignty and nationhood as they are the ones able to speak the language of the dominant culture while being guided by their indigenous philosophies This is Not a Peace Pipe is a work that will be controversial amongst indigenous scholars by upsetting the assumptions many have about how best to fight for recognition of their legal and political distinctiveness It will be debated for years to come

Structure and Agency in the Neoliberal University Joyce E. Canaan, Wesley Shumar, 2008-05-01 This volume considers how current transitions in postsecondary education are impacting Higher Education HE institutions and subjects in a number of Northern nations as well as how these transitions are indicative of the wider shift from the welfare to the market state The university is now considered a key site for training and wealth generation in the so called knowledge economy that operates in a globalising high tech world Further these transitions are underpinned by neo liberal economic ideas that assume that the public sector is a drag on the economy unless it is subject to the rules regulations and assumptions that govern the private sector This excellent volume an important contribution to Education as well as Economics and Politics furthers our understandings of universities as marketable entities as part of the globalized economy

Becoming Mary Sully Philip J. Deloria, 2019-04-24 The moment to savor Mary Sully has arrived New York Times Dakota Sioux artist Mary Sully was the great granddaughter of respected nineteenth century portraitist Thomas Sully who captured the personalities of America's first generation of celebrities including the figure of Andrew Jackson immortalized on the twenty dollar bill Born on the Standing Rock reservation in South Dakota in 1896 she was largely self taught Steeped in the visual traditions of beadwork quilling and hide painting she also engaged with the experiments in time space symbolism and representation characteristic of early twentieth century modernist art And like her great grandfather Sully was fascinated by celebrity over two decades she produced hundreds of colorful and dynamic abstract triptychs a series of personality prints of American public figures like Amelia Earhart Babe Ruth and Gertrude Stein Sully s position on the margins of the art world meant that her work was exhibited only a handful of times during her life In Becoming Mary Sully Philip J Deloria reclaims that work from obscurity exploring her stunning portfolio through the lenses of modernism industrial design Dakota women s aesthetics mental health ethnography and anthropology primitivism and the American Indian politics of the 1930s Working in a complex territory oscillating between representation symbolism and abstraction Sully evoked multiple and simultaneous perspectives of time and space With an intimate yet sweeping style Deloria recovers in Sully s work a move toward an anti colonial aesthetic that claimed a critical role for Indigenous women in American Indian futures within and distinct from American modernity and modernism

Handbook of Education Policy Research 2nd Edition Lora Cohen-Vogel, Approaches to Language and Culture Svenja Völkel, Nico Nassenstein, 2022-08-22 This book provides an overview of approaches to language and culture and it outlines the broad interdisciplinary field of anthropological linguistics and linguistic anthropology It identifies current and future directions of research including language socialization language reclamation speech styles and genres language ideology verbal taboo social indexicality emotion time and many more Furthermore it offers areal perspectives on the study of language in cultural contexts namely Africa the Americas Australia and Oceania Mainland Southeast Asia and Europe and it lays the foundation for future developments within the field In this way the book bridges the disciplines of cultural anthropology and linguistics and paves the way for the new book series Anthropological Linguistics

Transcontinental Dialogues R. Aída Hernández Castillo, Suzi Hutchings, Brian Noble, 2019-04-09 Transcontinental Dialogues brings together Indigenous and non Indigenous anthropologists from Mexico Canada and Australia who work at the intersections of Indigenous rights advocacy and action research These engaged anthropologists explore how obligations manifest in differently situated alliances how they respond to such obligations and the consequences for anthropological practice and action This volume presents a set of pieces that do not take the usual political or geographic paradigms as their starting point instead the particular dialogues from the margins presented in this book arise from a rejection of the geographic hierarchization of knowledge in which the Global South continues to be the space for fieldwork while the Global North is the place for its systematization and theorization Instead contributors in Transcontinental Dialogues delve into the interactions between anthropologists and the people they work with in Canada Australia and Mexico This framework allows the contributors to explore the often unintended but sometimes devastating impacts of government policies such as land rights legislation or justice initiatives for women on Indigenous people s lives Each chapter s author reflects critically on their own work as activist scholars They offer examples of the efforts and challenges that anthropologists Indigenous and non Indigenous confront when producing knowledge in alliances with Indigenous peoples Mi kmaq land rights pan Maya social movements and Aboriginal title claims in rural and urban areas are just some of the cases that provide useful ground for reflection on and critique of challenges and opportunities for scholars policy makers activists allies and community members This volume is timely and innovative for using the disparate anthropological traditions of three regions to explore how the interactions between anthropologists and Indigenous peoples in supporting Indigenous activism have the potential to transform the production of knowledge within the historical colonial traditions of anthropology

Language Policies in Education James W. Tollefson, 2013 This new edition of takes a fresh look at enduring questions at the heart of fundamental debates about the role of schools in society the links between education and employment and conflicts between linguistic minorities and mainstream populations

Indigenous Studies and Engaged Anthropology Paul Sillitoe, 2016-05-23 Advancing the rising field of engaged or participatory anthropology that is emerging at the same time as increased opposition from Indigenous peoples to research this book offers critical reflections on research approaches to date The engaged approach seeks to change the researcher researched relationship fundamentally to make methods more appropriate and beneficial to communities by involving them as participants in the entire process from choice of research topic onwards The aim is not only to change power relationships but also engage with non academic audiences The advancement of such an egalitarian and inclusive approach to research can provoke strong opposition Some argue that it threatens academic rigour and worry about the undermining of disciplinary authority Others point to the difficulties of establishing an appropriately non ethnocentric moral stance and navigating the complex problems communities face Drawing on the experiences of Indigenous scholars anthropologists and development professionals acquainted with a range of cultures this book furthers our understanding of pressing issues such as interpretation transmission and ownership of Indigenous knowledge and appropriate ways to represent and communicate it All the contributors recognise the plurality of knowledge and incorporate perspectives that derive at least in part from other ways of being in the world

Imaginatio Creatrix Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2005-12-11 The fulgurating power of creative imagination Imaginatio Creatrix setting in motion the Human Condition within the unity of everything there is alive is the key to the rebirth of philosophy From as early as 1971 see the third volume of the Analecta Husserliana series The Phenomenological Realism of the Possible Worlds Anna Teresa Tymieniecka ed Imaginatio Creatrix has been the leitmotif for the research work of the World Phenomenology Institute now published in eighty three Analecta Husserliana volumes one that is eliciting echoes from all around Husserl's diagnosis of a crisis in Western science and culture the inspiration of much of postmodern phenomenology has yielded place to a wave of scientific discovery technological invention and change in societal life individual lifestyles the arts etc These throw a glaring light on human creative genius and the crucial role of the imagination that gives it expression This present collection is an instance of that expression and the response it evokes It manifests the role of imagination in forming and interpreting our world in transformation in a new way and opens our eyes to marvel at the new world on the way Papers by Semiha Akinci

Language Revitalization in the Americas Serafín M. Coronel-Molina, Teresa L. McCarty, 2016-04-28 Focusing on the Americas home to 40 to 50 million Indigenous people this book explores the history and current state of Indigenous language revitalization across this vast region Complementary chapters on the USA and Canada and Latin America and the Caribbean offer a panoramic view while tracing nuanced trajectories of top down official and bottom up grass roots language planning and policy initiatives Authored by leading Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars the book is organized around seven overarching themes Policy and Politics Processes of Language Shift and Revitalization The Home School Community Interface Local and Global Perspectives Linguistic Human Rights Revitalization Programs and Impacts New Domains for Indigenous Languages Providing a comprehensive hemisphere wide scholarly and practical source this singular collection simultaneously fills a gap in the language revitalization literature and contributes to Indigenous language revitalization efforts Rescuing the Gospel from the Cowboys Richard Twiss, 2015-06-09 The gospel of Jesus has not always been good news for Native Americans But despite the far reaching effects of colonialism some Natives have forged culturally authentic ways to follow Jesus In his final work Richard Twiss surveys the complicated history of Christian missions among Indigenous peoples and voices a hopeful vision of contextual Native Christian faith Science Fiction and the Historical Novel Ian P. MacDonald, Kate Polak, 2024-09-16 If you woke to realize that you could rewrite your yesterday without knowing the kind of tomorrow it would grant you would you do it Are the authors of our destiny working with an outline or spit balling confusing plotlines Since the past changes possible futures to what alighting butterfly should we pay the most heed This book explores the liminal space between speculative fiction and the historical novel Staged as a transnational multicultural conversation it takes up a call originally made by Fredric Jameson in Archaeologies of the Future wherein he describes that flashpoint between speculative and historical genres as the symptom of a mutation in our relationship to historical time itself Drawing together postcolonial feminist cultural Indigenous and cognitive approaches Science Fiction and the Historical Novel asks what the past can offer a future oriented world and how the future can be imagined in relation to a past that seeks narratives of inevitability rather than possibility Engaged with the idea of the past as a model for the future authors in this volume probe the extent to which historical scripts delimit possibilities and how authors engaged with the practice of alternative pasts rewrite potentialities in the present Correcting the Record Herbert S. Lewis, 2024-12-01 The critique of twentieth century American anthropology often portrays anthropologists of the past as servants of colonialism who extracted information from indigenous peoples and published works causing them harm Herbert S Lewis recovers the reality of the first century of American anthropology as a vital scholarly discipline that rejected established ideas of race insisted on the value of very different ways of life and delivered irreplaceable ethnographic studies This volume presents powerful refutations of the accumulated damaging myths about anthropology s history

Indigenous Tourism Movements Alexis Celeste Bunten, Nelson H.H. Graburn, 2018-02-05 Cultural tourism is frequently marketed as an economic panacea for communities whose traditional ways of life have been compromised by the dominant societies by which they have been colonized Indigenous communities in particular are responding to these opportunities in innovative ways that set them apart from their non Indigenous predecessors and competitors Indigenous Tourism Movements explores Indigenous identity using movement as a metaphor drawing on case studies from throughout the world including Botswana Canada Chile Panama Tanzania and the United States Editors Alexis C Bunten and Nelson Graburn along with a diverse group of contributors frame tourism as a critical lens to explore the shifting identity politics of Indigeneity in relation to heritage global policy and development They juxtapose diverse expressions of identity from the commodification of Indigenous culture to the performance of heritage for tourists to illuminate the complex local national and transnational connections these expressions produce Indigenous Tourism Movements is a sophisticated sensitive and refreshingly frank examination of Indigeneity in the contemporary world

The Devil's Fruit Dvera I. Saxton, 2021-02-12 The Devil s Fruit uses anthropology s tool kit to examine farmworkers embodiment of toxic pesticides and social and workplace relationships in California s agricultural industry Rather than stopping at description and critique Saxton explores how activist ethnographic methods and ethics align conflict and support ongoing struggles for farmworker health and environmental justice

Paul Ricoeur Farhang Erfani, 2011-01-01 This collection of essays is dedicated to the prolific career of Paul Ricoeur Honoring his work this anthology addresses questions and concerns that defined Ricoeur s

Identities and Place Katherine Crawford-Lackey, Megan E. Springate, 2019-11-01 With a focus on historic sites this volume explores the recent history of non heteronormative Americans from the early twentieth century onward and the places associated with these communities Authors explore how queer identities are connected with specific places places where people gather socialize protest mourn and celebrate The focus is deeper look at how sexually variant and gender non conforming Americans constructed identity created communities and fought to have rights recognized by the government Each chapter is accompanied by prompts and activities that invite readers to think critically and immerse themselves in the subject matter while working collaboratively with others

Indigenous Activism Donna L. Akers, Cliff Trafzer, Amanda Wixon, 2021-07-07 Indigenous Activism profiles eighteen American Indian women of the twentieth century who distinguished themselves through their political activism Authors analyze the colorful careers of selected Indigenous women of North America during the last century including Ramona Bennet Mary Crow Dog Ada Deer LaDonna Harris Wilma Mankiller Alyce Spotted Bear Irene Toledo Marie Potts Gertrude Simmons Bonnin Harriette Shelton Dover Lucy Covington Dolly Smith Cusker Akers Leslie Marmon Silko Bea Medicine and Elizabeth Cook Lynn Living Through the Generations Joanne McCloskey, 2022-10-18 Navajo women's lives reflect the numerous historical changes that have transformed the Navajo way. At the same time in their behavior, beliefs, and values, women preserve the legacy of Navajo culture passed down through the generations. By comparing and contrasting three generations of Navajo women—grandmothers, mid-life mothers, and young mothers—similarities and differences emerge in patterns of education, work, family life, and childbearing. Women's roles as mothers and grandmothers are central to their respected position in Navajo society. Mothers bestow membership in matrilineal clans at birth and follow the example of the beloved deity Changing Woman. As guardians of cultural traditions, grandmothers actively plan and participate in ceremonies such as the Kinaald, the puberty ceremony for their granddaughters. Drawing on ethnographic interviews with 77 women in Crownpoint, New Mexico, and surrounding chapters in the Eastern Navajo Agency, Joanne McCloskey examines the cultural traditions evident in Navajo women's lives. Navajo women balance the demands of Western society with the desire to preserve Navajo culture for themselves and their families.
