Learning Through Liturgy:

Learning Through Liturgy Gwen Kennedy Neville, John H. Westerhoff, 1978-01-01 Learning Through Liturgy Gwen K. Neville, John H. Westerhoff, III, 1986-04 Learning in the Way Jeff Astley, 2000 Adult Christian learning is central to the life of the Christian church and is essential for its health outreach and very survival Leading Christian educators here apply the principles of Christian education to adult learning in the churches and present the results and methods of empirical research relevant to the church's ministry of adult Christian education This book will be of interest to all who are concerned for the ways in which adults learn to be Christian The editor Jeff Astley is Director of the North of England Institute for Christian Education and Honorary Professorial Fellow in Practical Theology and Christian Education in the University of Durham Liturgy and Learning Through the Life Cycle John H. Westerhoff, III, William H. Willimon, 1985 An examination of the role of liturgy from the Episcopalian and the Methodist point of view Christian Education Teaching Methods - From Modern to Postmodern Carlos C. Roberts, 2009-11 This book provides pastors professional teachers students of religious education or Christian education theological students and Sunday school teachers with methods of teaching the faith today and opportunities to reflect critically on the methods and approaches they use in the classroom in the changed cultural context of our postmodern world The book is the result of years of practical experience in the field of Christian education as a Director of Religious Education and head of a team involved in providing religious education training and producing teaching materials and textbooks for Sunday school and professional teachers of Christian education This book proposes the Herald model of church and model of Christian education as a very helpful model for postmodern culture Learning in a Musical Key Lisa M. Hess, 2011-09-15 Learning in a Musical Key examines the multidimensional problem of the relationship between music and theological education Lisa Hess argues that in a delightful and baffling way musical learning has the potential to significantly alter and inform our conception of the nature and process of theological learning In exploring this exciting intersection of musical learning and theological training Hess asks two probing questions First What does learning from music in a performative mode require Classical modes of theological education often founder on a dichotomy between theologically musical and educational discourses It is extremely difficult for many to see how the perceived nonmusical learn from music Is musicality a universally human potential In exploring this question Hess turns to the music learning theory of Edwin Gordon which explores music's unique mode of teaching learning its primarily aural oral mode This challenge leads to the study's second question How does a theologian in the disciplinary sense integrate a performative mode into critical discourse Tracking the critical movements of this problem Hess provides an inherited transformational logic as a feasible path for integrating a performative mode into multidimensional learning This approach emerges as a distinctly relational embodied multidimensional and non correlational performative mode theology that breaks new ground in the contemporary theological landscape As an implicitly trinitarian method rooted in the relationality of God this non

correlational method offers a practical theological contribution to the discipline of Christian spirituality newly claimed here as a discipline of transformative teaching learning through the highly contextualized and self implicated scholar into relationally formed communities and ultimately into the world Re-embodying Pastoral Theology Johann Choi, 2024-05-29

With the dominance of psychotherapeutic theories and methods in the field of pastoral theology the typical pastoral encounter has been understood to be a private conference in which a pastor addresses a sufferer s thoughts and emotions What results is a kind of dualism that is contrary to a historically Christian affirmation of and concern for the body The phenomenon of moral injury further problematizes this model of pastoral care in part due to a greater awareness that trauma is imprinted as much in the body as in the mind Re embodying Pastoral Theology uses the problem of moral injury in veterans to propose a pastoral theology that recognizes ritual as the means by which the Christian community addresses the body in pastoral care In advancing this new approach to ritual care the author draws from the fields of psychology ritual studies liturgical studies and historical theology as well as the experiences of veterans throughout history This book endeavors to re think the Christian approach to moral injury and re embody the field of pastoral theology Sharing Faith Thomas Groome, 1998-11-23 Provides a comprehensive introduction to all aspects of religious education and pastoral ministry and gives an in depth inquiry into the philosophical educational and theological theories for sharing faith The Living Church, 1978-07 And We Shall Learn through the Dance Kathleen S. Turner, 2021-07-28 Liturgical dance is a way to present reflect instruct learn study and share religious beliefs with one s self within one s worship community and with one s God Such a belief is confirmed and witnessed within a variety of religious settings throughout the world from the beginning of time to this present age However there is a vacuum of resources that connect liturgical dance within the Christian context as a tool for religious learning within the field of religious education With the continual rise of liturgical dance as an artistic form of expression this book proposes that liturgical dance offers unique attributes conducive to the teaching and learning of faith and to faith formation Kathleen S Turner shows how liturgical dance is religious education in two very important ways first by addressing the power and potential liturgical dance has in nourishing the faith life of Christian congregants through means that are both educative and reflective and second by giving examples of how liturgical dance can be implemented as a religious education tool within the teaching life of the church Deacons and the Church Owen F. Cummings, 2004 Deacons and the Church presents a popular narrative history of the Order of the Diaconate in the Catholic Church from its dawn on the biblical scene in the Acts of the Apostles with Saints Stephen and Philip through the golden age of deacons in the fifth century With the emergence of the cultic priesthood the diaconate as a unique and discrete member of the clergy declined into a transitional role but never disappeared Indeed Dr Cummings points out that the most popular saint after Mary Francis of Assisi was a deacon as were Saints Lawrence and Ephrem all of whom are offered here as models of Deacons for Deacons The Second Vatican Council restored the Order of Deacon to a full and permanent membership in the clergy along with priests and bishops Now thirty thousand deacons serve the Church throughout the world and remain the fastest growing clerical rank within the Latin Church Deacon Cummings reflects on how this surge in the membership of the Order of Deacons will affect the Church in the years to come BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved

Teaching That Transforms Debra Dean Murphy, 2007-01-01 Teaching That Transforms challenges the assumption that worship and education should be separated Instead argues Debra Dean Murphy worship the center of the church's life is distinctly tied in Christian education and formation It is in corporate worship that the lives of Christians are most acutely formed and shaped writes Murphy All efforts at forming and discipling Christians should presume the centrality of worship Murphy critiques the predominant modern liberal models of education and lays out a theological account of education that is centered on praise She then explains how this alternative approach would change and renew Christian education

Public Worship and Public Work Christian Batalden Scharen, 2004 Description In a time of increasing cultural pluralism and vast religious restructuring in the United States Christian social ethics must take account of how values and commitments shape Christian communities In Public Worship and Public Work Christian Scharen examines theological claims about the relationship of worship and ethics by means of ethnographic study of the life worship and work of three vibrant congregations Public Worship and Public Work moves beyond two caricatures of the relationship between worship and social ethics Rather than resolute portrayals of the Church as a reflection of its culture and context and causal accounts of the Church's liturgy forming a Christian witness over and against culture this book lifts up congregational identity as an area of dynamic interaction between worship social ethics and culture Chapters in Part One are Liturgy and Social Ethics Characterizing a Debate and Sociologizing the Debate Identity Ritual and Public Commitment Chapters in Part Two Three Case Studies in Atlanta's Old Downtown are People Living Church The Catholic Shrine of the Immaculate Conception Jesus Saves Big Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church and The Church at Work Central Presbyterian Church Part Three concludes with The World in the Church in the World
