In Workplace Learning John Bratton, Jean C. Helms Mills, Peter Sawchuk, 2003-12-01 Published Under the Garamond Imprint This innovative book is concerned with the power relations complexities and contradictions in the paid workplace Workplace learning is not value free or politically neutral and cannot be studied independently of the political economy of work Workplace Learning is part of a growing body of work that offers an alternative to mainstream approaches to workplace learning recognizing that power relations politics and conflicts of interest all shape learning The authors emphasize the lived experiences of working people avoiding prescriptive accounts and uncritical Human Resource Development views

Current Issues and New Agendas in Workplace Learning National Centre for Vocational Education Research (Australia), 1998 This book focusses on what we know and how we think about workplace learning It is about understanding the complex and multifaceted field of learning at work and in settings related to employment It attempts to bring together what is currently known about research on workplace learning in ways which are helpful to researchers practitioners and policy makers In particular it focuses on the needed research agenda in this area The book seeks to capture the rich and varied work which has been undertaken on the increasingly important phenomenon of workplace learning and to describe it in ways which make it accessible It aims to generate discussion about directions for development of workplace learning and research associated with it

Workplace Gazette, 2002 Learning Unlimited Dawna Markova, Anne R. Powell, 1998-01-01 From the authors of How Your Child is Smart a guide to creating a natural learning environment for a child at home Natural learning starts at home Anyone who spends time with young children recognizes their natural intelligence and resilient passion to learn But as they try to meet the pressures and expectations of school natural learning diminishes Does it have to be that way According to teachers Dawna Markova and Anne R Powell absolutely not Whether a parent or educator Learning Unlimited helps transform the homework hassle from a nightly struggle to an engaged learning initiative that uncovers the unique gifts of your child s mind Learning from your child s natural motivation Filled with practical advice and compassionate support this book is designed to honor your child s innate intelligence with family engaged learning strategies In Learning Unlimited veteran teachers unveil how learning from homework can also function as a joint inquiry into your child's special gifts. Designed for optimal parental involvement in education, this guide helps parents give children a competitive advantage by cultivating a life-long love of learning. Praise for Learning Unlimited. Markova and Powell are proponents of the teaching movement that uses visual, audio, and kinesthetic presentations to educate. Proposing that each child has his or her own personal operating system (POS) to receive, integrate, and express learning, the authors suggest ways by which related classroom tactics can be applied to homework. This primer is brimming with fun, unusual, and practical ideas likely to benefit parents, students, and educators. Publishers Weekly

Transkulturelle Perspektiven auf Kulturen des Lernens Steffi Robak, Ming-Lieh Wu, Wiltrud Gieseke, 2015-07-15. Partizipation an Bildung und Lernen Erwachsener wird zunehmend zu einer zentralen Kulturaufgabe. Dabei unterscheiden sich Lernorganisation, Lernformen, Lernstile und Inhalte von schulischen Formen. Dieser Band widmet sich den Gestaltungsmöglichkeiten und Anforderungen im Fokus von Lernkulturen aus nationaler und internationaler Perspektive. Die leitende Frage dabei ist: In welcher Vielfalt entwickeln sich Lernkulturen, wie können sie analysiert werden, und wo liegen die Gestaltungsanforderungen? Die Beiträge greifen die leitenden Theoriezugänge des Diskurses auf und ermöglichen so einen transkulturellen Blick auf Lernkulturen. Theoretisch und empirisch wird gezeigt, wie sich Kulturen des Lernens institutionell differenziert entfalten. Eine kulturvergleichende Perspektive eröffnet einen globalen Blick auf Differenzen und verbindende Sentenzen. SAM Advanced Management Journal, 2002

Transforming Museums in the Twenty-first Century Graham Black, 2012-03-12. In his book, Graham Black argues that museums must transform themselves if they are to remain relevant to 21st-century audiences, and this root and branch change would be necessary whether or not museums faced a funding crisis. It is the result of the impact of new technologies and the rapid societal developments that we are all a part of, and applies not just to museums but to all arts bodies and to other agents of mass communication. Through comment, practical examples, and truly inspirational case studies, this book allows the reader to build a picture of the transformed 21st-century museum in practice. Such a museum is focused on developing its audiences as regular users. It is committed to participation and collaboration. It brings together on-site, online, and mobile provision, and through social media builds meaningful relationships with its users. It is not restricted by its walls or opening hours but reaches outwards in partnership with its communities and with other agencies, including schools. It is a haven for families learning together. And at its heart lies prolonged user engagement with collections and the conversations and dialogues that these inspire. The book is filled to the brim with practical examples. It features an introduction that focuses on the challenges that face museums in the 21st century, an analysis of population trends and their likely impact on museums, boxes showing ideas, models, and planning suggestions to guide development, examples and case studies illustrating practice in both large and small museums, an up-to-date bibliography of landmark research, including numerous websites. Sitting alongside Graham Black's previous book, The Engaging Museum, we now have a clear vision of a museum of the future that engages, stimulates, and inspires the public. It serves and plays an active role in promoting tolerance and understanding within and between communities
