Leban In Love:

From Lebanon With Love Teejay LeCapois, 2014-04-30 Mariam Justine Beyhum has always lamented the Christian Muslim conflict which drove her Maronite Catholic parents Joseph and Mona Beyhum to leave their home of Baalbek Lebanon In Ottawa Ontario the family slowly built itself a new life All is well until Mariam s mom falls for seductive Yemeni newcomer Suleiman converts to Islam and divorces her father Distraught Beyhum clan patriarch Joseph moves to Houston Texas Mariam follows suit and reconnects with her Dad While in the Lone Star State Mariam meets Rashid Montague a charming Haitian American law student devout Christian and single father not unfamiliar with loss and betrayal The two of them forge a bond which turns into mutual attraction The question is is Mariam ready to let herself love again Come with Me from Lebanon Arnold H. Sturtevant, 2011-08-19 Come With Me From Lebanon sheds exciting new light on the Song of Solomon What has until now been considered but a beautiful portrayal of God s Love may also prove to be a sleeping giant of end time prophecy This book is certain to stimulate a reappraisal of the Song Harold Duff Bible Teacher Christian Education Conference Speaker President Christian Ministries Inc Sturtevant s allegorical representation may well be right I remember in seminary hearing this general point of view but not with the precision and carefulness of the author s manuscript Kenneth N Taylor Author The Living Bible Paraphrase Chairman of the Board Tyndale House Publishers Women in Lebanon M. Thomas, 2012-12-28 Combining insider and outsider perspectives Women in Lebanon looks at Christian and Muslim women living together in a multicultural society and facing modernity While the Arab Spring has begun to draw attention to issues of change modernity and women s subjectivity this manuscript takes a unique approach to examining and describing the Lebanese alternative modernities thesis and how it has shaped thinking about the meaning of terms like evolution progress development history and politics in contemporary Arab thought The author draws on extensive ethnographic research as well as her own personal experience An Ordered Love Louis J. Kern, 2014-07-01 An Ordered Love is the first detailed study of sex roles in the utopian communities that proposed alternatives to monogamous marriage The Shakers 1779 1890 the Mormons 1843 90 and the Oneida Community 1848 79 The lives of men and women changed substantially when they joined one of the utopian communities Louis J Kern challenges the commonly held belief that Mormon polygamy was uniformly downgrading to women and that Oneida pantagamy and Shaker celibacy were liberating for them Rather Kern asserts that changes in sexual behavior and roles for women occurred in ideological environments that assumed women were inferior and needed male guidance An elemental distrust of women denied the Victorian belief in their moral superiority attacked the sanctity of the maternal role and institutionalized the dominance of men over women These utopias accepted the revolutionary idea that the pleasure bond was the essence of marriage They provided their members with a highly developed theological and ideological position that helped them cope with the ambiguities and anxieties they felt during a difficult transitional stage in social mores Analysis of the theological doctrines of these communities indicates how pervasive sexual questions were in the minds of the utopians and how closely they were related to both reform social perfection and salvation individual perfection These communities saw sex as the point at which the demands of individual selfishness and the social requirements of self sacrifice were in most open conflict They did not offer their members sexual license but rather they established ideals of sexual orderliness and moral stability and sought to provide a refuge from the rampant sexual anxieties of Victorian culture Kern examines the critical importance of considerations of sexuality and sexual behavior in these communities recognizing their value as indications of larger social and cultural tensions Using the insights of history psychology and sociology he investigates the relationships between the individual and society ideology and behavior and thought and action as expressed in the sexual life of these three communities Previously unused manuscript sources on the Oneida Community and Shaker journals and daybooks reveal interesting and sometimes startling information on sexual behavior and attitudes

Popular Culture and Nationalism in Lebanon Christopher Stone, 2007-09-12 Based on an award winning thesis this volume is a pioneering study of musical theatre and popular culture and its relation to the production of identity in Lebanon in the second half of the twentieth century In the aftermath of the departure of the French from Lebanon and the civil violence of 1958 the Rahbani brothers Asi and Mansour staged a series of folkloric musical theatrical extravaganzas at the annual Ba labakk festival which highlighted the talents of Asi s wife the Lebanese diva Fairouz arguably the most famous living Arab singer The inclusion of these folkloric vignettes into the festival s otherwise European dominated cultural agenda created a powerful nation building combination of what Partha Chatterjee calls the appropriation of the popular and the classicization of tradition The Rahbani project coincides with the confluence of increasing internal and external migration in Lebanon as well as with the rapid development of mass media technology of which the Ba labakk festival can be seen as an extension Employing theories of nationalism modernity globalism and locality this book shows that these factors combined to give the project a potent identity forming power Popular Culture and Nationalism in Lebanon is the first study of Fairouz and the Rahbani family in English and will appeal to students and researchers in the field of Middle East studies Popular culture and musical theatre

Autobiography by Elder Giles B. Avery, of Mount Lebanon, N.Y. Giles Bushnell Avery, 1891

Lebanon / Liban Nadia Tuéni, 2006-04-25 This bilingual anthology edited by Christophe Ippolito contains Samuel Hazo s complete translation of Lebanon Twenty Poems for One Love and Paul B Kelley s selections from the never before translated Sentimental Archives of a War in Lebanon The Francophone poet Nadia Tueni has devoted readers in Lebanon and elsewhere in the Middle East and has quickly achieved poetic distinction in France The fluency of her poetic language and motifs reflecting Tueni s love of her people and country is illuminated in Ippolito s introduction She chose to create a new poetic language that captured the fragile essence of her troubled country and exposed the many crises of identities present in the war By identifying with her country she placed herself beyond all parties and created a sacred river that irrigates her poems Drawn from two collections that were published during the civil war in Lebanon in 1979 and 1982

these poems are haunted by the Lebanese war some transcend famous Lebanese locales as the symbolic incarnations of the land's eternal essence others illuminated at first by nostalgic memories take on a prophetic tone Tueni's work merges the poetic with the political landscape of her country She writes I belong to a country that commits suicide every day while it is being assassinated The languages of Rimbaud Lautréamont and surrealist poetry have had a decisive influence on Tueni's poetry But she also owes a great debt on the Arabic side to the avant garde poets for example the celebrated Adonis Like many Lebanese writers Tueni was active in political circles particularly after the war in 1967 Her poems tell of suffering memories of an abandoned garden slip away of her own life slipping away and in the end the reader is invited to reflect on the mimesis of identity identity of a country identity of a woman each echoing the other Restoring Lebanon Nizar Y. Younes, 2018-03-23 Lebanon is a Middle Eastern country that has been inhabited for more than six thousand years and today it has a population of four million with over eighteen different religious sects many of which are Muslim or Christian The country however is in an incessant struggle to institutionalize democracy in its most humane form whereby everyone is included and democracy is neither the rule of the majority nor a political lobbying arena Yet how can the people of Lebanon realize their vision of democracy in the face of religious sectarianism and the political system of confessionalism In Restoring Lebanon author economist and political theorist Nizar Y. Younes explores the problems inherent to the confessional system of government a form of government where every religious community secures some portion of the state and argues instead how this partitioning of government practically results in the disintegration of the state and eradicates any notion of citizenship In addition to digging further into the root of the barriers to institutionalism and development in Lebanon Restoring Lebanon offers a roadmap for reform at the political economic and cultural levels a reform geared toward creating a Lebanon that meets the aspirations of the Lebanese people Lebanon needs a fair clear social contract one that frees the Lebanese from the prison of sectarian confessionalism A contract by the Lebanese and for the Lebanese can create the country we deserve one that represents Lebanon's spirit culture and freedom Love Across Difference Lara Deeb, 2024-10-08 Lebanon may be the most complicated place in the world to be a mixed couple It has no civil marriage law fifteen personal status laws and a political system built on sectarianism Still Lebanon has the most interreligious marriages per capita in the Middle East What constitutes a mixed marriage is in flux as social norms shift and reactions to mixed marriage reveal underlying social categories of discrimination Through stories of Lebanese couples Love Across Difference challenges readers to rethink categories of difference and imagine possibilities for social change Drawing on two decades of interviews and research Lara Deeb shows how mixed couples in Lebanon confront patriarchy social difference and sectarianism In the drama that ensues as women and young men make their own marital choices they push gender boundaries and reveal the ultimately empty nature of sect as a category of social difference Love won't end sectarianism but it can contribute to reducing sect's social power Through the example of Lebanon we can learn about our own social worlds about the assumptions we make around social difference and about how people react when forced to change their ideas of who can be made kin through marriage

Daniel Bullen, 2013-02-12 As the oldest of institutions marriage seems outdated in modern times when each individual is encouraged to break with tradition in order to fulfill him or herself And so artists like Diego Rivera and Frida Kahlo seem to be paving the way toward a brave new kind of marriage where spouses would be allowed even encouraged to fulfill different aspects of themselves in outside relationships Shared creativity they believed would transcend their jealousies and compensate their sufferings through art they would rise above conventional marital fidelity and prove a higher fidelity to art and to themselves The Love Lives of the Artists tells the stories of Rainer Maria Rilke and Lou Andreas Salom Alfred Stieglitz and Georgia O Keeffe Jean Paul Sartre and Simone de Beauvoir Diego and Frida and Henry Miller and Ana s Nin five couples who approached their relationships with the same rebellious creativity as they practiced in their art From their early artistic development and their first experiences in love to their artistic marriages and their affairs and then to their fights and reconciliations addictions nervous breakdowns and continued creativity The Love Lives of the Artists describes the promise and the price of freedom and creativity in love

Salafism in Lebanon Robert Rabil,2014-10-24 Salafism comprised of fundamentalist Islamic movements whose adherents consider themselves the only saved sect of Islam has been little studied remains shrouded in misconceptions and has provoked new interest as Salafists have recently staked a claim to power in some Arab states while spearheading battles against infidel Arab regimes during recent rebellions in the Arab world Robert G Rabil examines the emergence and development of Salafism into a prominent religious movement in Lebanon including the ideological and sociopolitical foundation that led to the three different schools of Salafism in Lebanon quietist Salafists Haraki active Salafists and Salafi Jihadists Emphasizing their manhaj methodology toward politics the author surveys Salafists ideological transformation from opponents to supporters of political engagement Their antagonism to Hezbollah which they denounce as the party of Satan has risen exponentially following the party s seizure of Beirut in 2008 and support of the tyrannical Syrian regime Salafism in Lebanon also demonstrates how activists and jihadi Salafists in response to the political weakness of Sunni leadership have threatened regional and international security by endorsing violence and jihad Drawing on field research trips personal interviews and Arabic primary sources the book explores the relationship between the ideologies of the various schools of Salafism and their praxis in relation to Lebanese politics The book should interest students and scholars of Islamic movements international affairs politics and religion and radical groups and terrorism
