fellow sufferers Philip possessed some private means and was thus able to give his son a good education Matthew went first to a school at Islington at that time a village just outside London and then to Gray s Inn in the heart of the capital He soon gave up his legal studies for theology and in 1687 became minister of a Presbyterian congregation at Chester While in Chester Henry founded the Presbyterian Chapel in Trinity Street He moved again in 1712 to Mare Street Hackney Two years later 22 June 1714 he died suddenly of apoplexy at the Queen s Aid House 41 High Street in Nantwich while on a journey from Chester to London Matthew Henry s well known six volume Exposition of the Old and New Testaments 1708 10 or Complete Commentary provides an exhaustive verse by verse study of the Bible covering the whole of the Old Testament and the Gospels and Acts in the New Testament After the author s death the work was finished Romans through Revelation by thirteen other nonconformist ministers partly based upon notes taken by Henry s hearers and edited by George Burder and John Hughes in 1811 Henry s commentaries are primarily exegetical dealing with the scripture text as presented with his prime intention being explanation for practical and devotional purposes While not being a work of textual research for which Henry recommended Matthew Poole s Synopsis Criticorum Henry s Exposition gives the result of a critical account of the original as of his time with practical application It was considered sensible and stylish a commentary for devotional purposes Famous evangelical Protestant preachers such as George Whitefield and Charles Spurgeon used and heartily commended the work with Whitefield reading it through four times the last time on his knees Spurgeon stated Every minister ought to read it entirely and carefully through once at least John Wesley wrote of Henry He is allowed by all competent judges to have been a person of strong understanding of various learning of solid piety and much experience in the ways of God And his exposition is generally clear and intelligible the thoughts being expressed in plain words It is also found agreeable to the tenor of scripture and to the analogy of faith It is frequently full giving a sufficient explication of the passages which require explaining It is in many parts deep penetrating farther into the inspired writings than most other comments do It does not entertain us with vain speculations but is practical throughout and usually spiritual too teaching us how to worship God not in form only but in spirit and in truth
