Josef Albers Glass Color And Light:

Josef Albers Glass, Color, and Light Josef Albers, 1994 Josef Albers 1888 1976 famous as a master at Germany's Bauhaus until 1933 and then a professor in American schools such as Yale University influenced many young artists His Homage to the Square series of paintings remains an important example of 20th century art Yet Albers's first great works the glass pictures that he made in Germany beginning in 1921 remain little known Starting with found fragments of colored glass and later employing a sophisticated sandblasting process Albers created a new art form Josef Albers, 1994 Josef Albers - Glass, Color, and Light, 1994 Albers and Moholy-Nagy Achim Borchardt-Hume, 2006-01-01 Catalog of an exhibition held at the Tate Modern London Mar 9 June 4 2006 the Kunsthalle Bielefeld June 25 Oct 1 2006 and the Whitney Museum of American Art New York Nov 2 2006 Jan 21 2007 Objects in Exile Robin Schuldenfrei, 2024-01-23 An innovative new history of how the migration of designers in the 20th century shaped modernist art and architecture The Pan Am Building and the Shattering of the Modernist Dream Meredith L. Clausen, 2005 How a building and the reaction to it signaled the end of an era the transformation of architectural practice in the context of New York City culture and politics The Experimenters Eva Díaz, 2014-12-25 In the years immediately following World War II Black Mountain College an unaccredited school in rural Appalachia became a vital hub of cultural innovation Practically every major artistic figure of the mid twentieth century spent some time there Merce Cunningham Ray Johnson Franz Kline Willem and Elaine de Kooning Robert Motherwell Robert Rauschenberg Dorothea Rockburne Aaron Siskind Cy Twombly the list goes on and on Yet scholars have tended to view these artists time at the College as little more than prologue a step on their way to greatness With The Experimenters Eva Díaz reveals the importance of Black Mountain College and especially of three key teachers Josef Albers John Cage and R Buckminster Fuller to be much greater than that Díaz's focus is on experimentation Albers Cage and Fuller she shows taught new models of art making that favored testing procedures rather than personal expression These methodologies represented incipient directions for postwar art practice elements of which would be sampled and often wholly adopted by Black Mountain students and subsequent practitioners The resulting works which interrelate art and life in a way that imbues these projects with crucial relevance not only reconfigured the relationships among chance order and design they helped redefine what artistic practice was and could be for future generations Offering a bold compelling new angle on some of the most widely studied creative figures of modern times The Experimenters does nothing less than rewrite the story of art in the mid twentieth century Stained Glass, 1995 Chromatic Modernity Sarah Street, Joshua Yumibe, 2019-04-02 The era of silent film long seen as black and white has been revealed in recent scholarship as bursting with color Yet the 1920s remain thought of as a transitional decade between early cinema and the rise of Technicolor despite the fact that new color technologies used in film advertising fashion and industry reshaped cinema and consumer culture In Chromatic Modernity Sarah Street and Joshua Yumibe provide a revelatory history of how the use of color in film during the 1920s played a key role in creating a chromatically vibrant culture Focusing on the final decade of silent film Street and Yumibe portray the 1920s as a pivotal and profoundly chromatic period of cosmopolitan exchange collaboration and experimentation in and around cinema Chromatic Modernity explores contemporary debates over color s artistic scientific philosophical and educational significance It examines a wide range of European and American films including Opus 1 1921 L Inhumaine 1923 Die Nibelungen 1924 The Phantom of the Opera 1925 The Lodger 1927 Napol on 1927 and Dracula 1932 A comprehensive comparative study that situates film among developments in art color science and industry Chromatic Modernity reveals the role of color cinema in forging new ways of looking at and experiencing the modern world

Architectural Science and the Sun Dason Whitsett, Matt Fajkus, 2018-04-17 Architectural Science and the Sun synthesizes physics climate program and perception to provide a foundation in the principles of architectural science related to the sun solar geometry solar analysis and design techniques passive design principles and daylighting Part analytical handbook part inspiration source for schematic design the content comprises a critical component of effective sustainable design Beyond the purely technical aspects of these topics Architectural Science and the Sun begins with the premise that great architecture goes beyond energy performance and the visual aesthetic to engage all of the senses Given that the stimuli to which our senses respond are physical phenomena such as light heat and sound the designer must manipulate these parameters through the craft of building form and technology to create the desired qualitative experience This book is designed to help the reader develop that skill

Bauhaus 1919-1933 Barry Bergdoll, Leah Dickerman, 2009 The Bauhaus the school of art and design founded in Germany in 1919 and shut down by the Nazis in 1933 brought together artists architects and designers in an extraordinary conversation about modern art Bauhaus 1919 1933 published to accompany a major multimedia exhibition at MoMA is the first comprehensive treatment of the subject by MoMA since 1938 and offers a new generational perspective on the 20th century s most influential experiment in artistic education It brings together works in a broad range of mediums including industrial design furniture architecture graphics photography textiles ceramics theatre and costume design and painting and sculpture many of which have rarely if ever been seen outside of Germany Featuring about 400 colour plates and a rich range of documentary images this publication includes two overarching images by the exhibition s curators Leah Dickerman and Barry Bergdoll concise interpretive essays on key objects by over twenty leading scholars and an illustrated narrative chronology

Bauhaus Effects in Art, Architecture, and Design Kathleen James-Chakraborty, Sabine T. Kriebel, 2022-04-21 Bringing together an international team of scholars this book offers new perspectives on the impact that the Bauhaus and its teaching had on a wide range of artistic practices Three of the fields in which the Bauhaus generated immediately transformative effects were housing typography and photography Contributors go further to chart the surprising relation of the school to contemporary developments in hairstyling and shop window display in unprecedented detail New scholarship has detailed the degree to which Bauhaus faculty and students set off around the world but it has seldom paid attention to its impact in communist East Germany or in countries like Ireland where no Bauhausler settled This wide ranging collection makes clear that a century after its founding many new stories remain to be told about the influence of the twentieth century s most innovative arts institution The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history design history photography and architectural history Josef Albers Josef Albers,2014 Josef Albers is a German born American artist whose work has formed the basis of some of the 20th century s most influential art education programmes This monograph is an insightful retrospective of his career New York Magazine ,1995-09-11 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Childhood by Design Megan Brandow-Faller,2018-04-19 Informed by the analytical practices of the interdisciplinary material turn and social historical studies of childhood Childhood By Design Toys and the Material Culture of Childhood offers new approaches to the material world of childhood and design culture for children This volume situates toys and design culture for children within broader narratives on history art design and the decorative arts where toy design has traditionally been viewed as an aberration from more serious pursuits The essays included treat toys not merely as unproblematic reflections of socio cultural constructions of childhood but consider how design culture actively shaped commodified and materialized shifting discursive constellations surrounding childhood and children Focusing on the new array of material objects designed in response to the modern invention of childhood what we might refer to as objects for a childhood by design Childhood by Design explores dynamic tensions between theory and practice discursive constructions and lived experience as embodied in the material culture of childhood Contributions from and between a variety of disciplinary perspectives including history art history material cultural studies decorative arts design history and childhood studies are represented critically linking historical discourses of childhood with close study of material objects and design culture Chronologically the volume spans the 18th century which witnessed the invention of the toy as an educational plaything and a proliferation of new material artifacts designed expressly for children s use through the 19th century expansion of factory based methods of toy production facilitating accuracy in miniaturization and a new vocabulary of design objects coinciding with the recognition of childhood innocence and physical separation within the household towards the intersection of early 20th century child centered pedagogy and modernist approaches to nursery and furniture design through the changing consumption and sales practices of the postwar period marketing directly to children through television film and other digital media and into the present where the line between the material culture of childhood and adulthood is increasingly blurred Josef Albers: To Open Eyes Frederick A. Horowitz,Brenda Danilowitz,2006-11-07 This volume provides a fascinating study of the revolutionary painter and teacher Josef Albers 1888 1976 Albers began his teaching career in 1923 when Walter Gropius invited him to join the faculty of the Bauhaus in Germany where he quickly replaced the school's standard course curriculum with his own innovative methods After moving to the United States he taught at Black Mountain College in North Carolina and then at Yale University in New Haven Connecticut until he retired in 1954 Overall Albers's passionate commitment to teaching was matched only by his devotion to his own artistic development While he is widely perceived as a strong minded theoretician he was in fact as this volume reveals against rigid dogma and he encouraged his students to develop lively and original solutions to his many and varied design exercises On their first day in his classroom Albers's students were informed that his goal was to educate their eyes and that he was going to teach them how to think and to see an agenda belied by the somewhat prosaic course names Basic Drawing and Basic Design Overall as a thinker writer Albers's important volume The Interaction of Color was published in 1963 by Yale and educator he has directly and indirectly influenced generations of established artists including Robert Mangold Robert Rauschenberg and Donald Judd among many others This book provides not only a compelling study of a key figure of 20th century art but also ponders what constitutes art and how it is made

Blurred Transparencies in Contemporary Glass Architecture Aki Ishida, 2020-04-22 Blurred Transparencies in Contemporary Glass Architecture brings to light complex readings of transparent glass through close observations of six pivotal works of architecture Written from the perspectives of a practitioner the six essays challenge assumptions about fragility and visual transparency of glass A material imbued with idealism and utopic vision glass has captured architects' imagination and glass's fragility and difficulties in thermal control continue to present technical challenges In recent decades architecture has witnessed an emergence of technological advancements in chemical coating structural engineering and fabrication methods that resulted in new kinds of glass transparencies Buildings examined in the book include a sanatorium with expansive windows delivering light and air to recovering tuberculosis patients a pavilion with a crystal clear glass plenum circulating air for heating and cooling a glass monument symbolizing the screen of personal devices that shortened the distance between machines and humans and a glass building symbolizing the social and material intertwining in the glass ceiling metaphor Connecting material glass to broader cultural and social contexts Blurred Transparencies in Contemporary Glass Architecture enlightens students and practitioners of architecture as well as the general public with interest in design The author demonstrates how glass is rarely crystal clear but is blurred both materially and metaphysically revealing complex readings of ideas for which glass continues to stand
