The Dialect of Modernism Michael North, 1998-01-22 The Dialect of Modernism uncovers the crucial role of racial masquerade and linguistic imitation in the emergence of literary modernism Rebelling against the standard language and literature written in it modernists such as Joseph Conrad Gertrude Stein T S Eliot Ezra Pound and William Carlos Williams reimagined themselves as racial aliens and mimicked the strategies of dialect speakers in their work In doing so they made possible the most radical representational strategies of modern literature which emerged from their attack on the privilege of standard language At the same time however another movement identified with Harlem was struggling to free itself from the very dialect the modernists appropriated at least as it had been rendered by two generations of white dialect writers For writers such as Claude McKay Jean Toomer and Zora Neale Hurston this dialect became a barrier as rigid as the standard language itself Thus the two modern movements which arrived simultaneously in 1922 were linked and divided by their different stakes in the same language In The Dialect of Modernism Michael North shows through biographical and historical investigation and through careful readings of major literary works that however different they were the two movements are inextricably connected and thus cannot be considered in isolation Each was marked for good and bad by the other

Eventfulness in British Fiction Peter Hühn, 2010-03-26 An event defined as the decisive turn the surprising point in the plot of a narrative constitutes its tellability the motivation for reading it This book describes a framework for a narratological definition of eventfulness and its dependence on the historical socio cultural and literary context A series of fifteen analyses of British novels and tales from late medieval and early modern times to the late 20th century demonstrates how this concept can be put into practice for a new specifically contextual interpretation of the central relevance of these texts The examples include Chaucer's Miller's Tale Behn's Oroonoko Defoe's Moll Flanders Richardson's Pamela Fielding's Tom Jones Dickens's Great Expectations Hardy's On the Western Circuit James's The Beast in the Jungle Joyce's Grace Conrad's Shadow Line Woolf's Unwritten Novel Lawrence's Fanny and Annie Mansfield's At the Bay Fowles's Enigma and Swift's Last Orders This selection is focused on the transitional period from 19th century realism to 20th century modernism because during these decades traditional concepts of what counts as an event were variously problematized therefore these texts provide a particularly interesting field for testing the analytical capacity of the term of eventfulness Joseph
