Journal Of Glass Studies Volume 47:

Journal of Glass Studies, 2005      "Glass Exchange between Europe and China, 1550-1800" Emily Byrne Curtis, 2017-07-05 In this study Emily Byrne Curtis explores as her subject lenses spectacles aventurine glass and windows found in China from the sixteenth century She traces their technological development back to the glassworks in Murano Venice and explores their significance in terms of Venice's commerce with China Because glassware also figured among the gifts which three papal legates from the Vatican presented to the Kangxi and Yongzheng emperors the author examines many documents from the archives in Rome and the Vatican the study therefore touches to an extent on the history of the Catholic Church in China Curtis also discusses in the volume some contemporary Chinese references and verses to European glassware and in the case of enamel materials she discloses the pronounced effect their use had upon the decor of Chinese porcelains      Araby the Blest Daniel T. Potts, 1988 Archaeological exploration of the Arabic Peninsula is not a new phenomenon but only in the last two decades or so has it received the scholarly attention it deserves Surveys are now taking place in the entire region and new excavations have begun in almost every country on the peninsula This collection of articles on Arabian archaeology takes its place among many of the recent works on the subject and the articles presented here contributes with both materials and ideas to the field of study Contributions range from palaeography and prehistory to the Islamic conquest      Synopsis Andrew D. Dimarogonas, 1999-02-19 Lists the scholarly publications including research and review journals books and monographs relating to classical Hellenistic Biblical Byzantine Medieval and modern Greece The 11 indexes include article title and author books reviewed theses and dissertations books and authors journals names locations and subjects The format continues that of the second volume All the information has been programmed onto the disc in a high level language so that no other software is needed to read it and in versions for DOS and Apple on each disc Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR      Differing visions of a Learning Society Vol 1 Coffield, Frank, 2000-07-26 Lifelong learning has been an evidence free zone for too long It has been under researched and under theorised This volume the first of two is the culmination of years of empirical work undertaken for the ESRC's Learning Society Programme a major investment in lifelong learning research It explores the ways lifelong learning can contribute to the development of knowledge and skills for employment and other areas of adult life In this first volume the contributors address the challenges to social science researchers to study issues that are central and directly relevant to the political and policy debate and to take into account the reality of people's lives Each chapter gives an overview of one project describing its objectives methods main findings and policy implications Some of the main themes explored include the education market post 16 key skills in Higher Education adult guidance services and how knowledge can be developed at work In the introduction these topics are placed by the editor within the broad context of research and policy on different types of learning societies and lifelong learning The evidence provided shows what policies are or are not working and provides the basis for structural reform Some of the conclusions arrived at by the projects challenge fundamental assumptions of current policy The contributions demonstrate the value of independent critical research in an area which is awash with unsubstantiated generalities armchair musings and banalities without bite Differing visions of a Learning Society contributes to the public debate on lifelong learning and is essential reading for politicians policy makers practitioners academics and researchers concerned in any way with lifelong learning

previous editions The Economics of European Integration by Willem Molle has established itself as a preferred textbook for students of the economics of the EU as well as a reliable reference work for those with a professional interest in the European Union Carefully revised this fifth edition takes into account changes in course requirements new statistical information and recent policy developments It includes new material on the ongoing integration of the New Member States and the new forms of association with accession countries in Central and Eastern Europe the implementation of the Monetary Union and the performance of the euro the EU experience as a guide for the economic integration of other regions and for the improvement of world economic governance Written in a clear style and combining original insights with authoritative analysis this new edition will further enhance the book s reputation for providing the ideal introduction to the economics of the European Union

Pension Policy and Governmentality in China Yan Wang, 2022-10-27 Rapid economic growth is often a disruptive social process threatening the social relations and ideologies of incumbent regimes Yet far from acting defensively the Chinese Communist Party has lead a major social and economic transformation over forty years without yet encountering fundamental challenges subverting its rule A key question for political sociology is thus how have the logics of China s governmentality been able to help maintain compliance from the governed while acting so radically to advance the state s growth priorities This book explores the issue by analysing the detailed trajectories rationale and effects of China s pension reforms It uses strong methods including institutional analysis of resource allocation in the multiple pension schemes and programmes and quantitative text analysis of the knowledge construction in official discourse along with the reforms Causal identification estimates the effects of key policy instruments on public opinion about pension responsibility and political trust Moving beyond the pension issues the analysis discusses with qualitative evidence why falsified compliance might exist in China s society and the mechanisms that may lie behind it Where active counter conduct such as resistance is confined individuals may choose cognitive rebellion and falsify their public compliance The Chinese state s strategy to generate public compliance is hybrid organic and dynamic The state rules society by its customised governance design and constant adjustments Public compliance is not only acquired through buying off the public with governmental performance and transfer benefits but is also manufactured through achieving cultural changes and new ideological foundations for general legitimation

The Problem with Survey Research George Beam, 2017-09-08 The Problem with Survey Research makes a case against survey research as a primary source of reliable information George Beam argues that all survey research instruments all types of asking including polls face to face interviews and focus groups produce unreliable and potentially inaccurate results Because those who rely on survey research only see answers to questions it is impossible for them or anyone else to evaluate the results They cannot know if the answers correspond to respondents actual behaviors objective phenomena or to their true beliefs and opinions subjective phenomena Reliable information can only be acquired by observation experimentation multiple sources of data formal model building and testing document analysis and comparison

In fifteen chapters divided into six parts Ubiquity of Survey Research The Problem Asking Instruments Asking Settings Askers and Proper Methods and Research Designs The Problem with Survey Research demonstrates how asking instruments settings in which asking and answering take place and survey researchers themselves skew results and thereby make answers unreliable The last two chapters and appendices examine observation other methods of data collection and research designs that may produce accurate or correct information and shows how reliance on survey research can be overcome and must be
