Francis Parkman, Historian as Hero Wilbur R. Jacobs, 1991-01-01 A historian who lived the kind of history he wrote Francis Parkman is a major and controversial figure in American historiography His narrative style while popular with readers wanting a good story has raised many questions with professional historians Was Parkman writing history or historical fiction Did he color historical figures with his own heroic self image Was his objectivity compromised by his unbending conservative Brahmin values These are some of the many issues that Wilbur Jacobs treats in this thought provoking study Jacobs carefully considers the apprenticeship of Francis Parkman first spent in facing the rigors of the Oregon Trail and later in struggling to write his histories despite a mysterious frequently incapacitating illness He shows how these events allowed Parkman to create a heroic self image which impelled his desire for fame as a historian and influenced his treatment of both the noble and the savage characters of his histories In addition to assessing the influence of Parkman s development and personality on his histories Jacobs comments on Parkman s relationship to basic social and cultural issues of the nineteenth century These include the slavery question Native American issues expansion of the suffrage to new groups including women and anti Catholicism AB Bookman's Weekly ,1994 Canadian Bookman ,1924 Antiquarian Bookman ,1964 Canada and the American Revolution George M. Department of Printed Books, 1903 The Publishers Weekly ,1906 Promoters, Patriots, and Partisans Martin Brook Taylor, 1989-01-01 During the nineteenth century the writing of history in English speaking Canada changed from promotional efforts by amateurs to an academically based discipline Professor Taylor charts this transition in a comprehensive history The early historians the promoters of the title sought to further their own interests through exaggerated accounts of a particular colony to which they had developed a transient attachment Eventually this group was replaced by patriots whose writing was influenced by loyalty to the land of their birth and residence This second generation of historians attempted both to defend their respective colonies by explaining away past disappointments and to fit events into a predictive pattern of progress and development In the process they established distinctive identities for each of the British North American colonies Eventually a confrontation occurred between those who saw Canada as a nation and those whose traditions and vistas were provincial in emphasis Ultimately the former prevailed only to find the present and future too complex and too ominous to understand Historians subsequently lost their sense of purpose and direction and fell into partisan disagreement or pessimistic nostalgia This abandonment of their role paved the way for the new professional breed of historian as the twentieth century opened In the course of his analysis Taylor considers a number of key issues about the writing of history the kind of people who undertake it and their motivation for doing so the intended and actual effects of their work its influence on subsequent historical writing and the development of uniform and accepted standards of professional practice     The National Union Catalog, Pre-1956 Imprints ,1968     The Oregon Trail Francis Parkman,1911
