Dunlay, 1983-01-01 The University of Nebraska Press editions of The Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition are widely heralded as a lasting achievement In all thirteen volumes are projected which together will provide a complete record of the expedition Volume 11 contains the journals of expedition member Joseph Whitehouse His journals are the only surviving account written by an army private on the expedition and he is one of the least known of the expedition party Following the expedition Whitehouse had a checkered

army career and he disappeared after 1817 His capabilities have been unfairly slighted by previous commentators despite his narrative skill and evidence that he was a man of a lively and curious mind His extensive journal entries contribute to our understanding of the epochal journey and of the unusual group of men who undertook one of the defining events in our history The last part of his journals was not found until 1966 this is the first publication of the complete record of his account

The Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition: August 30, 1803-August 24, 1804 Meriwether Lewis,1983-01-01 The journey of the Corps of Discovery under the command of Captains Meriwether Lewis and William Clark across the American West to the Pacific Ocean and back in the years 1804 1806 seems to me to have been our first really American adventure one that also produced our only really American epic The Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition now at last available in a superbly edited easily read edition in twelve volumes of an eventual thirteen almost two centuries after the Corps of Discovery set out This important text has not been fully appreciated for what it is because of two centuries of incomplete and inadequate editing All three editions previous to this excellent one from the University of Nebraska were flawed by significant omission Thus my gratitude to the present editor Gary Moulton and his assistant editor Thomas Dunlay for bringing what I believe to be a national epic into plain view at last For almost two hundred years their Lewis and Clark s strong words waited there but not there printed but not read our silent epic But words can wait now the captains writings have at last spilled out and fully in this regal edition When the Atlas of the Lewis and Clark Expedition appeared in 1983 critics hailed it as a publishing landmark This eagerly awaited second volume of the new Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition begins the actual journals of those explorers whose epic expedition still enthalls Americans Instructed by President Jefferson to keep meticulous records bearing on the geography ethnology and natural history of the trans Mississippi West Meriwether Lewis and William Clark and four of their men filled hundreds of notebook pages with observations during their expedition of 1804-6 The result was in is a national treasure a complete look at the Great Plains the Rockies and the Pacific Northwest reported by men who were intelligent and well prepared at a time when almost nothing was known about those regions so newly acquired in the Louisiana Purchase Volume 2 includes Lewis s and Clark s journals for the period from August 1803 when Lewis left Pittsburgh to join Clark farther down the Ohio River to August 1804 when the Corps of Discovery camped near the Vermillion River in present South Dakota The general introduction by Gary E Moulton discusses the history of the expedition the journal keeping methods of Lewis and Clark and the editing and publishing history of the journals from the time of Lewis and Clark s return Superseding the last edition published early in this century the current edition brings together new materials discovered since then It greatly expands and updates the annotation to take account of the most recent scholarship on the many subjects touched on by the journals Original Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition, 1804-1806 Meriwether Lewis, William Clark, 1969 The selections dealing with the Flatheads are Vol 2 p 374 and Vol 3 p 52-67 This first meeting provides some interesting comments on intergroup relations and misunderstandings Original Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition, 1804-1806 Meriwether Lewis, William Clark, 1905 The Journals of the Lewis and Clark Expedition: August 25, 1804-April 6, 1805 Meriwether Lewis, William Clark, 1983 When the Atlas of the Lewis and Clark Expedition appeared in 1983 critics hailed it as a publishing landmark in western history The second volume which began the actual journals fully lived up to the promise of the first This eagerly awaited third volume continues the journals of explorers whose epic trail blazing still excites the imagination Instructed by President Jefferson to keep meticulous records bearing on the geography ethnology and natural history of the trans Mississippi West Meriwether Lewis and William Clark and four of their men filled hundreds of notebook pages with observations during their expedition of 1804-6 The result was and is a national treasure a complete look at the Great Plains the Rockies and the Pacific Northwest reported by men who were intelligent and well prepared at a time when almost nothing was known about those regions so newly acquired in the Louisiana Purchase Volume 3 consists of the journals during the expedition s route from the Vermillion River to Fort Mandan North Dakota and their winter encampment there It describes their encounters with Sioux Arikara Mandan and Hidatsa Indians including considerable ethnographic material on these tribes Some miscellaneous documents containing information gathered during the first year of the expedition originally published in a separate volume are here brought together in an appropriate chronological sequence Superseding the last edition published early in this century the current edition contains new materials discovered since then It greatly expands and updates the annotation to take account of the most recent scholarship on the many subjects touched on by the journals
