Lessons Unlearned Pat Proctor, 2020-03-09 Colonel Pat Proctor's long overdue critique of the Army's preparation and outlook in the all volunteer era focuses on a national security issue that continues to vex in the twenty first century Has the Army lost its ability to win strategically by focusing on fighting conventional battles against peer enemies Or can it adapt to deal with the greater complexity of counterinsurgent and information age warfare In this blunt critique of the senior leadership of the U S Army Proctor contends that after the fall of the Soviet Union the U S Army stubbornly refused to reshape itself in response to the new strategic reality a decision that saw it struggle through one low intensity conflict after another some inconclusive some tragic in the 1980s and 1990s and leaving it largely unprepared when it found itself engaged seemingly forever in wars in Afghanistan and Iraq The first book length study to connect the failures of these wars to America's disastrous performance in the war on terror Proctor's work serves as an attempt to convince Army leaders to avoid repeating the same mistakes

Peace Pedagogies in Bosnia and Herzegovina Larisa Kasumagić-Kafedžić, Sara Clarke-Habibi, 2023-05-04 This collection presents interdisciplinary perspectives on educating for peace in Bosnia and Herzegovina. It explores a range of theories, contexts, pedagogies, and practices within formal education settings and draws attention to the multiple roles that teachers play in fostering socially transformative learning. The volume offers readers a critical exploration of peace pedagogy as an imagined ideal and fluid space between post-war educational politics, institutional and curricular constraints, and the lived experiences and identities of teachers and students in socially and historically situated communities. The book highlights local voices, initiatives, and practices by illustrating good examples of how classrooms are being connected to communities, teacher education programs, and teachers' continued professional development. It demonstrates why and how the grammars of peace in Bosnia and Herzegovina are still in a state of flux and negotiation and what the implications are for classroom practice and pedagogy. Recommendations are offered for policymakers, curriculum developers, teacher educators, and teachers on how peace pedagogies can be promoted at all levels of the education system and through pre-service and in-service teacher education, taking into account the structural uniqueness of the country. Peacebuilding and Civil Society in Bosnia-Herzegovina Martina Fischer (historicus), 2006 The Dayton Accords ended the war in Bosnia Herzegovina in 1995. The 10th anniversary gives reason to investigate the post-war period, today's realities, and future perspectives. Bosnian authors and international experts express their views on recent developments. Insiders and outsiders working in the conflict and on its transformation have been invited to tackle the questions: Which conflict lines mark the present society? Did peacebuilding activities address the underlying causes? What are obstacles for conflict transformation? What are the potentials and limits of international support? What does civil society mean in Bosnia and how is it related to statebuilding and democratisation? How can people constructively deal with the past in order to design the future in the region of former Yugoslavia? The book gives an overview on an important research focus of the Berghof Research Center, highlighting the work of its most important cooperation partners. Being Muslim the Bosnian Way Tone Brंगा, 1995-11-19 I have been able to follow a Bosnian community over a period of six years during which it has undergone dramatic changes. In the late 1980s people were working hard against economic crisis. In 1990 they were full of optimism for the future. In January 1993 the village was in fear, surrounded by war on all sides. In April 1993 it was attacked by Croat forces. In October 1993 none of the Muslims in the village remained. They had either fled, been placed in detention camps, or been killed. Thus begins Tone Brंगा's moving ethnographic account of Bosnian Muslims' lives in a rural village located near Sarajevo. Although they represent a majority of the population in the Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bosnian Muslims are still members of a minority culture in the region that was once

Yugoslavia The question of ethno national identity has become paramount in this society and the author focuses on religion as the defining characteristic of identity Bringa pays particular attention to the roles that women play in defining Muslim identities and she examines the importance of the household as a Muslim identity sphere In so doing she illuminates larger issues of what constitutes nationality This is a gripping and heartfelt account of a community that has been torn apart by ethno political conflict It will attract readers of all backgrounds who want to learn more about one of the most intractable wars of the late twentieth century and the people who have been so tragically affected Peace, Complexity, Visuality Rasmus Bellmer, Frank Möller, 2023-08-12 This book argues that we can capitalize on the tolerance of ambiguity enhancing potentialities inherent in visual images their non coherence and thus increase our capability of tolerating ambiguities Studying international relations equals studying ambiguity The international system is complex and where there is complexity there is also ambiguity Crucially in a world saturated not only with ambiguities but also with visual images it is mandatory to think ambiguity and visuality together The authors analyze the constructive and peaceful potentialities of ambiguities through an exploration of journalistic imagery in the context of post war Bosnia and post siege Sarajevo The book is a theoretically sophisticated yet accessible and politically relevant exercise in inter disciplinary thinking uniquely combining literature on complexity ambiguity and visuality thus offering important readings for international relations peace and conflict research and security studies Bosnian, Croatian, Serbian, a Grammar Ronelle Alexander, 2006-08-15 Bosnian Croatian Serbian a Grammar analyzes and clarifies the complex dynamic language situation in the former Yugoslavia Addressing squarely the issues connected with the splintering of Serbo Croatian into component languages this volume provides teachers and learners with practical solutions and highlights the differences among the languages as well as the communicative core that they all share The first book to cover all three components of the post Yugoslav linguistic environment this reference manual features Thorough presentation of the grammar common to Bosnian Croatian and Serbian with explication of all the major differences Examples from a broad range of spoken language and literature New approaches to accent and clitic ordering two of the most difficult points in BCS grammar Order of grammar presentation in chapters 1 16 keyed to corresponding lessons in Bosnian Croatian Serbian a Textbook Sociolinguistic commentary explicating the cultural and political context within which Bosnian Croatian and Serbian function and have been defined Separate indexes of the grammar and sociolinguistic commentary and of all words discussed in both Education at the Intersection of Globalization and Technology Sharon Waller, Lee Waller, Vongai Mpofu, Mercy Kurebwa, 2021-04-07 Today s educators stand at the crossroads of globalization and technology The world is rapidly shrinking The workplace is being transformed before our very eyes Technology is forever changing the way we perceive reality and the way we do business Educators are required to equip students for a workplace that has yet to emerge The skill sets of today s job market are often obsolete before students can enter the workplace Now is the time for educators to rise to the challenges of our modern world By embracing
