Learning From The Bilbao Guggenheim:

Learning from the Bilbao Guggenheim Ana María Guasch, Joseba Zulaika, 2005 The word is out that miracles still occur and that a major one is happening here Have you seen Bilbao In architectural circles the question has acquired the status of a shibboleth Have you seen the light Have you seen the future Herbert Muschamp s future is now What can we learn from The Guggenheim Effect Hailed as an instant landmark Gehry s Bilbao Guggenheim brought a new sense of relevance to architecture in the transformation of urban landscapes It was the story of the architect as hero and as Greeks believed of architecture as the first art arche Bilbao was doing for the Basques what the Sydney Opera House had done for Australia Gehry while complaining of being geniused to death became not only the master architect but the master artist As a result after Bilbao every city has dreamed of its own Guggenheim effect Gehry s optimistic artichoke amid Bilbao s post industrial ruin has become an icon of what architecture can do for a city in decline Warhol seems to be right in his prognostication that every museum should become a supermarket Yet Hal Foster wondered Why all the hoopla Wasn t Gehry s museum risking the most problematic aspects of modernist monumentality and post modernist faux populism In this volume artists Fraser Haacke Muntadas Sekula architecture critics Colomina Gilbert Rolfe urban planners Azua art historians Guilbaut Guasch Moxey Welchman museum specialists Camara Viar art and tourism writers Lippard MacCannell and anthropologists Zulaika discuss the various aspects of the Bilbao Guggenheim from an interdisciplinary perspective Book Jacket Architecture and the Image at the Turn of the 21st Century Sanja Rodeš, 2024-06-28 This book examines architecture image and media relationships as productive for architecture and architectural discourses By arguing that the relationships between architecture and media cannot be dismissed via linear criticism of architecture and media or image these relations are instead seen as a part of a sphere a mediasphere of complex relationships In lieu of anything like a consensus on the contemporary condition of architecture referring to the late twentieth and the twenty first centuries the starting point of this book is that the relationships between architecture media and images continue to multiply owing to continuous technological advancements Contemporary architecture considered in this book is related to the selected circumstances of high visibility where architectural images are propelled into visibility and conflated with non architectural images This takes architecture outside of architectural only discourse and into the public realm By granting higher visibility to both the architectural images and architecture in the public realm architecture can also be influenced by the various perceptions of the general public and can enter public consciousness via non architectural media With increased visibility architecture s far reaching presence calls for more structured analysis of its nature and potential As the analysed architecture in this book is associated with the discourses outside of architecture some of which relate to terrorism natural disaster and branding and consumption the limits of contemporary architectural discipline are questioned and extended This book is written for academics and students in architectural history theory and criticism particularly those interested in visual exceptional projects the chapters in this book utilise a variety of research methods They bring into dialogue a range of themes regarding the architectural urban design and political aspects of these projects This volume illustrates that multidisciplinary might well be the best strategy to balance the risks of over simplification and the challenges of complexity in analysing these exceptional projects and the city in its ever transformative process The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Urban Design

Losing Site Dr Shelley Hornstein, 2013-06-28 As Ruskin suggests in his Seven Lamps of Architecture We may live without architecture and worship without her but we cannot remember without her We remember best when we experience an event in a place But what happens when we leave that place or that place no longer exists This book addresses the relationship between memory and place and asks how architecture captures and triggers memory It explores how architecture exists as a material object and how it registers as a place that we come to remember beyond the physical site itself It questions what architecture is in the broadest sense assuming that it is not simply buildings Rather architecture is considered to be the mapping of physical mental or emotional space The idea that we are all architects in some measure as we actively organize and select pathways and markers within space is central to this book's premise Each chapter provides a different example of the manifold ways in which the physical place of architecture is curated by the architecture in our mental space our imaginary toolbox when we think of a place and look at a photograph or visit a site and describe it later or send a postcard By connecting architecture with other disciplines such as geography visual culture sociology and urban studies as well as the fine and performing arts this book puts forward the idea that a conversation about architecture is not exclusively about formal isolated buildings but instead must be deepened and broadened as spatialized visualizations and experiences of place
