

THE IMPORTANCE OF LIFELONG LEARNING

of work activities in 2017 were technically automatable.

- McKinsey report

The pandemic triggered a 25% increase in the prevalence of anxiety and depression worldwide. In March 2020, 46% of UK workers felt more prone to extreme levels of stress compared to the year prior. To help combat this, businesses should be looking at supporting employees to upskill in those 'softer' skills that support health and wellbeing. - wno of the global workforce upskilled in 2020, meaning that a good proportion of workers were building upon the skills they already had or learning brand-new ones.

45%

of L&D programs being deployed in 2022 are around Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, compared to only 34% in 2021.

According to the 2022 LinkedIn learning survey, 46% of learning and development professionals say that the skills gap is wider in their organisation.

Leading Learning/Learning Leading: A Retrospective on a Life's Work Robert Starratt, 2017-06-26 Internationally recognized for his writing on educational leadership and the ethics of educational leadership Robert J Starratt brings together a thoughtfully crafted selection of his writing representing key aspects of his life and work leading to his current thinking on the convergence of school leadership the professional ethics of educators and the integrity of the teaching learning process This retrospective reveals Starratt's enduring work as probing the foundational intelligibility of the teaching learning process and its connection to human development of both students and teachers. It exhibits his efforts to focus the leadership of the teaching learning process on a combination of cognitive insight into the intelligibility of the world, affective dwelling in the particulars of that intelligibility, and the responsibilities one's relationships with the particular might suggest. A new introduction contextualises Starratt's work against key developments in the field. The unique collection of chapters develops various themes from human resource development to the complexity of curriculum change and from ethical analysis of school organizational structures to the complex dramas in students' personal lives and in the classroom. The book chronicles Starratt's contributions to the field and his role as a leading scholar who has played a key part in the development of leadership and ethics in education over the course of his career. Leading Learning will be of global interest to education leaders and researchers engaged in the field of educational leadership and ethical education.

Caribbean Middle Child: Passion and Pains of Learning Life Mikkemé François, 2018-08-20 The book is actually documenting good interrelationships with siblings in a typical Caribbean family with the targeted emphasis being on the main character's Virginia and younger brother Carlens' middle child's experiences coming through the formative years and his dealing with diverse situations in the family, school, and secularly.

Life and Learning of Korean Artists and Craftsmen Dae Joong Kang, 2015-04-17 This book brings out the need for lifelong learning theory and explores how it is possible from a postmodern perspective. The book uses life history that has gained its popularity in social science research to overcome the dichotomy between individual and society or between agency and structure. Life history also reflects the postmodern or late modern conditions of social life. In this book, the author uses a collection of published oral history narratives of famous Korean artists and craftsmen. The author maps out life and learning of five such artists and craftsmen with figurations of escaping, creating, controlling, and formalizing. These figurations are images of Rhizoactivity that the author proposes as a new conceptual tool to navigate lifelong learning from a postmodern perspective. This book signals a new way of theory building in the field of adult and lifelong education. The Life and Learning of Korean Artists and Craftsmen Rhizoactivity conceptualises adult learning in terms of postmodern and lifelong learning conditions. Life histories as a method of researching lifelong learning. The four facets of artistic journeys: escaping, creating, controlling, and formalizing. This book will interest researchers focusing on lifelong and adult education. Its use of social theories in its study of lifelong learning amongst Korean artists will also interest sociologists and educators concerned with the sociology of education.

The Gospel According to Sesame Street: Learning, Life, Love, and Death Gary C. Dreibelbis, 2016-08-19 Even more than the animated features of Walt Disney and certainly more than The Simpsons, Sesame Street has had a deep and enduring role in shaping young minds about faith and morality well beyond Patti Labelle's stirring gospel version of the alphabet. Gary Dreibelbis' thoughtful analysis of the Sesame Street Gospel is long overdue. Mark I. Pinsky The Gospel According to Disney The Gospel According to The Simpsons What a unique and insightful book Who would have imagined that behind the scenes of a cute kids program there was a deep reservoir of theological truth and moral teaching that has shaped minds and hearts of millions of children A fascinating read Robert Lupton Toxic Charity How Churches and Charities Hurt Those they Help and How to Reverse It Not only is this a lesson in television history it takes an iconic show and delves deeper into the moral and spiritual themes that lie just below the surface giving us a new way to look at a special place called Sesame Street Tony Rossi Director of Communication The Christophers and National Catholic Radio Host During its forty five seasons on air Sesame Street has not only taught children letters of the alphabet and numbers it has also taught children lessons in faith equality and social justice Most of all it has taught children in subtle ways to follow The Golden Rule and that all people are created equal It is without doubt one of the most significant television programs of all time
