Leading at All Levels Annette MacArtain-Kerr, 2018-10-09 Leading at All Levels Using Systemic Ideas to Get the Most from the Workplace moves away from traditional perspectives on leadership and utilising ideas from systemic consultation provides a rationale for leadership at all levels emphasising the potential of everyone in organisations to lead in their own area of work Reviewing the theory of resilience and its place in organisational life the book provides guidance on how to foster resilience in the workplace Written in accessible language the book is divided into three sections on work and leadership on problem solving and finally on approaches to leading at all levels A variety of perspectives on leadership are explored as well as barriers to effective leadership and there are many suggestions for improvement The book discusses the ways in which systemic thinking can contribute to enhance leadership which includes considering different perceptions and experiences of leadership the influence of power in workplace relationships and organisational outcomes the link between positive employee engagement for performance and well being at work and the importance of interpersonal and relational behaviour on leadership The book also considers the importance of everyday workplace interactions to our understanding of leadership and supports a wide understanding of workplace conflict It contains examples throughout which are applicable to different types and sizes of organisation and provides suggestions for readers relating to the practice of leadership at all levels Good leadership is of great importance to today's organisations The book suggests that by paying more attention to leadership at all levels organisations can work towards improving productivity which has been highlighted as a critical issue in the UK since the 2008 recession Leading at All Levels will appeal to systemic trainees practitioners and systemic consultants and to those in related professions as well as to personal development practitioners and coaches

The Socially Constructed

Organization David Campbell,2018-04-19 This book presents the dynamics of organisations from a social constructionist viewpoint taking the organisation as something that is constructed continuously through individual interactions with others both within and without the organisation

Being a Systems Psychodynamic Scholar Frans Cilliers,2019-12-17 This Festschrift has been compiled by Sanchen Henning in honour of the work of Professor Frans Cilliers On behalf of colleagues and friends in South Africa and abroad she illustrates their appreciation and respect for his role as scholar in Systems Psychodynamics He produced various pioneering research projects in Organisational Psychology as his field of study through the Systems Psychodynamic lens A specific feature and contribution of the book is the application of Systems Psychodynamics to organisational matters and leadership consulting as well as to the lived experiences of postgraduate students and academics The chapters include themes relevant on individual group and organisational levels and are intended to contribute to the body of knowledge in the field

Intellectual Disabilities Sandra Baum,Henrik Lynggaard,2018-05-08 The application of systemic ideas and principles in working with people with intellectual disabilities their families and their service systems has grown over the last decade in the UK This book for the first time brings together the writings of a group of practitioners who have been using this approach in their clinical practice It is hoped it will inspire others to try out different ways of working with people with intellectual disabilities and their wider systems so that they can have the choice of a wide range of therapeutic approaches It is also hoped that systemic practitioners who are unfamiliar with this client group might give consideration to extend their practice to also work with people with intellectual disabilities

An Introduction To Family Therapy Dallos, Rudi,Draper, Ros,2010-05-01 Lists of key texts and diagrams suggested reading organized by topic and practical examples and exercises are also used in order to encourage the reader to explore and experiment with the ideas in their own practice

A Complexity Perspective on Researching Organisations Douglas Griffin,Ralph Stacey,2006-02 This book applies complex responsiveness theory to real life leadership experiences and features reflective contributions from a number of leaders consultants and managers

Working Systemically with Families Rudi Dallos,Arlene Vetere,2018-04-24 Systemic theory offers a valuable framework for integrating the diverse ideas found throughout the mental health arena in both theory and clinical practice With this accessible book the authors take you on an enjoyable and coherent journey through systemic theory They then review the body of research into family therapy and conclude with a critical review of major recent developments in theory and application At the end of several chapters are reflexive notes containing exercises that relate to the ideas and processes found within the chapter to further develop the reader s understanding The conclusion draws together the ideas found throughout the book with particular emphasis on the interlocking triangle of formulation intervention and evaluation and how this will impact on systemic practice in the future While this book will be an invaluable introduction to family systems theory and practice for clinical psychology training courses plugging a gap that the authors have identified as one of their motives for writing it its remit runs much wider It will prove an essential companion for any professional working in the public services whether systemically trained or not

Changing Organizations Alan Cooklin, 2018-04-19 This work provides a rich mine of ideas to stimulate thinking about organisational interaction and organisations in relation to various socio cultural values

Thinking Psychologically About Children Who Are Looked After and Adopted Kim S. Golding, Helen R. Dent, Ruth Nissim, Liz Stott, 2006-02-22 Assessment intervention and living with children who are looked after or adopted all require an understanding of psychology and its application This innovative collection makes thinking psychologically about looked after and adopted children accessible and in doing so provides an insight into the world of these children Informed by research practice and psychological theory this volume provides an overview of the area and considers the context for helping children change and develop It goes on to describe in detail the techniques and approaches used by clinicians and explains how interventions can be developed and adapted for children and young people living in residential foster and adoptive care Careful consideration is also given to carers and families living with these children With its multi disciplinary approach Thinking Psychologically About Children Who Are Looked After and Adopted will appeal to all professionals involved in the care and education of placed children It will also be of interest to policy makers and lecturers and students of social work

Are you impressed? Sune Bjørn Larsen, 2021-03-29 Are you impressed is a doctoral thesis that explores processes of organisational development and the pressure to perform and impress Being caught up in trying to impress clients and avoid disappointment might have negative implications Consultants might be reluctant to contest and challenge customers in honest ways because consultants are dependent on clients to hire them However clients are also dependent on consultants Consultants and clients are interdependent and they are all involved in impressing each other This stands in stark contrast to thinking of consultants as neutral facilitators a view that dominates the descriptions of consultancy within organisational development It is argued that impressing others in ethical ways requires self awareness and taking a position which means to enter the fluctuating paradox of constancy and change which can be very disturbing both for consultants and for the client The alternative to reverberating to this paradox is to get lost in the other and therefore to lose oneself at the same time
