Fierce With Reality An Anthology Of Literature On Aging:

Fierce with Reality Margaret Cruikshank, 2016-12-01 The anthology is far more culturally diverse than the few other literary collections on aging Ranging from ancient Chinese poetry to Mary Oliver Alice Walker and Willie Nelson the anthology includes poetry fiction philosophical essays personal essays humor analyses of ageism and folktales from Asia and Iraq Fierce with Reality highlights writings by women from late 19th century American literature to the present Many facets of aging are explored revealing the challenges and complexities of late life and demonstrating that the aging process is both individual and social cultural Fierce with Reality aimed at a general audience as well as students and professors would be ideal for book groups

Learning to Be Old Margaret Cruikshank, 2013-02-14 This work examines what it means to grow old in America today The book questions social myths and fears about aging sickness and the other social roles of the elderly the over medicalization of many older people and ageism Here the author proposes alternatives to the ways aging is usually understood in both popular culture and mainstream gerontology She does not propose the ideas of successful aging or productive aging but more the idea of learning how to age Featuring new research and analysis the third edition of this text demonstrates more thoroughly than the previous editions that aging is socially constructed The book focuses on the differences in aging for women and men as well as for people in different socioeconomic groups The author is able to put aging in a broad context that not only focuses on how aging affects women but men as well Key updates in the third edition include changes in the health care system changes in how long older Americans are working especially given the impact of the recession and new material on the brain and mind body interconnections The author challenges conventional ideas about aging and brings forth some new ideas surrounding aging in America today

Final Acts Nan Bauer-Maglin, Donna Perry, 2009-12-07 Today most people die gradually from incremental illnesses rather than from the heart attacks or fast moving diseases that killed earlier generations Given this new reality the essays in Final Acts explore how we can make informed and caring end of life choices for ourselves and for those we love and what can happen without such planning Contributors include patients caretakers physicians journalists lawyers social workers educators hospital administrators academics psychologists and a poet and among them are ethicists religious believers and nonbelievers Some write moving personal accounts of good or bad deaths others examine the ethical social and political implications of slow dying Essays consider death from natural causes suicide and aid in dying assisted suicide Writing in a style free of technical jargon the contributors discuss documents that should be prepared health proxy do not resuscitate order living will power of attorney decision making over medical interventions life support hospice and palliative care aid in dying treatment location speaking for those who can no longer express their will and the roles played by religion custom family friends caretakers money the medical establishment and the government For those who yearn for some measure of control over death the essayists in Final Acts from very different backgrounds and with different personal and professional experiences around death and dying offer insight and hope Age Becomes Us Leni Marshall, 2015-06-30 In lively accessible prose this book expands the reach and depth of age studies A review of age studies methods in theory literature and practice leads readers to see how their own intersectional identities shape their beliefs about age aging and old age This study asks readers to interrogate the texts of menopause self help books on aging and foundational age studies works In addition to the study of these nonfiction texts the poetry and prose of Doris Lessing Lucille Clifton and Louise Erdrich serve as vehicles for exploring how age relations work including how they invoke readers into kinships of reciprocal care as othermothers otherdaughters and otherelders The literary chapters examine how gifted storytellers provide enactments portrayals and metaphorical uses of age to create transformative potential Facing the Mirror Frida Furman, 2013-02 The women at Julie s International Salon share their experiences of bodily self presentation femininity aging and caring Their own words are at the center of the book the stories of their lives fresh and compelling are told here with affection But beyond the stories themselves Frida Kerner Furman explores the socio moral significance of these beauty shop experiences showing how they reveal as much about society at large as about older women For in telling us how they perceive reality make choices and live in their worlds the women of Julie s expose structures of power inequality and resistance in the larger world that all of us young or old beautiful or not face every day Measuring the Quantum State of Light Ulf Leonhardt, 1997-07-13 Appendix A Semiclassical approximation Out of the Closet, Into the Archives Amy L. Stone, Jaime Cantrell, 2015-11-20 The first book to focus on the experience of LGBT archival research Out of the Closet Into the Archives takes readers inside the experience of how it feels to do queer archival research and queer research in the archive The archive much like the closet exposes various levels of public and privateness recognition awareness refusal impulse disclosure framing silence cultural intelligibility each mediated and determined through subjective insider outsider ways of knowing The contributors draw on their experiences conducting research in disciplines such as sociology African American studies English communications performance studies anthropology and women s and gender studies These essays challenge scholars to engage with their affective experience of being in the archive illuminating how the space of the archive requires a different kind of deeply personal embodied research
