speech and human rights were being forged And yet the period was defined by a relentless commitment to the displacement and stolen labor of millions Romanticism she argues can no longer be discussed without the racial violence with which it was complicit Still rather than using this idea to rehash Black pain and subjugation she mines the archives for instances of resistance beauty and joy Nabugodi moves effortlessly between the past and present She takes us into the physical archives and with startling clarity unpacks her relationships with them what they are and should be who built them how they are entwined with an industry that was the antithesis of freedom and how she feels holding the materials needed to write this book as a someone whose ancestry is largely absent from their ledgers The Trembling Hand presents a dazzling new way of reading the past This transfixing evocative book reframes not only the lives of the legendary Romantics but also their poetry and the very era in which they lived It is a reckoning with art archives and academia bound to echo through the conversation for a long time to come

The Noble Life of the Prophet ‘Alī Muḥammad Muḥammad Ṣallābī, 2005 This Living Hand Edmund Morris, 2012-10-23

When the multitalented biographer Edmund Morris who writes with equal virtuosity about Theodore Roosevelt Ronald Reagan Beethoven and Thomas Edison was a schoolboy in colonial Kenya one of his teachers told him You have the most precious gift of all originality That quality is abundantly evident in this selection of essays They cover forty years in the life of a maverick intellectual who can be at whim astonishingly provocative self mockingly funny and richly anecdotal The title essay a tribute to Reagan in cognitive decline is poignant in the extreme Whether Morris is analyzing images of Barack Obama or the prose style of President Clinton or exploring the riches of the New York Public Library Dance Collection or interviewing the novelist Nadine Gordimer or proposing a hilarious Diet for the Musically Obese a continuous cross fertilization is going on in his mind It mixes the cultural pollens of Africa Britain and the United States and propagates hybrid flowers some fragrant some strange some a shock to conventional sensibilities Repeatedly in This Living Hand Morris celebrates the physicality of artistic labor and laments the glass screen that today’s devices interpose between inspiration and execution No presidential biographer has ever had so literary a take on his subjects he discerns powers of poetic perception even in the obsessively scientific Edison Nor do most writers on music have the verbal facility to articulate as Morris does what it is about certain sounds that soothe the savage breast His essay on the pathology of Beethoven’s deafness breaks new ground in suggesting that tinnitus may explain some of the weird aural effects in that composer’s works Masterly monographs on the art of biography South Africa in the last days of apartheid the romance of the piano and the role of imagination in nonfiction are juxtaposed with enchanting almost unclassifiable pieces such as The Bumstitch Lament for a Forgotten Fruit Morris suspects it may have grown in the Garden of Eden The Anticapitalist Conspiracy A Warning an assault on The Chicago Manual of Style Nuages Gris Colors in Music Literature and Art and the uproarious Which Way Does Sir Dress about ordering a suit from the most expensive tailor in London Uniquely illustrated with images that the author describes as indispensable to his creative process This Living Hand is packed with biographical insights into such famous personalities as Daniel Defoe Henry Adams Mark Twain Evelyn Waugh Truman Capote Glenn Gould Jasper Johns W G Sebald and Winnie the Pooh not to mention a gallery of forgotten figures whom Morris lovingly restores to life Among these are the pianist Ferruccio Busoni the poet Edwin Arlington Robinson the novelist James Gould Cozzens and sixteen so called Undistinguished Americans contributors to an anthology of anonymous memoirs published in 1902 Reviewing that book for The New Yorker Morris notes that even the most unlettered persons have on occasion power to send forth surprise flashes illuminating not only the dark around them but also more sophisticated shadows for example those cast by public figures who will not admit to private failings or by philosophers too cerebral to state a plain truth The author of This Living Hand is not an ordinary person but he too sends forth surprise flashes never more dazzlingly than in his final essay The Ivo Pogorelich of Presidential Biography
