power if not racial segregation in the Jim Crow South Placing these two movements on the same historical page Christopher C Sellers spotlights those environmental inequities ideals and provocations that catalyzed their divergent political projects He then follows the intermittent sometimes vital alliances they struck as civil rights activists tackled poverty as a new environmental state arose and as Black politicians began winning elections Into the 1980s as a wealth concentrating style of capitalism returned to the city and Atlanta became a national poster child for sprawl the seedbeds spread both for a national environmental justice movement and for an influential new style of antistatism Sellers contends that this new conservatism sweeping the South with an antienvironmentalism and budding white nationalism that echoed the region s Jim Crow past once again challenged the democracy Atlantans had achieved Crisis William Edward Burghardt Du Bois,1917 The Guns of August 2008 Svante E. Strengthening Infrastructure Governance for Climate-Responsive Public Investment International Monetary,International Monetary Fund. Fiscal Affairs Dept.,2021-12-22 Countries have committed through the Paris Agreement and the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs to pursue climate targets and policies that would limit global temperature rise to well below 2 degrees Celsius compared to pre industrial levels A shift toward green public investment will help to mitigate greenhouse gas GHG emissions In addition substantial public investment will be necessary to build public infrastructure that makes economies more resilient to climate change and related natural disasters Climate change mitigation and adaptation challenges thus compound preexisting needs for public investment to foster the economic recovery from the pandemic and to meet the SDGs in a broader range of areas often in a context of limited fiscal space Against this backdrop a priority for all countries is to manage their public investment efficiently and effectively To help countries improve the institutions and processes for infrastructure governance the planning allocation and implementation of public investment the IMF developed in 2015 the Public Investment Management Assessment PIMA which has already been applied in over 70 countries However the current PIMA does not provide a sufficiently tailored assessment of how public investment management can support climate change mitigation and adaptation To fill this gap this paper introduces a new module to the to the current Public Investment Management Assessment PIMA framework the Climate PIMA C PIMA whose goal is to help governments identify potential improvements in public investment institutions and processes to build low carbon and climate resilient infrastructure
