Weiner, 2015-02-26 Along with Batman Spider Man and Superman the Joker stands out as one of the most recognizable comics characters in popular culture While there has been a great deal of scholarly attention on superheroes very little has been done to understand supervillains This is the first academic work to provide a comprehensive study of this villain illustrating why the Joker appears so relevant to audiences today Batman s foe has cropped up in thousands of comics numerous animated series and three major blockbuster feature films since 1966 Actually the Joker debuted in DC comics Batman 1 1940 as the typical gangster but the character evolved steadily into one of the most ominous in the history of sequential art Batman and the Joker almost seemed to define each other as opposites hero and nemesis in a kind of psychological duality Scholars from a wide array of disciplines look at the Joker through the lens of feature films video games comics politics magic and mysticism psychology animation television performance studies and philosophy As the first volume that examines the Joker as complex cultural and cross media phenomenon this collection adds to our understanding of the role comic book and cinematic villains play in the world and the ways various media affect their interpretation Connecting the Clown Prince of Crime to bodies of thought as divergent as Karl Marx and Friedrich Nietzsche contributors demonstrate the frightening ways in which we get the monsters we need Cultures of Oral Health Claire L. Contemporary English Fiction explores the importance of comedy in contemporary literature and culture In an era largely defined by a mood of crisis bleakness cruelty melancholia environmental catastrophe and collapse Huw Marsh argues that contemporary fiction is as likely to treat these subjects comically as it is to treat them gravely and that the recognition and proper analysis of this humour opens up new ways to think about literature Structured around readings of authors including Martin Amis Nicola Barker Julian Barnes Jonathan Coe Howard Jacobson Magnus Mills and Zadie Smith this book suggests not only that much of the most interesting contemporary writing is funny and that there is a comic tendency in contemporary fiction but also that this humour this comic licence allows writers of contemporary fiction to do peculiar and interesting things things that are funny in the sense of odd or strange and that may in turn inspire a funny turn in readers Marsh offers a series of original critical and theoretical frameworks for discussing questions of literary genre style affect and politics demonstrating that comedy is an often neglected mode that plays a generative role in much of the most interesting contemporary writing creating sites of rich political stylistic cognitive and ethical contestation whose analysis offers a new perspective on the present 50 Fantastic Ideas for Early Writing Prompts Alistair Bryce-Clegg,2015-08-13 If children cosmopolitan co existence Ecocollapse Fiction and Cultures of Human Extinction Sarah E. McFarland, 2021-01-28

 This work analyzes 21st century realistic speculations of human extinction fictions that imagine future worlds without interventions of as yet uninvented technology interplanetary travel or other science fiction elements that provide hope for rescue or long term survival Climate change fiction as a genre of apocalyptic and post apocalyptic writing usually resists facing the potentiality of human species extinction following instead traditional generic conventions that imagine primitivist communities of human survivors with the means of escaping the consequences of global climate change Yet amidst the ongoing sixth great extinction works that problematize survival provide no opportunities for social rebirth and speculate humanity's final end may address the problem of how to reject the impulse of human exceptionalism that pervades climate change discourse and post apocalyptic fiction Rather than following the preferences of the genre the ecocollapse fictions examined here manifest apocalypse where the means for a happy ending no longer exists In these texts diminished ecosystems specters of cannibalism and disintegrations of difference and othering render human self identity as radically malleable within their confrontations with the stark materiality of all life This book is the first in depth exploration of contemporary fictions that imagine the imbrication of human and nonhuman within global species extinctions It closely interrogates novels from authors like Peter Heller Cormac McCarthy and Yann Martel that reject the impulse of human exceptionalism to demonstrate what it might be like to go extinct The Representation of Slavery in Cuban Fiction Lorna V. Williams, 1994 Incorporating recent narrative theory and original historical documents such as the voluminous correspondence of Domingo del Monte 1804 1853 Williams offers insights into the pattern of female development through an exploration of the representation of the female slave in the five novels In addition she provides the first exhaustive analysis of Gertrudis Gomez de Avellaneda's Sab and the first detailed treatment of the intertextual echoes in these other literary texts Juan Francisco Manzano's Autobiografia Amnselmo Suarez y Romero's Francisco Antonio Zambrana's El negro Francisco Martin Morua Delgado's Sofia and Cirilo Villaverde's Cecilia Valdes Contemporary Fiction, Celebrity Culture, and the Market for Modernism Carey Mickalites, 2022-01-13 Arguing that contemporary celebrity authors like Zadie Smith Ian McEwan Martin Amis Kazuo Ishiguro Salman Rushdie Eimear McBride and Anna Burns position their work and public personae within a received modernist canon to claim and monetize its cultural capital in the lucrative market for literary fiction this book also shows how the corporate conditions of marketing and branding have redefined older models of literary influence and innovation It contributes to a growing body of criticism focused on contemporary literature as a field in which the formal and stylistic experimentation that came to define a canon of early 20th century modernism has been renewed contested and revised Other critics have celebrated these renewals variously arguing that contemporary literature picks up on modernism's unfinished aesthetic revolutions in ways that have expanded the imaginative possibilities for fiction and revived questions of literary autonomy in the wake of postmodern nihilism While this is a compelling thesis and one that rightly questions an artificial and problematic periodization that still lingers in academic criticism those approaches generally fail to address the material conditions that structure literary production and the generation of cultural capital whether in the historical development of modernism or its contemporary permutations This book addresses this absence by proposing a materialist history of modernism s afterlives The Fiction of Rushdie, Barnes, Winterson and Carter Gregory J. Rubinson,2005-08-24 Literature often reflects societal change but it can also effect change by inspiring people to think in new ways Four authors who encourage readers to question traditional boundaries are Salman Rushdie Julian Barnes Jeanette Winterson and Angela Carter This book takes an in depth look at the works of these authors with specific emphasis on how they challenge religion especially in its fundamentalist forms and its intersections with history politics gender and sexuality The study notes both differences and similarities among the four authors whose writings broadly represent the major themes in contemporary British literature Divided into two primary sections the volume first takes a look at Rushdie and Barnes and their stance regarding historical and political issues The second section concentrates on gender and sexuality in the writings of Winterson and Carter Among the works examined are Rushdie s The Satanic Verses and Midnight s Children Barnes Flaubert s Parrot and A History of the World in 10 1 2 Chapters Winterson s Boating for Beginners and Written on the Body and Carter s The Passion of New Eve and Heroes and Villains The final chapter includes a brief survey of other significant figures in postmodern British literature including Martin Amis Ian McEwan D M Thomas Fay Weldon and Emma Tennant
