Fictional Transfigurations Of Jesus:

Fictional Transfigurations of Jesus Theodore Ziolkowski, 2002-04-12 Many novels revolve round the figure of Jesus Some of the finest of them are defined by Ziolkowski as fictional transfigurations of Jesus They share a modern hero patterned on Jesus the culture hero whose life consisted of the motifs of the last supper lonely agony betrayal trial and crucifixion The aesthetic challenge of adapting this most familiar story for their generation has attracted an unusual number of great writers among them Papini Kazantzakis Hesse Mann Greene Faulkner and Gore Vidal The form began with the new image of a humanized Jesus which developed in the 19th century The interest in religious paranoia and hysteria at the turn of the century instantly expanded its potentialities as novelists began to explore the theme of christomania This was followed by studies of Jesus as a mythic figure and then Marxist oriented portraits of Comrade Jesus Finally the form became inverted into parody in the Fifth Gospels in which not Jesus but Judas is the central figure The Shape of Apocalypse in Modern

Jesus: Christ in 20th-Century Fiction and Film Graham Holderness, 2014-11-20 At the heart of Christian theology lies a paradox unintelligible to other religions and to secular humanism that in the person of Jesus God became man and suffered on the cross to effect humanity's salvation In his dual nature as mortal and divinity and unlike the impassable God of other monotheisms Christ thus became accessible to artistic representation Hence the figure of Jesus has haunted and compelled the imagination of artists and writers for 2 000 years This was never more so than in the 20th Century in a supposedly secular age when the Jesus of popular fiction and film became perhaps more familiar than the Christ of the New Testament In Re Writing Jesus Christ in 20th Century Fiction and Film Graham Holderness explores how writers and film makers have sought to recreate Christ in work as diverse as Anthony Burgess's Man of Nazareth and Jim Crace's Quarantine to Martin Scorsese's The Last Temptation of Christ and Mel Gibson's Passion of the Christ These works are set within a longer and broader history of Jesus novels and Jesus films a lineage traced back to Ernest Renan and George Moore and explored both for their reflections of contemporary Christological debates and their positive contributions to Christian theology In its final chapter the book draws on the insights of this tradition of Christological representation to creatively construct a new life of Christ an original work of theological fiction that both subsumes the history of the form and offers a startlingly new perspective on the biography of Christ Reading the Gospels in the Dark Richard Walsh, 2003-10-01 Films with Jesus or

Jesus like characters have been part of movies since the earliest days and Walsh explores just what kind of impact they have had on their audiences The Historical Jesus and the Literary Imagination 1860-1920 Jennifer Stevens,2010-07-14 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library Fictional reconstructions of the Gospels continue to find a place in contemporary literature and in the popular imagination Present day writers of New Testament fiction and drama are usually considered as part of a tradition formed by mid to late twentieth century authors such as Robert Graves Nikos Kazantzakis and Anthony Burgess This book looks back further to the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries when the templates of the majority of today s Gospel fictions and dramas were set down In doing so it examines the extent to which significant works of biblical scholarship both influenced and inspired literary works Focusing on writers such as Oscar Wilde George Moore and Marie Corelli this timely new addition to the English Association Monographs series will be essential reading for scholars working at the intersection of literature and theology The Poets' Jesus Peggy Rosenthal,2000 Peggy Rosenthal considers the world s poets as creators who dreamed or destroyed visions of Jesus which shaped the spiritual climate of their times and nations Translating Jesus for Today John Hoad,2010-08-09 There is no available information at this time Jesus W. Barnes Tatum,2015-09-23 Drawing on examples from literature art and popular culture aswell as theology this engaging book reveals the importance of the question whose was he in fully understanding the life and legacy of Jesus A concise accessible and engaging exploration of Jesus s life and enduring influence Charts the changing global status and influence of Jesus a Galilean Jew born when the ancient Roman Empire ruled the Mediterranean world and how he has come to be honored as the Christ and recognized by billions of people around the world Traces the reception history of Jesus and his story over the past two millennia through art literature and culture as well as theology Draws on a fascinating range of materials from ancient texts creeds and theological treatises to the visual and dramatic arts including books like The DaVinci Code and films such as The Passion of the Christ

Transformative Encounters Ingrid R Kitzberger,2021-10-01 This composite post colonial and multi dimensional volume contains sixteen original essays by distinguished Jewish and Christian Scripture scholars on a wide range of perspectives on the relation between Jesus and women as portrayed in the New Testament Gospels as historically reconstructed in the context of Second Temple Judaism and of Mediterranean society as well as in present actualizations The contributions reflect the different social locations of interpreters from all continents and testify to the richness of methods employed in biblical interpretation at the end of the 20th century ranging from literary approaches narrative criticism reader response criticism intertextuality historical critical methods archaeology and social scientific interpretation to cultural studies and film theory By addressing new questions and searching for answers on untrodden paths the vital scholarship on Jesus and women will be reviewed enriched and challenged The Image of Christ in Russian Literature John Givens,2018-05-29 Vladimir Nabokov complained about the number of Dostoevsky s characters sinning their way to Jesus In truth Christ is an elusive figure not only in Dostoevsky's novels but in Russian literature as a whole. The rise of the historical critical method of biblical criticism in the nineteenth century and the growth of secularism it stimulated made an earnest affirmation of Jesus in literature highly problematic. If they affirmed Jesus too directly, writers paradoxically risked diminishing him either by deploying faith explanations that no longer persuade in an age of skepticism or by reducing Christ to a mere argument in an ideological dispute. The writers at the heart of this study understood that to reimage Christ for their age they had to make him known through indirect even negative ways lest what they say about him be mistaken for cliché doctrine or naïve apologetics. The Christology of Dostoevsky, Leo Tolstoy, Mikhail Bulgakov, and Boris Pasternak is thus apophatic because they deploy negative formulations saying what God is not in their writings about Jesus. Professions of atheism in Dostoevsky and Tolstoy's non-divine Jesus are but separate negative paths toward truer discernment of Christ. This first study in English of the image of Christ in Russian literature highlights the importance of apophaticism as a theological practice and a literary method in understanding the Russian Christ. It also emphasizes the importance of skepticism in Russian literary attitudes toward Jesus on the part of writers whose private crucibles of doubt produced some of the most provocative and enduring images of Christ in world literature. This important study will appeal to scholars and students of Orthodox Christianity and Russian literature as well as educated general readers interested in religion and nineteenth-century Russian novels. Jesus in the Victorian Novel Jessica Ann Hughes, 2022-01-27. This book tells the story of how nineteenth-century writers turned to the realist novel in order to reimagine Jesus during a century where traditional religious faith appeared increasingly untenable. Re-workings of the canonical Gospels and other projects to demythologize the story of Jesus are frequently treated as projects aiming to secularize and even discredit traditional Christian faith. The novels of Charles Kingsley, George Eliot, Eliza Lynn Linton, and Mary Augusta Ward, however, demonstrate that the work of bringing the Christian tradition of prophet, priest, and king into conversation with a rapidly changing world can at times be a form of authentic faith, even a faith that remains rooted in the Bible and historic Christianity while simultaneously creating a space that allows traditional understandings of Jesus' identity to evolve. The Real and the Sacred Jefferson J. A. Gatrall, 2014-11-13. A cultural history of representations of Jesus in nineteenth-century European and American fiction and visual art. Jesus, the Gospels, and Cinematic Imagination Richard Walsh, Jeffrey L. Staley, 2021-08-12. Jesus films arose with cinema itself. Richard Walsh and Jeffrey L. Staley introduce students to these films with a general overview of the Jesus film tradition and with specific analyses of 22 of its most influential exemplars stretching from La vie du Christ (1906) to Mary Magdalene (2018). The introduction to each film includes discussion of plot, characters, visuals, appeal to authority, and cultural location, as well as consideration of the director's and/or other filmmakers' achievements and style. Several film chapters end with reflections on problematic issues bedeviling the tradition, such as cultural imperialism and patriarchy. To assist teachers and researchers, each chapter includes a listing of DVD chapters and the approximate time for both DVDs and streaming platforms at which

key film moments occur The book also includes a Gospels Harmony cataloging the time at which key gospel incidents appear in these films Extensive endnotes point readers to other important work on the tradition and specific films While the authors strive to set the Jesus film tradition within cinema and its interpretation the DVD streaming listing and the Gospels Harmony facilitate the comparison of these films to gospel interpretation and the Jesus tradition

Dialogic Openness in Nikos Kazantzakis Charitini Christodoulou, 2012-11-15 In this book Charitini Christodoulou argues that a certain perception of openness that she calls dialogic permeates Nikos Kazantzakis The Last Temptation Partly based on Umberto Eco s theory in Opera Aperta and Mikhail Bakhtin s notion of dialogism the term dialogic openness refers to the idea of antithetical forces clashing and thus revealing different forms of tension that are not resolved at the end of the novel Thus it is shown that subjectivity and meaning is always in the process of becoming The different aspects of identity formation unfold before the eyes of the reader who becomes a witness to the leading characters process of becoming Christodoulou demonstrates that there are dialogic elements in tension which can only be brought forth not as a synthesis such as the stylistics of a genre implies but as openness perceived as a process of identity formation
