I've often thought that one of us is what we imagine, that each of us normalizes the terrible strangeness of inner life with a variety of convenient fictions.

Fictions Of The Inner Life:

The Distinction of Fiction Dorrit Cohn, 2000-12 Winner of the Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Comparative Literary Studies from the Modern Language Association Winner of the Modern Language Association's Aldo and Jeanne Scaglione Prize for Comparative Literary Studies The border between fact and fiction has been trespassed so often it seems to be a highway Works of history that include fictional techniques are usually held in contempt but works of fiction that include history are among the greatest of classics Fiction claims to be able to convey its own unique kinds of truth But unless a reader knows in advance whether a narrative is fictional or not judgment can be frustrated and confused In The Distinction of Fiction Dorrit Cohn argues that fiction does present specific clues to its fictionality and its own justifications Indeed except in cases of deliberate deception fiction achieves its purposes best by exercising generic conventions that inform the reader that it is fiction Cohn tests her conclusions against major narrative works including Proust's A la Recherche du temps perdu Mann's Death in Venice Tolstoy's War and Peace and Freud's case studies She contests widespread poststructuralist views that all narratives are fictional On the contrary she separates fiction and nonfiction as necessarily distinct even when bound together An expansion of Cohn's Christian Gauss lectures at Princeton and the product of many years of labor and thought The Distinction of Fiction builds on narratological and phenomenological theories to show that boundaries between fiction and history can be firmly and systematically explored Founded in Fiction Thomas Koenigs, 2024-11-26 This monograph presents a new history of early American literature that traces the diverse forms of fiction circulating in the early United States 1789-1861 and how they shaped the way Americans thought and argued about political and cultural issues of their age

Woman's Work in English Fiction Clara Helen Whitmore, 1909 Fiction as Research Practice Patricia Leavy, 2016-06-16 The turn to fiction as a social research practice is a natural extension of what many researchers and writers have long been doing Patricia Leavy a widely published qualitative researcher and a novelist explores the overlaps and intersections between these two ways of understanding and describing human experience She demonstrates the validity of literary experimentation to the qualitative researcher and how to incorporate these practices into research projects Five short stories and excerpts from novellas and novels show these methods in action This book is an essential methodological introduction for those interested in studying or practicing arts based research Romantic Prose Fiction Gerald Gillespie, Manfred Engel, Bernard Dieterle, 2008-02-14 In this volume a team of three dozen international experts presents a fresh picture of literary prose fiction in the Romantic age seen from cross cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives The work treats the appearance of major themes in characteristically Romantic versions the power of Romantic discourse to reshape imaginative writing and a series of crucial reactions to the impact of Romanticism on cultural life down to the present both in Europe and in the New World Through its combination of chapters on thematic generic and discursive features Romantic Prose Fiction achieves a unique theoretical stance by considering the opinions of primary Romantics and their successors not as guiding truths by which to define the permanent meaning of Romanticism but as data of cultural history that shed important light on an evolving civilization

The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series total contents

Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams

Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd

Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments

Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism s own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume

Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations

As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age

Between Science and Fiction Hanjo Berressem, Michael Bucher, Uwe Schwagmeier, 2012 The idea that the Earth is hollow has inspired both the world of science and the world of fiction As a scientific concept this notion has informed the works of Edmond Halley and Leonhard Euler As a literary conceit it can be found in the works of Dante and E A Poe in novels by Jules Verne Arno Schmidt Thomas Pynchon and Mark Z Danielewski and in comics films and computer games This collection addresses both the scientific and the aesthetic aspects of the Hollow Earth with essays that range from medieval literature to afrofuturism

Beyond the Iron House Saiyin Sun, 2016-07-15 Beyond the Iron

House is a critical study of a crucial period of life and work of the modern Chinese writer Lu Xun Through thorough research into historical materials and archives the author demonstrates that Lu Xun was recognized in the literary field much later than has hitherto been argued Neither the appearance of Kuangren riji Diary of a madman in 1918 nor the publication of Nahan Outcry in 1923 had catapulted the author into nationwide prominence in comparison with his contemporaries neither was his literary work as original and unique as many have claimed nor were his thoughts and ideas as popular and influential as many have believed like many other agents in the literary field Lu Xun was actively involved in power struggles over what was at stake in the field Lu Xun was later built into an iconic figure and the blind worship of him hindered a better and more authentic understanding of many other modern writers and intellectuals such as Gao Changhong and Zhou Zuoren whose complex relationships with Lu Xun are fully explored and analysed in the book The Leavises on Fiction P.J.M.

Robertson,1988-06-18 Passion and Pathology in Victorian Fiction Jane Wood,2001 Nervous illness and the study of how body and mind connected were of intense interest to Victorian medical writers and novelists alike This elegant study offers an integrated analysis of how medicine and literature figured the connection between the body and the mind Alongside detailed examinations of some of the era s most influential neurological and physiological theories Jane Wood offers fresh readings of fictions by Charlotte Bront George MacDonald George Eliot Wilkie Collins Thomas Hardy and George Gissing

Modernist Short Fiction by Women Claire Drewery,2016-04-15 Taking on the neglected issue of the short story s relationship to literary Modernism Claire Drewery examines works by Katherine Mansfield Dorothy Richardson May Sinclair and Virginia Woolf Drewery argues that the short story as a genre is preoccupied with transgressing boundaries and thus offers an ideal platform from which to examine the Modernist fascination with the liminal Embodying both liberation and restriction liminal spaces on the one hand enable challenges to traditional cultural and personal identities while on the other hand they entail the inevitable negative consequences of occupying the position of the outsider marginality psychosis and death Mansfield Richardson Sinclair and Woolf all exploit this paradox in their short fiction which typically explores literal and psychological borderline states that are resistant to rational analysis Thus their short stories offered these authors an opportunity to represent the borders of unconsciousness and to articulate meaning while also conveying a sense of that which is unsayable Through their concern with liminality Drewery shows these writers contribute significantly to the Modernist aesthetic that interrogates identity the construction of the self and the relationship between the individual and society Irigaray, Incarnation and Contemporary Women's Fiction Abigail Rine,2013-08-01 Drawing on the provocative recent work of feminist theorist Luce Irigaray Irigaray Incarnation and Contemporary Women s Fiction illuminates the vital and subversive role of literature in rewriting notions of the sacred Abigail Rine demonstrates through careful readings how a range of contemporary women writers from Margaret Atwood to Mich le Roberts and Alice Walker think beyond traditional religious discourse and masculine models of subjectivity towards a new model of the sacred one that seeks to reconcile the schism between the human and the divine between the body and the word Along the way the book argues that literature is the ideal space for rethinking religion precisely because it is a realm that cultivates imagination mystery and incarnation Fiction and Art Ananta Ch. Sukla,2015-09-24 The nature of fiction has long been debated across the humanities and is of considerable importance for philosophical aesthetics literary theory narratology and the history of ideas This volume offers something entirely new a selection of multidisciplinary perspectives on fiction written by an international team of contributors at the forefront of their fields providing a spectrum of approaches to compare and contrast This volume divided between historical cognitive aesthetic and non western approaches targets a wide range of topics including mathematics history religion and metaphysics This is a seminal volume on one of the most important topics in the humanities Modern English Fiction Gerald Bullett,1926 Victorian Fiction as a Bildungsroman Petru Golban,2019-09-30 Metaphorically speaking the nineteenth century English Bildungsroman dealing with the principle of identity formation parallels Victorian fiction as a whole revealing the completion of its own formation which began in the eighteenth century Significantly the most important and popular Victorian novels are Bildungsromane in which authors construct or rather reconstruct their own life experiences as formative processes This book shows that the Bildungsroman has a development history is a specific literary system and consists of a thematic and narrative pattern It details the entrance of this newly established fictional tradition into Victorian culture and literature through Carlyle s threefold literary reception of the novel of formation and its subsequent flourishing and complexity In this respect a number of novelistic works are scrutinized and each faces the question as to whether its thematic and narrative perspectives fit the pattern and shape of the Bildungsroman Discovering Classic Horror Fiction I Darrell Schweitzer,1992-12-01 The Change in Female Subjectivity in Women's Fiction Hasibe Ambarcıoğlu,2024-04-02 This book aims to provide readers with an inclusive reading of Kristevan theories on subjectivity focusing on semiotic and symbolic phases of the infant abjection melancholy love and revolution It presents three different types of novels from three well known female authors in order to study their female characters who are subjects in process trying to overcome their psychological maladies In each part different eras have been chosen to see how female subjectivity has changed throughout the Feminist Waves starting from the Victorian period until the Third Wave With its feminist stance this book is expected to appeal to the students researchers and academicians particularly those in the fields of sociocultural studies and literature Law, Literature, and the Transmission of Culture in England, 1837-1925 Cathrine O. Frank,2010 Focusing on the rhetoric of the last will and testament Cathrine O Frank examines novels alongside actual wills legal manuals case law and contemporary accounts of wills in periodicals Her analysis of works by such authors as Emily Bront Charles Dickens Wilkie Collins and John Galsworthy shows how these related discourses competed to structure a social order based on the self determining individual s relationship to a community and its commodified culture Realist Fiction and the Strolling Spectator (Routledge Revivals) John Rignall,2016-01-29 The classic realist text has long been derided by post structuralist critics as an unsophisticated and reactionary form In this study first published in 1992 John Rignall makes a powerful case for the rehabilitation of realism as a self aware and reflexive genre Using the novels of Scott Balzac Dickens George Eliot Flaubert James Ford and Conrad Rignall argues for an understanding of realism through the recurrent figure of the fl neur The fl neur is the strolling spectator whose problematic vision both of and in the novel makes him the representative figure of the realist text A significant contribution to the field this title will be of particular view to students of realism literary theory and comparative literature The Fiction of Narrative Hayden White,2010-06 For students and scholars of historiography the theory of history and literary studies Robert Doran French and comparative literature U of Rochester gathers together 23 previously uncollected essays written by theorist and historian Hayden White comparative literature Stanford U from 1957 to 2007 on his theories of historical writing and narrative Essays are organized chronologically and reveal the evolution of White s thought and its relationship to theories of the time as well as the impact on the way scholars think about historical representation the discipline of history and how historiography intersects with other areas especially literary studies They specifically address theory of tropes theory of narrative and figuralism The Awkward Age in Women's Popular Fiction, 1850-1900 Sarah Bilston,2004-07-22 This book demonstrates that the awkward age formed a fault line in Victorian female experience an unusual phase in which restlessness self interest and rebellion were possible Tracing evolving treatments of female adolescence though a host of long forgotten women s fictions the book reveals that representations of the girl in popular women s literature importantly anticipated depictions of the feminist in the fin de si cle New Woman writing conservative portrayals of girls hopes dreams and subsequent frustrations helped clear a literary and cultural space for the New Woman s awakening to disaffected consciousness The book thus both historicises the evolution and mythic appeal of the female adolescent and works to receive suggestive exchanges between apparently diverse female literary traditions
