Fifty Years of Naval Tugs Bill Hannon, 1986-01-01      Home of the Fleet Stephen Courtney, Brian Patterson, 2009-03-10

During the past century the Royal Navy and its support services at Portsmouth dockyard have experienced a pace of change not seen since the fifteenth century This book examines the impact of that change on the ships buildings and personnel of the naval base The dockyard has evolved continually as a support service reinventing itself in response to changing social economic and political circumstances The authors look at the dockyard s role in times of conflict from the First World War to the 1991 Gulf War and consider the effects of privatisation and cutbacks Portsmouth is now ready to meet the challenges of the twenty first century when it will be the Royal Navy s premier base Richly illustrated with photographs from the Royal Naval Museum and Historic Dockyard collections and exclusive newly commissioned photographs Home of the Fleet will appeal to anyone who is interested in Britain s naval heritage

The Tattie Lads Ian Dear, 2016-06-02 Enduring great danger and often terrible conditions in heavy seas the Rescue Tug Services worked tirelessly to bring to port damaged vessels and keep up the supply of food and essential items during two world wars They were first deployed towards the end of the First World War to support and if necessary to salvage merchant shipping that had been damaged by U boat attacks During the Second World War they were needed even more urgently when ships bringing food and other essential supplies to a beleaguered Britain were attacked by both air strikes and submarines Although part of the Royal Navy the contribution of the Rescue Tug Service remained curiously absent from the naval history of the Second World War Yet the Service had developed what a wartime American newspaper called a new type of naval vessel the British fighting escort tug and had saved millions of tons of shipping both warships and merchant ships not to mention the crews and the precious cargoes The official history of the Merchant Navy did not mention the Service either nor did numerous other books on the war at sea In 2014 author Ian Dear was given access to the archives of the Deep Sea Rescue Tug Service which were about to be disbanded His research here and elsewhere produced a view of the war at sea from an entirely new angle The result The Tattie Lads explores why the service might have been omitted from the official story and reveals its fascinating history in a full length book for the first time

The Fourth Force Geoff Puddefoot, 2010-03-10 Set up in August 1905 the Royal Fleet Auxiliary was originally a logistic support organization part of the Navy proper but run on civilian lines comprising a miscellaneous and very unglamorous collection of colliers store ships and harbor craft Just over a century later it has evolved beyond recognition its ships compare in size cost and sophistication with all but the largest warships and the RFA itself has developed into an essential arm of all three Services It is truly the Fourth Force as it is known to its own personnel and without it the current worldwide deployment of British service men and women would be simply impossible This book charts the veritable revolution that has overtaken the RFA since the end of the Second World War New technology and techniques reflect the rapid growth in the importance of logistics in modern warfare while the broadening role of the RFA is to be seen in the history of its operations many of them little known to the public Woven together from a combination of technical ship data official correspondence and personal recollections it is predominantly about the men and women of the RFA and their stories an insight into the underreported history of a service whose initials unofficially translate as Ready For Anything

The Portsmouth Dockyard Story Dr Paul Brown, 2018-09-24 From muddy creek to naval industrial powerhouse from constructing wooden walls to building Dreadnoughts from maintaining King John's galleys to servicing the enormous new Queen Elizabeth class aircraft carriers this is the story of Portsmouth Dockyard Respected maritime historian Paul Brown's unique 800 year history of what was once the largest industrial organisation in the world is a combination of extensive original research and stunning images The most comprehensive history of the dockyard to date it is sure to become the definitive work on this important heritage site and modern naval base

Pendant Numbers of the Royal Navy Ben Warlow, Steve Bush, 2022-07-08 Pendant or pennant numbers have been used by individual ships of the Royal Navy for purposes of identification for more than 100 years They were also used in all the navies of the British Empire so that ships could be easily transferred from one navy to another without changing her number They offer the simplest and clearest way to identify a ship but until now there has been little in the way of consistent and accurate information and certainly no single location where you can look up or research complete pendant numbers The book is designed as an easy to use reference work and as such is in the main composed of alpha numeric listings to enable the user to find and identify warships by reference to ship name and to identify specific pendant numbers assigned to that name or by pendant number to identify specific vessels assigned that number at various times It begins with an introduction and a brief history of visual signalling used by the Royal Navy before industrialisation and explains how the large numbers of identical ships being built brought about the need to identify specific ships within fleets to aid signalling and tactical deployment There follow chapters covering the pendant numbers of the surface fleet and submarines which stopped using them once boats began to spend so little time on the surface and then pendant numbers by ship name A significant chapter lists the pendant numbers assigned to the British Pacific Fleet during the Pacific campaign of WWII together with an explanation of why numbers were assigned and an examination of missing A series pendants known to have been carried by some vessels during the conflict The BPF numbers have only recently come to light and there is still much that is not known but this section provides the most comprehensive study of available data at this time There is also an appendix covering deck letters assigned to aviation capable ships This is a genuinely new and significant reference book and is destined to become a major new aid for Royal Navy warship and auxiliary identification

Britain's Historic Ships Paul Brown, 2016-10-06 The British Isles have a long rich and celebrated seafaring history stretching from the earliest times through the victories of Drake and Nelson the voyages of discovery of Cabot and Cook and the defence of the realm by vessels of all types in the present century Much of this history is recorded in literature and in museums but reaches its most tangible form in the large number of historical ships that have been preserved and are continually restored as monuments to a proud past This lavish book explores 20 of the most celebrated and accessible ships and offers a comprehensive history of each vessel s design construction active service and subsequent restoration and preservation Presented in order of each ship s launch date each entry is written by the acknowledged expert on a particular vessel gives full specification details and is sumptuously illustrated with contemporary photographs historical illustrations and a full set of scale plans In addition to the featured entries an appendix presents all of the necessary contact details and opening times where applicable The appendix also lists and provides details for other vessels of historical importance including a small number of working replicas such as the Matthew and the recently commissioned eighteenth century frigate The Grand Turk featured in the recent Hornblower television series Principal vessels include Mary Rose HMS Victory HMS Trincomalee SS Great Britain Cutty Sark RRS Discovery HMS Warrior HMS Belfast HMY Britannia HMS Alliance HMS Cavalier Gypsy Moth IV and HMS Plymouth
