Matisse's Poets Kathryn Brown, 2017-09-21

Throughout his career Henri Matisse used imagery as a means of engaging critically with poetry and prose by a diverse range of authors Kathryn Brown offers a groundbreaking account of Matisse's position in the literary cross currents of 20th century France and explores ways in which reading influenced the artist's work in a range of media This study argues that the livre d'artiste became the privileged means by which Matisse enfolded literature into his own idiom and demonstrated the centrality of his aesthetic to modernist debates about authorship and creativity By tracing the compositional and interpretive choices that Matisse made as a painter print maker and reader in the field of book production this study offers a new theoretical account of visual art's capacity to function as a form of literary criticism and extends debates about the gendering of 20th century bibliophilia Brown also demonstrates the importance of Matisse's self placement in relation to the French literary canon in the charged political climate of the Second World War and its aftermath Through a combination of archival resources art history and literary criticism this study offers a new interpretation of Matisse's artist's books and will be of interest to art historians literary scholars and researchers in book history and modernism

The Mediatization of the Artist Rachel Esner, Sandra Kisters, 2018-01-31

This book offers trans historical and trans national perspectives on the image of the artist as a public figure in the popular discourse and imagination Since the rise of notions of artistic autonomy and the simultaneous demise of old systems of patronage from the late eighteenth century onwards artists have increasingly found themselves confronted with the necessity of developing a public persona In the same period new audiences for art discovered their fascination for the life and work of the artist The rise of new media such as the illustrated press photography and film meant that the needs of both parties could easily be satisfied in both words and images Thanks to these new media the artist was transformed from a simple producer of works of art into a public figure The aim of this volume is to reflect on this transformative process and to study the specific role of the media themselves Which visual media were deployed to what effect and with what kind of audiences in mind How did the artist critic photographer and filmmaker interact in the creation of these representations of the artist's image
