Ibn Battuta In Black Africa World History:

Ibn Battuta in Black Africa Ibn Batuta, Said Hamdun, Noel Quinton King, 2005 An important document about Black Africa written by a non European medieval historian He wrote disapprovingly of sexual integration in families and of hostility toward the white man His description is a document of the high culture pride and independence of Black African states in the fourteenth century

Seven Myths of Africa in World History David Northrup, 2017-09-01 Northrup s highly accessible book breaks through the most common barriers that readers encounter in studying African history Each chapter takes on a common myth about Africa and explains both the sources of the myth and the research that debunks it These provocative chapters will promote lively discussions among readers while deepening their understanding of African and world history The book is strengthened by its incorporation of actors and issues representing the African diaspora and African Americans in particular Rebecca Shumway College of Charleston

Slavery in the History of Muslim Black Africa Humphrey J. Fisher, 2001-08 Utilizing the accounts of observers and those who participated in the institution of slavery slavers travellers and slaves themselves and the records kept by the judicial institutions of Islam Fisher African history U of London explores the political religious economic and social forces surrounding the growth and legitimization of the institution of slavery in Muslim Africa from the 10th century to the 19th century He explains how the institution differed in nature and harshness both geographically and across time offering stories where slaves were relatively well treated and rose to prominent places in society as well as stories in which slaves were treated brutally and often rebelled Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

World History in Documents Peter N. Stearns, 2008-04-15 While world history materials date back to prehistoric times the field itself is relatively young Indeed when the first edition of Peter Stearns s best selling World History in Documents was published in 1998 world history was poised for explosive growth with the College Board approving the AP world history curriculum in 2000 and the exam shortly thereafter At the university level survey world history courses are increasingly required for history majors and graduate programs in world history are multiplying in the U S and overseas World events have changed as rapidly as the field of world history itself making the long awaited second edition of World History in Documents especially timely In addition to including a new preface focusing on current trends in the field Stearns has updated forty percent of the textbook paying particular attention to global processes throughout history The book also covers key events that have altered world history since the publication of the first edition including terrorism global consumerism and environmental issues

History in Black Yaacov Shavit, 2013-11-12 The development of Afrocentric historical writing is explored in this study which traces this recording of history from the Hellenistic Roman period to the 19th century Afrocentric writers are depicted as searching for the unique primary source of culture from one period to the next Such passing on of cultural traits from the ancient model from the classical period to the origin of culture in Egypt and Africa is shown as being a product purely of creative history

1420-AD 1804 David Eltis, Stanley L. Engerman, Keith R. Bradley, Paul Cartledge, Seymour Drescher, 2011-07-25 The various manifestations of coerced labour between the opening up of the Atlantic world and the formal creation of Haiti

A History of Race in Muslim West Africa, 1600-1960 Bruce S. Hall, 2011-06-06 The mobilization of local ideas about racial difference has been important in generating and intensifying civil wars that have occurred since the end of colonial rule in all of the countries that straddle the southern edge of the Sahara Desert From Sudan to Mauritania the racial categories deployed in contemporary conflicts often harken back to an older history in which blackness could be equated with slavery and non blackness with predatory and uncivilized banditry This book traces the development of arguments about race over a period of more than 350 years in one important place along the southern edge of the Sahara Desert the Niger Bend in northern Mali Using Arabic documents held in Timbuktu as well as local colonial sources in French and oral interviews Bruce S Hall reconstructs an African intellectual history of race that long predated colonial conquest and which has continued to orient inter African relations ever since

Muslim Societies in African History David Robinson, 2004-01-12 Examining a series of processes Islamization Arabization Africanization and case studies from North West and East Africa this book gives snapshots of Muslim societies in Africa over the last millennium In contrast to traditions which suggest that Islam did not take root in Africa author David Robinson shows the complex struggles of Muslims in the Muslim state of Morocco and in the Hausaland region of Nigeria He portrays the ways in which Islam was practiced in the pagan societies of Ashanti Ghana and Buganda Uganda and in the ostensibly Christian state of Ethiopia beginning with the first emigration of Muslims from Mecca in 615 CE well before the foundational hijra to Medina in 622 He concludes with chapters on the Mahdi and Khalifa of the Sudan and the Murid Sufi movement that originated in Senegal and reflections in the wake of the events of September 11 2001

Journeys to the Other Shore Roxanne L. Euben, 2008-07-01 The contemporary world is increasingly defined by dizzying flows of people and ideas But while Western travel is associated with a pioneering spirit of discovery the dominant image of Muslim mobility is the jihadi who travels not to learn but to destroy Journeys to the Other Shore challenges these stereotypes by charting the common ways in which Muslim and Western travelers negotiate the dislocation of travel to unfamiliar and strange worlds In Roxanne Euben's groundbreaking excursion across cultures geography history genre and genders travel signifies not only a physical movement across lands and cultures but also an imaginative journey in which wonder about those who live differently makes it possible to see the world differently In the book we meet not only Herodotus but also Ibn Battuta the fourteenth century Moroccan traveler Tocqueville's journeys are set against a five year sojourn in nineteenth century Paris by the Egyptian writer and translator Rifa'a Rafi al-Tahtawi and Montesquieu's novel Persian Letters meets with the memoir of an East African princess Sayyida Salme This extraordinary book shows that curiosity about the unknown the quest to understand foreign cultures critical distance from one's own world and the desire to remake the foreign into the familiar are not the monopoly of any single civilization or epoch Euben demonstrates that the fluidity of identities cultures and borders associated with our postcolonial globalized world has a long history one shaped not only by Western power but also by an Islamic ethos of travel in search of knowledge

Africa in World History Erik Gilbert, Jonathan T. Reynolds, 2004 This groundbreaking text is the first to examine Africa in the wider context of world history The authors show that Africans not only have shaped their own destiny but also have played a central role in a number of grand narratives of global history In doing so the text encourages readers to reconsider many popular or oversimplified myths regarding Africa and Africans and to explore the many issues controversies and debate within the field of African study With numerous maps full color photos primary sources timelines and a lively engaging narrative Africa in World History is as vibrant and multifaceted as the continent itself

Smith,2008 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe Historians have investigated womens daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes The Encyclopedia contains over 1 250 signed articles arranged in an A Z format for ease of use The entries cover six main areas biographies geography and history comparative culture and society including adoption abortion performing arts organizations and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune womens and gender studies and topics in world history that include slave trade globalization and disease With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts this reference work is sure to be a valued go to resource for scholars college and high school students and general readers alike African Dominion Michael A. Gomez, 2019-08-27 In a radically new account of the importance of early Africa in global history Gomez traces how Islam's growth in West Africa along with intensifying commerce that included slaves resulted in a series of political experiments unique to the region culminating in the rise of empire Journeys to the Other Shore Euben, 2007-09 Dissolving Master Narratives Laura Doyle, Simon Gikandi, Mwangi wa Githinji, 2025-04-10

Dissolving Master Narratives comprises one volume in an unprecedented three volume set collectively subtitled Decolonial Reconstellations Together with Volume One Dynamics of Deep Time and Deep Place and Volume Three Reconceiving Identities in Political Economy it gathers thinkers from across world regions and disciplines who reconfigure critical global thought Collaboratively conceived the volumes are founded on the observation that we cannot fully uproot the epistemological material violence of coercive systems nor fully re-imagine more ethical visions of planetary community without shared attention to the deeper histories of place and peoples that shape the present Accordingly the volumes gather social scientists and humanists Indigenous and non-Indigenous scholars and intersectional and materialist thinkers who reconceptualize longue durée history and its afterlives They engage in the dual project to dismantle eurocentric colonial androcentric frameworks and to make visible the legacies of care and creative world making that have sustained human communities Uncovering pasts that are as complex and dynamic as the present the contributors brilliantly transform notions of temporality relationality polity conjuncture resistance and experimentation within histories of struggle and alliance They richly decolonize political imaginaries The co-editors' introductions articulate fresh frameworks of deep place and deep time freed from eurocentric modernity paradigms indicating pathways toward decolonial collaboration and institutional change Decolonial Reconstellations offers invaluable resources for researchers and teachers in decolonial postcolonial anti-colonial and Indigenous studies and will also strongly appeal to feminist anti-racist Marxist and critical theory scholars across disciplines Cultural Sociology of the Middle East, Asia, and Africa Andrea L. Stanton, Edward Ramsamy, Peter J. Seybolt, Carolyn M. Elliott, 2012-01-05 In our age of globalization and multiculturalism it has never been more important for Americans to understand and appreciate foreign cultures and how people live love and learn in areas of the world unfamiliar to most U.S. students and the general public The four volumes in our cultural sociology reference encyclopedia take a step forward in this endeavor by presenting concise information on those regions likely to be most foreign to U.S. students the Middle East Asia and Africa The intent is to convey what daily life is like for people in these selected regions It is hoped entries within these volumes will aid readers in efforts to understand the importance of cultural sociology to appreciate the effects of cultural forces around the world and to learn the history of countries and cultures within these important regions
