Tactical Communications for the Digitized Battlefield Michael J. Ryan, Michael R. Frater, 2002 Traditional tactical communications systems consist of a number of separate subsystems with little interworking between them and with external sensors and weapons systems Combat net radio CNR has provided the high mobility communications required by combat troops while trunk communications systems have provided high capacity communications between headquarters at the expense of mobility The focus of this book is on new information age technologies that promise to offer seamless integration of real time data sharing creating a single logical network architecture to facilitate the movement of data throughout the battlespace Because the structure of this network is constrained by the fundamental trade off between range mobility and capacity that applies to all communications systems this network is unlikely to be based on a single network technology This book presents an architecture for this network and shows how its subsystems can be integrated to form a single logical network

TELECOMMUNICATION SWITCHING SYSTEMS AND NETWORKS THIAGARAJAN VISWANATHAN, MANAV BHATNAGAR, 2015-01-08 The rapid expansion of the field of telecommunication networks call for a new edition to assist the readers with development of understanding towards new telecommunication technologies This well accepted textbook now in its Second Edition is designed for the final year undergraduate and the first year graduate students in electronics and communication engineering and allied subjects It fulfils the need for a suitable textbook in the area of telecommunication switching systems and networks The text covers in a single volume both switching systems and telecommunications networks The book begins with a brief discussion on the evolution of telecommunication It then goes on to give a classification scheme for switching systems and describes the basic components of a switching system and the fundamental concepts of network structures It provides an in depth coverage of fibre optic communication system and the traffic engineering concepts A distinguishing feature of the book is the thorough treatment of the most important telecommunication networks viz the public switched telephone network PSTN the public data network PDN and the
