Fifteen-minute tales Enid Blyton, 1936 Fifteen-minute Tales Enid Blyton, 1950 Fifteen-minute Tales ... for Children Enid Blyton, 1936 An Adventure in the Upper Sea: A 15-Minute Tale of Terror Jack London, I am a retired captain of the upper sea That is to say when I was a younger man I was a balloonist Naturally it is a hazardous profession and naturally I have had many thrilling experiences The most thrilling or at least the most nerve racking is the one I am about to tell you Before you can understand what happened I must first explain a bit about the nature of the hot air balloon that is used for parachute jumping If you have ever witnessed such a jump you will remember that as soon as the parachute was cut loose the balloon turned upside down It emptied itself of its smoke and heated air flattened out and fell straight down beating the parachute to the ground Thus there is no chasing a big deserted bag for miles and miles across the country saving much time as well as trouble This maneuver is accomplished by attaching a weight at the end of a long rope to the top of the balloon The aeronaut with his parachute and trapeze hangs from the bottom of the balloon His weight keeps it right side down When he jumps the weight attached to the top immediately drags the top down The bottom which is the open mouth goes up and the heated air pours out The weight used for this purpose on the Little Nassau was a bag of sand Imagine my horror when I discovered a child hanging from the bag at 100 feet above the ground Find out what happens to the child in this 15 minute adventure Ages 8 and up Educational Versions Include exercises designed to meet Common Core Standards LearningIsland.com believes in the value of children practicing reading for 15 minutes every day Our 15 Minute Books give children lots of fun exciting choices to read from classic stories to mysteries to books of knowledge Many books also work well as hi lo readers Open the world of reading to a child by having them read for 15 minutes a day Twenty Minute Tales George Gorden, 1901 Thirty-Minute Tales Cara Ward, Fourteen short stories about people Strangers Friends Loved Unloved Broken Healed Good Bad Thirty minutes Five Minute Tales ; Ten Minute Tales ; Fifteen Minute Tales Enid Blyton, 1933 Enid Blyton Andrew Maunder, 2021-12-02 This book is a study of the best selling writer for children Enid Blyton 1897 1968 and provides a new account of her career It draws on Blyton's business correspondence to give a fresh account of a misunderstood figure who for forty years was one of Britain's most successful and powerful authors It examines Blyton's rise to fame in the 1920s and considers the ways in which she managed her career as a storyteller journalist and magazine editor There is discussion of her most famous series including the Famous Five the Secret Seven Malory Towers and Noddy but attention is also given to lesser known works including the family stories she published to acclaim in the 1940s and early 1950s as well as her attempts to become a dramatist The book also discusses Blyton's fluctuating critical reputation how she and her works were received and how Blyton the person has fared at the hands of biographers and the media A Forest on Fire: A 15-Minute Tale of Terror Audubon, We were sound asleep one night in our lonely prairie cabin Our horses and cattle were ranging quietly in the woods The fire in the fireplace was dying down slowly but the coals still kept our single room nice and warm Snuggled within the blankets we knew nothing of what was happening outside Suddenly about two hours before day the snorting of our horses and lowing of our cattle awoke us I took my rifle and went to the door to see what beast had caused the hubbub I expected to see the shadow of a wolf or a bear coming near I could only wish it was one of those I stepped outside with my rifle cocked and that s when I was struck by the glare of light reflected on all the trees before me The light carried as far as I could see through the woods Read of how this brave pioneer family saved themselves from a deadly fire that swept through their area Educational Versions Include exercises designed to meet Common Core Standards LearningIsland com believes in the value of children practicing reading for 15 minutes every day Our 15 Minute Books give children lots of fun exciting choices to read from classic stories to mysteries to books of knowledge Many books also work well as hi lo readers Open the world of reading to a child by having them read for 15 minutes a day stories those that came when she was letting her mind go free Enid Blyton: The Biography Barbara Stoney, 2011-08-26

Enid Blyton is known throughout the world for her imaginative children's books and her enduring characters such as Noddy and the Famous Five. She is one of the most borrowed authors from British libraries and still holds a fascination for readers old and young alike. Yet until 1974 when Barbara Stoney first published her official biography little was known about this most private author even by members of her own family. The woman who emerged from Barbara Stoney's remarkable research was hardworking, complex, often difficult and in many ways childlike. Now this widely praised classic biography has been fully updated for the twenty-first century and with the addition of new colour illustrations and a comprehensive list of Enid Blyton's writings documents the growing appeal of this extraordinary woman throughout the world. The fascinating story of one of the world's most famous authors will intrigue and delight all those with an interest in her timeless books.

Who's who, 1943 Young People, Learning and Storytelling Emma Parfitt, 2018-11-19 This book explores the lives of young people through the lens of storytelling. Using extensive qualitative and empirical data from young people's conversations following storytelling performances in secondary schools in the UK, the author considers the benefits of stories and storytelling for learning and the subsequent emotional, behavioural and social connections to story and other genres of narrative. Storytelling has both global and transnational relevance in education as it allows individuals to compare their experiences to others; young people learn through discussion that their opinions matter, that they are both similar to and different from their peers. This in turn can facilitate the development of critical thinking skills as well as encouraging social learning, co-operation and cohesion. Drawing upon folklore and literary studies as well as sociology, philosophy, youth studies and theatre, this volume explores how storytelling can shape the lives of young people through storytelling projects. This reflective and creative volume will appeal to students and scholars of storytelling, youth studies and folklore. The Devotional Tales Nick Shelton, 2004-12 Cancer's Seeming Madness is about David, a forty-three-year-old agnostic son who, during his cancerous terminal illness as he was searching for truth, described his bewilderment as seeming madness. This book will help persons confronted with the mystery of suffering and death, especially when the issues are personified as they impinge on their own lives or on the lives of ones loved. The book is unique in its focus on moments of humor and deep interpersonal relationships. David's own words and actions mollify somewhat the vivid portrayal of his search for truth and meaning. Is there a God who speaks to us through the natural world and circumstances rarely identified with spiritual truth? Does the old word providence, often associated with Biblical belief, have any meaningful place in a world where science and technology seem to reign supreme? Can we see the face of God in art and feel a divine presence in human relationships? You'll likely be surprised by the answers that David and those close to him found as they caught a glimpse of the Spirit at work through their tears and laughter. Perhaps as you read Cancer's Seeming Madness, the mystery of life will begin to open like a flower in spring and you will see the colors of peace, purpose and hope as signs of God's presence nurtured by insights in this
