Before the Borderless Dean Rader, Cy Twombly, 2023-04-25 Winner of the T S Eliot Poetry Prize Dean Rader reaches beyond artistic description to engage Twombly's work in conversation In 2018 just a few weeks after his father's death Dean Rader made a pilgrimage to the Gagosian Gallery in New York to see a retrospective of Cy Twombly's work In Beauty It is Finished Drawings 1951-2008 The exhibit led to a poem that would become the genesis of this book from loss and fear to regret and beauty Before the Borderless The Cy Twombly Cycle reaches for the embodiment of emotion and the aesthetics of possibility Through a range of experimental forms including a series of octets Rader writes to decode the gestures and energies in Twombly's drawings and paintings He reaches past observation and admiration to create a game of echolocation reflecting Twombly's infinite scrawls as saddle stitch spaghetti curl white whirl Even as Rader searches for proximity examining the gaps between symbols and what they signify the collection remains unmistakably autobiographical From the wheatfields of his Western Oklahoma upbringing to questions of loss first his father and then his mother who passed only weeks after Rader finished the manuscript for this book the poems in Before the Borderless are both elegy and prayer for Rader's parents for his children for the world Blurring the distinction between canvas and page Twombly's work often includes lines of poetry from many of the authors who shaped Rader's work John Keats Sappho Federico Garcia Lorca and Rainer Maria Rilke As Rader's poems are paired with 50 color images of Twombly's paintings and drawings the line between looking and reading is blurred Before the Borderless awakens in the space between language and silence to pose provocative questions about art and its power to heal

Naming the Gods Gary D. Astrachan, 2019-11-29 Naming the Gods Cy Twombly s Passionate Poiesis concerns itself with the contemporary art work of Cy Twombly as seen against the deep background of classical Greek mythology In particular the two entwined figures and images of Orpheus lyre player lover and journeyer to the underworld and Dionysos Bacchus god of wine ecstasy and madness are taken up as the two principal thematic leitmotifs which animate and overarchingly inform Twombly s entire artistic oeuvre across all the mediums in which he worked both literally and symbolically from the early 1950 s until the last series of brilliantly colored paintings he made just before his death in 2011 His preoccupations with the rhythms of language poetry and writing on the one hand and his tendencies towards wildly expressive gestural abstraction on the other ultimately combine in his creation of a genuinely new and original performative aesthetic which unites and connects the powerful impulses of mark making painting and assembling with the basic human needs for individuation realization and redemption In a long and rich tradition of sublime poiesis spanning ancient Greek tragedy through Romanticism the poets Friedrich Hlderlin and Rainer Maria Rilke and into our own fragmented and imperiled postmodernist times Twombly s artistic corpus is viewed as providing a radically renovative relationship and practice for honoring working with and valorizing both psyche and matter the inner and outer worlds as well as with delimiting a uniquely germinative and seminal space for the further enactment of creative human doing making producing and being in reciprocal and intimate relationship with the otherness of things nature and the environment Gary D Astrachan Ph D is a clinical psychologist and Jungian psychoanalyst in private practice in Portland Maine He is a faculty member and supervising and training analyst at the C G Jung Institutes in Boston and in Switzerland and lectures and teaches widely throughout North America Latin America and Europe He is a founding member of the C G Jung Center of Brunswick Maine and is also an independent curator of contemporary art installations and exhibitions He is the author of numerous scholarly articles in professional journals and books and writes particularly on the relationship between analytical psychology and Greek mythology poetry painting film postmodernism and critical theory

The Letter and the Cosmos Laurence de Looze, 2016-08-04 From our first ABCs to the Book of Revelation s statement that Jesus is the Alpha and Omega we see the world through our letters More than just a way of writing the alphabet is a powerful concept that has shaped Western civilization and our daily lives In The Letter and the Cosmos Laurence de Looze probes that influence showing how the alphabet has served as a lens through which we conceptualize the world and how the world and sometimes the whole cosmos has been perceived as a kind of alphabet itself Beginning with the ancient Greeks he traces the use of alphabetic letters and their significance from Plato to postmodernism offering a fascinating tour through Western history A sharp and entertaining examination of how languages letterforms orthography and writing tools have reflected our hidden obsession with the alphabet The Letter and the Cosmos is illustrated with copious examples of the visual and linguistic phenomena which de Looze describes Read it and you ll never look at the alphabet the same way again Beyond Suspicion Marc Chenetier, 1996-01-29 Selected by Choice magazine as an Outstanding Academic Book for 1996 Literary Heterogenesis Noëlle Batt, 2024-08-24 This book advances a new interdisciplinary approach that engages with the concepts of science and literature through the mediation of philosophy with a focus on the ideas of Gilbert Simondon and Gilles Deleuze It investigates in innovative ways the multifaceted dimensions of creation of genesis considered here in artistic and mathematical terms as heterogenesis The dialogic interaction among the three domains generates a renewed analysis of poems selected in the work of particularly inventive poets both French and American Emily Dickinson e e cummings and Francis Ponge as well as the artwork of Pierre Soulages Anna Eva Bergman and Cy Twombly Literary Heterogenesis Diagrammatic Dynamics The Interplay of the Virtual and the Actual will interest specialists of mathematics physics literary theory and criticism philosophy and epistemology It will also attract any curious mind drawn to the bridging of disciplines and the concepts of the two cultures Grand Tour Elisa Gonzalez, 2023-09-19 Elisa Gonzalez s thrilling debut makes one feel as if poems have never before been written Louise Glück Grand Tour the debut collection of poetry by Elisa Gonzalez dramatizes the mind in motion as it grapples with something more than an event she writes of a whole life to transcendent effect By the end we feel we have been witness to a poet remaking herself Gonzalez s poetry depicts the fullness of living There are the small moments white wine greening in a glass trumpet blossoms panicking across the garden Some poems adopt the oracular quality of a parable but invariably refuse a clear moral The poet moves through elegy romantic and sexual encounters family history and place Cyprus Puerto Rico Poland Ohio all constellated in a chaos of faraway The collection is held together less by answers than by a persistent question How do you reconcile a hatred for the world s pain with a love for that same world which is indivisible from its worst aspects Gonzalez s poems draw us nearer to our own aliveness its fragility and sustaining questions Since I do love the world she says she keeps writing inviting us to accompany her as she searches Useless Magic Florence Welch,2018-07-10 Lyrics and never before seen poetry and sketches from the iconic musician of Florence and the Machine Songs can be incredibly prophetic like subconscious warnings or messages to myself but I often don t know what I m trying to say till years later Or a prediction comes true and I couldn t do anything to stop it so it seems like a kind of useless magic Dialogues with Degas Kathryn Brown,2023-12-14 Dialogues with Degas demonstrates the ongoing relevance of Edgar Degas to 20th and 21st century ideas and art practices The first in depth examination of this major artist s impact on contemporary art this book explores how contemporary practitioners have used Degas s creativity as a springboard to engage imaginatively and critically with themes of colonialism gender race and class Individual chapters are devoted to dialogues between Degas s art and works produced by Frank Auerbach Cecily Brown Xinyi Cheng Ryan Gander Maggi Hambling Damien Hirst Howard Hodgkin Chantal Joffe Leon Kossoff R B Kitaj Juan Mu oz Paula Rego Jenny Saville Yinka Shonibare Cy Twombly and Rebecca Warren Through close analyses of selected paintings drawings prints and sculptures Kathryn Brown explores how Degas s technical and compositional experiments have been extended or challenged in innovative ways By experimenting with the materials and methods of existing works contemporary artists generate visual palimpsests that make new demands of the viewer and prompt a reconsideration of ideas that have informed histories of 19th century French art The book overturns familiar conceptions of influence by eschewing a genealogical approach and prioritizing instead the analysis of non linear encounters between artworks This encourages a new conception of the agency of visual artefacts and of the conversations they are capable of entertaining with each other While this study sheds new light on Degas s art and that of his interlocutors it also has methodological significance for the writing of art history
