supporters of the public library appeal      The Met Jonathan Conlin, 2024-10-22 New York City's Metropolitan Museum of Art is one of the world's greatest cultural institutions. Its holdings encompass a vast range including paintings, sculptures, costumes, instruments, and arms and armor and span millennia from ancient Egypt and Greece to Islamic art to European Old Masters and modern artists. How did the Met amass this trove and what do the experiences of the people who bought, restored, catalogued, visited, and watched over these works tell us about the museum? This book is a groundbreaking bottom-up history of the Metropolitan Museum of Art exploring both its triumphs and its failings. Jonathan Conlin tells the stories of the people who have shaped the museum from curators and artists to museumgoers and security guards and the communities that have made it their own. Highlighting inequalities of wealth, race, and gender, he exposes the hidden costs of the museum's reliance on robber barons and oligarchs, the exclusionary immigration policies that influenced the foundation of the American Wing, and the obstacles faced by women curators. Drawing on extensive interviews with past and current staff, Conlin brings the story up to the present, including the museum's troubled 150th anniversary in 2020. As the Met faces continued controversy, this book offers a timely account of the people behind an iconic institution and a compelling case for the museum's vision of shared human creativity.

Cuisine and Symbolic Capital Cheleen Mahar, 2010-05-11 This collection of interdisciplinary essays examines food as it mediates social relationships and self-presentation in a variety of international films and literature. Authors explore the ways that making, eating, and thinking about food reveals culture. In doing so, the essays highlight how food and foodways become a type of symbolic capital which influences the larger concern of cultural identity. Essays are organized into three central themes: Culinary Translations of Identity From Britain to China; Food as Metaphor in Contemporary German Writing; and Love, Feasting, and the Symbolic Power of Food in French Writing. Each essay investigates the uses of food as a way to apprehend cultural meaning. The essays presented provide theoretical templates for the study of food in a wide range of international film and literature.
