Blue Lake : a Novel Jeffrey D. Boldt, 2019 Creatures of Darkness Gene D. Phillips, 2021-03-17 An exhaustively researched survey of Raymond Chandler s thorny relationship with Hollywood during the classic period of film noir Alain Silver film producer and author Raymond Chandler s seven novels including The Big Sleep 1939 and The Long Goodbye 1953 with their pessimism and grim realism had a direct influence on the emergence of film noir Chandler worked to give his crime novels the flavor of his adopted city Los Angeles which was still something of a frontier town rife with corruption and lawlessness In addition to novels Chandler wrote short stories and penned the screenplays for several films including Double Indemnity 1944 and Strangers on a Train 1951 His work with Billy Wilder and Alfred Hitchcock on these projects was fraught with the difficulties of collaboration between established directors and an author who disliked having to edit his writing on demand Creatures of Darkness is the first major biocritical study of Chandler in twenty years Gene Phillips explores Chandler s unpublished script for Lady in the Lake examines the process of adaptation of the novel Strangers on a Train discusses the merits of the unproduced screenplay for Playback and compares Howard Hawks s director s cut of The Big Sleep with the version shown in theaters Through interviews he conducted with Wilder Hitchcock Hawks and Edward Dmytryk over the past several decades Phillips provides deeper insight into Chandler s sometimes difficult personality Chandler s wisecracking private eye Philip Marlowe has spawned a thousand imitations Creatures of Darkness lucidly explains the author s dramatic impact on both the literary and cinematic worlds demonstrating the immeasurable debt that both detective fiction and the neo noir films of today owe to Chandler s stark vision *The Lake Charr Salvelinus namaycush: Biology, Ecology, Distribution, and Management* Andrew M. Muir, Charles C. Krueger, Michael J. Hansen, Stephen C. Riley, 2021-03-03 The lake charr Salvelinus namaycush is a ubiquitous member of cold water lake ecosystems in previously glaciated regions of northern continental U S Alaska and Canada that often support important commercial recreational and subsistence fisheries The lake charr differs from other charrs by its large size longevity iteroparity top predator specialization reduced sexual dimorphism prevalence of lacustrine spawning and use of deepwater habitat The species is remarkably variable in phenotype physiology and life history some of which is reflected in its ecology and genetics with as many as four morphs or ecotypes co occurring in a single lake The lake charr is often the top predator in these systems but is highly adaptable trophically and is frequently planktivorous in small lakes The lake charr by their name highlights their common habitat lakes both large and small but often frequents rivers and occasionally moves into the Arctic Ocean Movement and behaviour of lake charr are motivated by access to cool well oxygenated water foraging opportunities predator avoidance and reproduction Owing to their broad distribution and trophic level the lake charr serves as a sentinel of anthropogenic change This volume will provide an up to date summary of what is currently known about lake charr from distribution to genetics to physiology to ecology The book provides a compilation and synthesis of available information on the lake charr beginning with an updated distribution and a revised treatment of the paleoecology of the species Understanding of ecological and genetic diversity and movement and behaviour of the species has advanced remarkably since the last major synthesis on the species over 40 years ago Mid sections of the book provide detailed accounts of the biology and life history of the species and later sections are devoted to threats to conservation and fishery management practices used to ensure sustainability A new standard lake charr specific terminology is also presented The book will be a valuable reference text for biologists around the world ecologists and fishery managers and of interest to the angling public

The Literary Protégées of the Lake Poets Dennis Low, 2016-03-09. Dennis Low's re-evaluation of the Lake Poets as mentors begins with the controversial premise that Robert Southey was one of the nineteenth century's greatest champions of women's writing. Together with Wordsworth and Coleridge, Low argues, Southey tried to end what he perceived to be the cultural decline of literature by nurturing the creative talents of many exceptional women writers. Drawing on 3,000 unpublished manuscripts in England, Scotland, and the United States, Low examines the lives and works of four of the Lake Poets' literary protégées: Caroline Bowles, Maria Gowen Brooks, Sara Coleridge, and Maria Jane Jewsbury. Though diverse in terms of their literary production, these women were united in their defiant efforts to write against an increasingly stagnant cultural milieu, and their negotiation wholeheartedly encouraged by their mentors of contemporary publishing mores. This scrupulously researched book is a valuable contribution to the study of little-known women writers and to our understanding of the literary and publishing environment of Britain in the 1820s and 1830s. Spider Lake Jeff Nania, 2021-04-03. A missing federal agent, suitcases full of cash, a secluded cabin in the woods: Spider Lake is no longer the peaceful retreat John Cabrelli needs to recover from gunshot wounds and start a new life. Knowing Cabrelli is a former law enforcement officer, the new chief of police recruits him to help untangle a string of strange events in the little town of Musky Falls. Cabrelli and a colorful team of local residents land in the center of a fast-paced action thriller with a surprise ending that's sure to make your head spin. Winner of the 2021 IPPY Awards for mysteries, Next Generation Indie Book Awards Finalist for best second novel, Winner of the 2021 Midwest Book Awards for cover design, Spider Lake is the second book in the Northern Lakes Mystery series. Nania again weaves a plot that is both believable and complex, reflecting real-world scenarios where bad guys ply their criminal trade wherever they can. Valerie Biel, award-winning author.
