Lancelot Et La Reine Du Graal:

The Interlace Structure of the Third Part of the Prose Lancelot Frank Brandsma, 2010 The intricate structure and the many different narrative threads of the Prose Lancelot are here skilfully analysed showing them to be a major new development in literary technique Thematically and as a narrative technique interlace the complex weaving together of many different story telling strands comes to its full development in the intriguing conclusion of the Prose Lancelot The Grail appears on the horizon and although Lancelot's love for Guenevere still makes him the best knight in the world it becomes clear that this very love disqualifies him from the Grail Quest Meanwhile the adventures of a myriad Arthurian knights continue to be followed This study explains how the interlace works and shows that it is the perfect vehicle for the relation of the events It discusses the division of the narrative into threads their interweaving convergence and divergence the gradual introduction of the Grail theme and its first climax the begetting of Galahad the distribution of information to the audience the use of dramatic irony and emotions and many other aspects of this major innovation in story telling technique Dr FRANK BRANDSMA is Senior Lecturer in Comparative Literature Middle Ages in the Department of Modern Languages at Utrecht University

Culture and the King Martin B. Shichtman, James P. Carley, 1994-01-01 This book focuses on how and why various cultures have appropriated the story of King Arthur It is about re vision how cultures alter inherited texts and are in turn changed by them and it deals with the ways in which various cultures have empowered the Arthurian legend so that power might be derived from it The authors suggest that the vitality of the Arthurian legend resides in its ability to be transformed and to transform in its potential for appropriation and use Culture and the King deals with issues of literature history art politics economics gender study and popular culture It crosses the boundaries traditionally erected around these disciplines and addresses emerging critical methodologies concerned with the poetics of culture

Text and Intertext in Medieval Arthurian Literature Norris J. Lacy, 2013-02-01 First published in 1996 Intertextuality the phenomenon is as old as literature itself And to medievalists in particular it was a critical commonplace long before the term was coined we have routinely recognized that during the Middle Ages texts consistently borrowed from one another and from the traditions they all shared Those borrowings can take the form of thematic echoes of the appropriation of characters and situations and even of direct citation This volume is a collection of essays discussing the intertextual dimensions of Arthurian literature

Du roi Arthur et de la légende du Graal comte Maurice Fleury, 1901

Courtly Love Undressed E. Jane Burns, 2014-07-09 Clothing was used in the Middle Ages to mark religious military and chivalric orders lepers and prostitutes The ostentatious display of luxury dress more specifically served as a means of self definition for members of the ruling elite and the courtly lovers among them In Courtly Love Undressed E Jane Burns unfolds the rich display of costly garments worn by amorous partners in literary texts and other cultural documents in the French High Middle Ages Burns reads through clothes in lyric romance and didactic literary works vernacular sermons and sumptuary laws to show how courtly attire is used to negotiate desire sexuality and symbolic space as well as social class Reading through clothes reveals that the expression of female desire so often effaced in courtly lyric and romance can be registered in the poetic deployment of fabric and adornment and that gender is often configured along a sartorial continuum rather than in terms of naturally derived categories of woman and man The symbolic identification of the court itself as a hybrid crossing place between Europe and the East also emerges through Burns s reading of literary allusions to the trade travel and pilgrimage that brought luxury cloth to France

Conjunctures ,2025-01-20 The Medieval Opus: Imitation, Rewriting and Transmission in the French Tradition ,1996

The Medieval Opus is a broad but detailed study of the art of imitation as rewriting that was practiced in medieval French texts and in texts in other languages influenced by French models It contains the proceedings of a symposium on this topic The volume will be of interest to scholars and students of medieval French as well as other medieval literatures influenced by French models The range of texts is broad from epic to romance and from lyric to late medieval lyric narrative genres The authors teach in a number of countries in Europe and North America and they represent a variety of approaches ages and critical perspectives on medieval rewriting Two major concepts inform the papers the bridge work and the specimen text The bridge work Tony Hunt s term refers here two works that have identifiable links to others and that by those links reveals something of the art of writing for both works Specimen texts are works representative of the art of imitation illustrated by the bridge works The proceedings move beyond the analysis of a general art of composition to investigate original rewriting in specific works that serve as specimen texts The goal of the proceedings has been to appreciate originality within the framework of the medieval art of literary writing Studies in Medieval French Language and Literature Sally Burch

North,1988 The Art of Medieval French Romance Douglas Kelly,1992-04-15 Douglas Kelly provides a comprehensive and historically valid analysis of the art of medieval French romance as the romancers themselves describe it He focuses on well known writers such as Chr tien de Troyes and Marie de France and also draws on a wide range of other sources prose romances non Arthurian romances thirteenth century verse romances and variant versions from the later Middle Ages Kelly is the first scholar to present the art of medieval romance to a modern audience through the interventions and comments of medieval writers themselves The book begins by examining the difficulties scholars perceive in medieval literature problems such as source and intertextuality structure in its manifold modern meanings and character psychology and individuality These issues frame Kelly s identification and discussion of all the known authorial interventions on the art and craft of romance Kelly s careful reconstruction of the art of romance based on the records left by the romancers themselves will be an invaluable resource and guide for all medievalists The Passing of Arthur Christopher Baswell,William Sharpe,2014-08-13 Originally published in 1988 this volume contains papers from and commissioned after The Passing of Arthur a conference on Medieval and Renaissance Studies in November 1986 No Arthurian story is experienced without some foreknowledge of its end which the text acknowledges through a complex range of methods This collection takes this as its point of origin suggesting that all such narratives concern the passing of Arthur even indirectly so the chapters not only look at the death of Arthur but the passing on and development of the Arthurian literature The figure of Arthur and the Round Table continues to fascinate contemporary readers This interesting collection presents a wide range of Arthurian studies approaches representing some of the vast scholarship on the genre Analele Universității București ,1998

"De sens rassis" ,2005-01-01 These articles are mainly concerned with medieval French literature particularly those areas in which the honorand of the volume Rupert T Pickens has distinguished himself Old French Arthurian romance Marie de France chanson de geste later poetry including Villon and the Occitan troubadour lyric Among the contributors are some of the most significant scholars from the U S A Canada France Switzerland and the U K working in Old French studies today The volume will be of interest to specialists in Old French Occitan and medieval literature generally Some of the articles deal with relatively unknown works and all are informed by current developments in medieval literary studies Medieval

Studies in Memory of Gertrude Schoepperle Loomis Roger Sherman Loomis,1927 Medieval Studies , The Legacy of Chrétien de Troyes II Norris J. Lacy,Douglas Kelly,Keith Busby,2023-03-20 Love and Death in Medieval

French and Occitan Courtly Literature Simon Gaunt,2006-02-16 Examines the association of love and death in medieval French and Occitan courtly literature using an approach informed by Lacanian psychoanalysis and Jacques Derrida Offers new readings of canonical authors and texts including Bernart de Ventadorn Jaufre Rudel Chr tien de Troyes Thomas s Tristan the Prose Lancelot the Tristan en prose La Mort le roi Artu Marie de France Le Chastelaine de Vergy Le Castelain deCouci and Le Roman de la Rose The Evolution of Arthurian Romance Beate Schmolke-Hasselmann,1998-05-28 This

1998 study serves as a contribution to both reception history examining the medieval response to Chr tien s poetry and genre history suveying the evolution of Arthurian verse romance in French It describes the evolutionary changes taking place between Chr tien s Eric et Enide and Froissart s Meliador the first and last examples of the genre and is unique in placing Chr tien s work not as the unequalled masterpieces of the whole of Arthurian literature but as the starting point for the history of the genre which can subsequently be traced over a period of two centuries in the French speaking world Beate Schmolke Hasselmann s study was first published in German in 1985 but her radical argument that we need urgently to redraw the lines on the literary and linguistic map of medieval Britain and France is only now being made available in English Between Courtly Literature and Al-Andaluz Michelle Reichert,2014-02-04 Chr tien de Troyes uses repeated

references to Spain throughout his romances despite past suggestions that they contain Mozarabic and Islamic themes and motifs these references have never been commented upon The book will demonstrate that these allusions to Spain occur at key moments in the romances and are often coupled with linguistic riddles which serve as roadmaps to the manner in which the romances are to be read These references and riddles seem to support the idea that some of their themes and motifs in Chr tien s romances are of Andalusí origin The book also analyzes Chr tien s notion of conjointure and shows it to be the intentional elaboration of a sort of Mischliteratur which integrates Islamic and Jewish themes and motifs as well as mystical alchemical symbolism into the standard religious and literary canons of his time The contrast afforded by Chr tien s use of irony and his subtle integration of this mati re d Orient into the standard canon constitutes a carefully veiled criticism of the social and moral conduct as well as spiritual beliefs of twelfth century Christian society the crusading mentality chivalric mores and even the notion of courtly love The primary interest of the book lies in the fact that it will be the first to comment upon and analyze Chr tien s references to Spain and the rich mati re d Orient in his romances while suggesting channels for its transmission through scholars merchants and religious houses from northern Spain to Champagne Arthurian

Literature ,2005 The Fall of Kings and Princes M. Victoria Guerin,1995 At the heart of the book is Mordred King Arthur s incestuous son shown by Guerin to be an integral part of the Arthurian tradition from the very beginning Mordred is seen as the tangible proof of the king s sin committed in all innocence in his youth but resulting in a living incarnation of evil who will kill his father on Salisbury Plain putting an end to the Arthurian world But in the early stages of Arthurian romance because this story cannot be told without the death of Arthur it cannot be told at all for Arthur s existence is the necessary condition of the genre the story of his death would entail authorial suicide and the impossibility of further literary creation Guerin argues that the authors of the texts examined in this study Chretien de Troyes s Le Chevalier de la Charrete and Le Conte du Graal and the anonymous Middle English Sir Gawain and the Green Knight deliberately use the medieval reader s extra textual knowledge of the Mordred story to create a second level of reading behind Lancelot Perceval and Gawain is the shadowy figure of Mordred never explicitly mentioned and the modern reader must learn to see this shadow in order fully to appreciate the authors purpose Taking into account this hidden framework not only sheds a surprising new light on these texts it also gives a convincing solution to the much discussed question of why Chretien left two of his romances Le Chevalier de la Charrete and Le Conte du Graal unfinished The first chapter which deals with Arthurian tragedy in the thirteenth century Prose Cycle is particularly timely as it coincides with the publication of the first English translation of the cycle to which Guerin s study serves as an excellent introduction
