Land Beyond The Rivers The Southern Suda:

South Sudan Douglas H. Johnson, 2016-11-15 Africa's newest nation has a long history. Often considered remote and isolated from the rest of Africa and usually associated with the violence of slavery and civil war, South Sudan has been an arena for a complex mixing of peoples, languages, and beliefs. The nation's diversity is both its strength and a challenge as its people attempt to overcome the legacy of decades of war to build a new economic, political, and national future. Most recent studies of South Sudan's history have a foreshortened sense of the past, focusing on current political issues, the recently ended civil war, or the ongoing conflicts within the country and along its border with Sudan. This brief but substantial overview of South Sudan's longue dure by one of the world's foremost experts on the region answers the need for a current, accessible book on this important country. Drawing on recent advances in the archaeology of the Nile Valley, new fieldwork, as well as classic ethnography and local and foreign archives, Johnson recovers South Sudan's place in African history and challenges the stereotypes imposed on its peoples. A History of South Sudan Øystein H. Rolandsen, M. W. Daly, 2016-07-04 South Sudan is the world's youngest independent country. This book provides a general history of the new country. War and Genocide in South Sudan Clémence Pinaud, 2021-02-15 Using more than a decade's worth of fieldwork in South Sudan, Clémence Pinaud here explores the relationship between predatory wealth accumulation, state formation, and a form of racism: extreme ethnic group entitlement that has the potential to result in genocide. War and Genocide in South Sudan traces the rise of a predatory state during civil war in southern Sudan and its transformation into a violent Dinka ethnocracy after the region's formal independence. That new state, Pinaud argues, waged genocide against non-Dinka civilians in 2013-2017. During a civil war that wrecked the region between 1983 and 2005, the predominantly Dinka Sudan People's Liberation Army (SPLA) practiced ethnically exclusive and predatory wealth accumulation. Its actions fostered extreme group entitlement and profoundly shaped the rebel state. Ethnic group entitlement eventually grew into an ideology of ethnic supremacy. After that war ended, the semi-autonomous state turned into a violent and predatory ethnocracy, a process accelerated by independence in 2011. The rise of exclusionary nationalism, a new security landscape, and inter-ethnic political competition contributed to the start of a new round of civil war in 2013, in which the recently founded state unleashed violence against nearly all non-Dinka ethnic groups. Pinaud investigates three campaigns waged by the South Sudan government in 2013, 2017, and concludes they were genocidal: they sought to destroy non-Dinka target groups. She demonstrates how the perpetrators' sense of group entitlement culminated in land grabs that amounted to a genocidal conquest, echoing the imperialist origins of modern genocides. Thanks to generous funding from TOME, the ebook editions of this book are available as Open Access volumes from Cornell Open, cornellpress.cornell.edu/cornell-open, and other repositories. South Sudan's Endless Sorrows Lul Gatkuoth Gatluak, 2023-11-28 About the Book In depth, comprehensive, and extensively researched, South Sudan's Endless Sorrows chronicles the complex history of South Sudan and its long, bitter struggle for freedom. South Sudan's long battle with colonization and invasion of foreign powers began as early as the twelfth century and has continued up until the twentieth century when the struggle for liberation came to a long period of bloody civil unrest and war To this day South Sudan still struggles to find its own identity voice and freedom With a devout love of his homeland and the people he holds dear Gatluak's history of South Sudan doubles as a heart wrenching plea for intervention compromise and peace in the country that has been ransacked by violence for centuries About the Author Lul Gatkuoth Gatluak is a South Sudanese American born in the Puldeng village near Bilpam at the border of South Sudan and Ethiopia Lul has always had a drive and passion for education after moving to the United States he received his high school diploma his associate's degree in Liberal Arts from Minneapolis Community and Technical College a bachelor of arts in Criminal Justice from Metropolitan State University with a minor in English and a bachelors of science in Communication Studies at Minnesota State University Mankato with a minor in Sociology Lul also hold a master's degree in Public Administration at Hamline University Besides this book Lul has also written several articles

A Linguistic History of Arabic Jonathan Owens,2006-05-11 A Linguistic History of Arabic presents a reconstruction of proto Arabic by the methods of historical comparative linguistics It challenges the traditional conceptualization of an old Classical language evolving into the contemporary Neo Arabic dialects Professor Owens combines established comparative linguistic methodology with a careful reading of the classical Arabic sources such as the grammatical and exegetical traditions He arrives at a richer and more complex picture of early Arabic language history than is current today and in doing so establishes the basis for a comprehensive linguistically based understanding of the history of Arabic The arguments are set out in a concise case by case basis making it accessible to students and scholars of Arabic and Islamic culture as well as to those studying Arabic and historical linguists

Water and Society Terje Tvedt,2015-12-22 Despite the central importance that water has held for civilizations both ancient and modern its social significance has made surprisingly little impact on our contemporary understanding of human history and development Dominant interpretations of the relationship between society and nature have remained water blind In Water and Society historian and leading water expert Terje Tvedt argues for a change that acknowledges the significant role played by water in societal development Reflecting his expertise as a geographer historian and a political scientist and drawing on his wide experience of water issues around the world Terje Tvedt's Water and Society provides a long overdue reappraisal of the relationship between water and society one that gives water its rightful place as central to any true understanding of human history and development

Shifting African Identities S. B. Bekker, Martine Dodds, Meshack M. Khosa, 2001 This volume is the second in the series Identity theory politics history It includes Neville Alexander's important study of the link between language and identity in South Africa

Playing Different Games Dereje Feyissa, 2011-07-01 Focusing on ethnicity and its relation to conflict this book goes beyond sterile debates about whether ethnic identities are natural or socially constructed Rather ethnic identity takes different forms Some ethnic boundaries are perceived by the actors themselves as natural while others are perceived to be permeable The argument is substantiated through a comparative analysis of ethnic identity formation and ethnic conflict among the Anywaa and the Nuer in the Gambella region of western Ethiopia The Anywaa and the Nuer are not just two ethnic groups but two kinds of ethnic groups Conflicts between the Anywaa and Nuer are explained with reference to three variables varying modes of identity formation competition over resources and differential incorporation into the state system

Ethiopia John Markakis, 2011 An historical overview of Ethiopia's transformation from a multicultural empire into a modern nation state Provides the gist of one scholar's knowledge of this country acquired over several decades The author of numerous works on Ethiopia Markakis presents here an overarching concise historical profile of a momentous effort to integrate a multicultural empire into a modern nation state The concept of nation state formation provides the analytical framework within which this process unfolds and the changes of direction it takes under different regimes as well as a standard for assessing its progress and shortcomings at each stage Over a century old the process is still far from completion and its ultimate success is far from certain In the author's view there are two major obstacles that need to be overcome two frontiers that need to be crossed to reach the desired goal The first is the monopoly of power inherited from the empire builders and zealously guarded ever since by a ruling class of Abyssinian origin The descendants of the people subjugated by the empire builders remain excluded from power a handicap that breeds political instability and violent conflict The second frontier is the arid lowlands on the margins of the state where the process of integration has not yet reached and where resistance to it is greatest Until this frontier is crossed the Ethiopian state will not have the secure borders that a mature nation state requires John Markakis is a political historian who has devoted a professional lifetime to the study of Ethiopia and its neighbours in the Horn of Africa He has published several books and many articles on this area Environmental Politics and Liberation in Contemporary Africa Mohamed Salih,1999-03-31 Nowadays the environment looms large in the analysis of conflict in developing societies and the precise role it plays is the subject of an ongoing debate The debate has moved on from the earlier but still popular notions of power struggles class struggles and ethnic conflicts to a perception of conflict as the product of intense group competition for resources Where the state controls the distribution of resources itself inevitably becomes party to conflicts whose bone of contention is access to state power as the most efficient means of gaining access to resources The resources in question are social health education transportation communication recreation etc and material land water housing jobs contracts licenses permits etc In parts of the world and especially in Africa diminishing resources and authoritarian state rule exacerbate group competition leading to political confrontation This is the line I have followed in analysing conflict in the Horn of Africa Markakis 1987 1998 Mohamed Salih's first contribution in this volume is to move the debate a step beyond this line which can be criticized as unduly materialist He does it by bringing culture into the realm of resources not only as a resource in itself but also as the agency that assigns natural resources their value Culture thus becomes a contextual element in conflict over resources whose value is culturally determined Pipilet Stanley Mogga Josephson (Lo-Nyawa), Ben Kei Daniel Motidyang (Lo-Nyawa),2012-11 The Kuku dialect is unique rich and dynamic To keep up to date with its ever changing trend we have put together this basic and handy book for all to grasp and converse with confidence in Kuku This first edition offers a number of words in Kuku with their English translations Though not claiming to be definitive this is a rare and important publication on Kuku dialect It also fulfills the basic demands of any traveler visiting Kajo Keji for the first time and it comes handy to all the Kuku children and adults in Diaspora In Defence of Britain's Middle Eastern Empire Timothy Paris,2015-10-30 T E Lawrence of Arabia described his war time chief as the perfect leader a man who worked by influence rather than by loud direction He was like water or permeating oil creeping silently and insistently through everything It was not possible to say where Clayton was and was not and how much really belonged to him This is the first biography of General Sir Gilbert Clayton 1875 1929 Britain's pre eminent man on the spot during the formative years of the modern Middle East Serving as a soldier administrator and diplomat in ten different Middle Eastern countries during a 33 year Middle Eastern career Clayton is best known as the Director of British Intelligence in Cairo during the Great War 1914 16 and as the instigator and sponsor of the Arab Revolt against the Turks Dedicated to the preservation of Britain's Middle Eastern empire Clayton came to realize that in the transformed post war world Britain could ill afford to control all aspects of the emerging nation states in the region In his work as adviser to the Egyptian government 1919 22 he advocated internal autonomy for the Egyptians while asserting Britain's vital imperial interests in the country As chief administrator in Palestine 1923 5 he sought to reconcile the Arabs to Britain's national home policy for the Jews and at the same time to solidify Britain's position as Mandatory power In Arabia Clayton negotiated the first post war treaties with the emerging power of Ibn Saud 1925 1927 but curtailed his designs on the British Mandates in Iraq and Transjordan And in Iraq where Clayton served as High Commissioner 1929 he backed Iraq s independence within the framework of the British Empire Indigenous Peacebuilding in South Sudan Winnifred Bedigen,2023-04-25 This book explores the indigenous peace cultures of the major ethnic groups in South Sudan Dinka Nuer Anuak and Acholi and analyses their contribution to resolving the civil war The book utilises qualitative narrative inquiry ethnographic methods to explore the indigenous institutions and customs customary laws beliefs and practices employed in resolving ethnic conflicts and argues for their application in civil war resolution This book contributes to the decolonial literature knowledge by discussing the subtle norms the role of youth women and elders the concepts of resilience and proximity and their significance in peacebuilding The book shows that for sustainable peace to happen subtle roles and disputants indigenous knowledge should be part of national peace negotiation strategies This book will interest NGOs students and scholars of indigenous knowledge women youth conflict and peacebuilding African Studies and Development in the Horn of Africa and sub Sahara regions

African state Ethiopia which itself was engaged in imperial expansion Although the chief competitors for the lake included the British Italians the French Russians and Ethiopians its colonial fate was decided by Great Britain and Ethiopia The role of Ethiopia as a late nineteenth century colonial power unfolds as Imperato provides unique insights and analyses of Ethiopian colonial policy and its effects on the peoples who inhabited the region of the lake As well as examining the political and diplomatic aspects of colonial competition for Lake Rudolf Quest for the Jade Sea focuses on the expeditions that traveled there Many of these were the field expressions of colonial policy others were undertaken in the interest of scientific and geographical discovery Whatever the impetus their success required courage and much suffering on the part of those who led them Whether as willing agents of larger colonial designs soldiers intent on promoting their military careers or explorers who wished to advance scientific knowledge expedition leaders left behind not only fascinating chronicles of their experiences and discoveries but also parts of the larger story of colonial competition around an East African lake

Crisis in the Horn of Africa Peter Woodward, 2012-10-05 The most dangerous corner of Africa is its north eastern Horn where instability reigns and terrorism thrives on the antagonisms of all its governments The Horn of Africa comprising Ethiopia Sudan and now South Sudan Somalia Djibouti Eritrea and stretching to include Kenya and Uganda is a pivotal geopolitical pressure point in world politics It stands at the hinge of Africa and the Middle East It was of vital interest to the superpowers during the Cold War attracting constant and unprofitable intervention In the post Cold War period regional political chaos including failed states terrorism and international piracy has struck the death blow to the ambitions of the International Community's New World Order The problems of the Horn political ideological religious and ethnic are compounded by natural disasters of widespread drought and famine and have invited intervention by governments and NGOs Tony Blair in his speech on the Doctrine of the International Community referred to the suffering of Africa as a scar on the conscience of humanity But the New World Order's aim of good governance free elections a free press independent judiciary recognition of human rights gender equality and effective government free of corruption seems as far off as ever Of the many striking examples perhaps Somalia stands out as a failed state and predatory state to the majority of its peoples and as a seat of international terror and a society which has even spawned the present scourge of international piracy International attention on the Horn is not limited to altruism in face of suffering with the burgeoning economic superpowers China and India exploiting mineral and land resources So international rivalry a traditional factor in the Horn's instability will continue to haunt both its peoples and the international community Peter Woodward's survey of the history and regional and international relations of the Horn of Africa shows the crises have deep historical roots predating present state boundaries These have been shaped by imperialism sharpened by independence and by the Cold War Chaos in the Horn has frustrated the ambitions of the post Cold War s New World Order This book is essential reading for all students of history international relations and policy planners
