Local/Global Narratives, 2016-08-09 Over the past decade and a half Germany has experienced a period of political and cultural turbulence which many have attributed to the combined challenges of unification and globalisation In response to growing exposure to global markets politics and migration debates about identity have increasingly been re-nationalised At the same time there has been a notable reappraisal in Germany and in German Studies of the regional and global as spaces for the construction of identity This volume sets out to explore these complex and at times contradictory trends focusing in particular on developments in Germany since the 1970s although chapters treating earlier periods are also included The volume brings together British Irish German Canadian and American scholars working in the field and resulted from a conference organised by Women in German Studies at the University of Bath The first section is primarily concerned with the specifically German concept of locality known as Heimat and its changing relationship with the global Included are explorations of the writings of Kafka Bachmann Johnson Sell Wolf Brinkmann and Jelinek amongst others as well as films by Schlöndorff and Steyerl The second section focuses on the impact of the global on institutions and rituals such as commemoration memorialisation and architecture which have traditionally been influential in shaping national self images Overall this volume concludes that the nature of the relationship to the local has fundamentally changed under the impact of globalisation

The Traditions of

Invention Alex Drace-Francis, 2013-07-15 Literary and cultural images once considered marginal to the main currents of political and institutional development in southeastern Europe have been accorded much greater importance by scholars in recent years. Episodes from a History of Undoing: The Heritage of Female Subversiveness paraphrasing Rada Khumar's seminal study of the development of the feminist movements in India. The History of Doing is a volume purporting to illustrate women's resistance to patriarchal colonization through societal norms and hegemonic discourses. Whether mythical amazons, mediaeval authors or regular cannonesses, Renaissance monarchs, activists and academics, philosophers or politicians, such women have become trail blazers in their fields attempting to forge new epistemes through strategies of undoing, refashioning, rewriting or revising political and cultural concepts, practices and institutions. The volume comprises 11 essays authored by academics from Brazil, Hungary, Poland, Romania, Turkey and the USA and addresses a wide readership of academics, students, historians, NGO activists etc. The volume is prefaced by Professor Margaret R. Higonnet from Connecticut University.

Danubia: A Personal History of Habsburg Europe Simon Winder, 2014-01-21 A charmingly personal history of Habsburg Europe as lively as it is informative by the author of Germany. For centuries much of Europe and the Holy Roman Empire was in the royal hands of the very peculiar Habsburg family. An unstable mixture of wizards, obsessives, melancholics, bores, musicians and warriors, they saw off through luck, guile and sheer mulishness any number of rivals until finally packing up in 1918. From their principal lairs along the Danube they ruled most of Central Europe and Germany and interfered everywhere. Indeed, the history of Europe hardly makes sense without the House of Habsburg. Danubia, Simon Winder's hilarious new book, plunges the reader into a maelstrom of alchemy, royalty, skeletons, jewels, bear moats, unfortunate marriages and a guinea pig village. Full of music, piracy, religion and fighting, it is the history of a strange dynasty and the people they ruled who spoke many different languages, lived in a vast range of landscapes, believed in rival gods and often showed a marked ingratitude towards their oddball ruler in Vienna. Readers who discovered Simon Winder's storytelling genius and infectious curiosity in Germany will be delighted by the eccentric and fascinating tale of the Habsburgs and their world. Transnationalism and German-Language Literature in the Twenty-First Century Stuart

Taberner, 2017-03-01 This book examines how German language authors have intervened in contemporary debates on the obligation to extend hospitality to asylum seekers, refugees and migrants, the terrorist threat post 9/11, globalisation and neo-liberalism, the opportunities and anxieties of intensified mobility across borders and whether transnationalism necessarily implies the end of the nation state and the dawn of a new cosmopolitanism The book proceeds through a series of close readings of key texts of the last twenty years with an emphasis on the most recent works Authors include Ter zia Mora Richard Wagner Olga Grjasnowa Marlene Streeruwitz Vladimir Vertlib Navid Kermani Felicitas Hoppe Daniel Kehlmann Ilija Trojanow Christian Kracht and Christa Wolf representing the diversity of contemporary German language writing Through a careful process of juxtaposition and differentiation the individual chapters demonstrate that writers of both minority and nonminority backgrounds address transnationalism in ways that certainly vary but which also often overlap in surprising ways

Herta Müller Bettina Brandt,Valentina Glajar,2020-03-09 Two languages German and Romanian inform the novels essays and collage poetry of Nobel laureate Herta Müller Describing her writing as autofictional Müller depicts the effects of violence cruelty and terror on her characters based on her own experiences in Communist Romania under the repressive Nicolae Ceauşescu regime Herta Müller Politics and Aesthetics explores Müller's writings from different literary cultural and historical perspectives Part 1 features Müller's Nobel lecture five new collage poems and an interview with Ernest Wichner a German Romanian author who has traveled with her and sheds light on her writing Parts 2 and 3 featuring essays by scholars from across Europe and the United States address the political and poetical aspects of Müller's texts Contributors discuss life under the Romanian Communist dictatorship while also stressing key elements of Müller's poetics which promises both self conscious formal experimentation and political intervention One of the first books in English to thoroughly examine Müller's writing this volume addresses audiences with an interest in dissident exile migration experimental and transnational literature

East and South Lucy Gasser,2021-07-15 What is Europe in academic discourse While Europe tends to be used as shorthand often interchangeable with the West neither the West nor Europe are homogeneous spaces Though postcolonial studies have long been debunking Eurocentrism in its multiple guises there is still work to do in fully comprehending how its imaginations and discursive legacies conceive the figure of Europe as not all who live on European soil are understood as equally European This volume explores this immediate need to rethink the axis of postcolonial cultural productions to disarticulate Eurocentrism to recognise Europe as a more diverse plural and fluid space to draw forward cultural exchanges and dialogues within the Global South Through analyses of literary texts from East Central Europe and beyond this volume sheds light on alternative literary cartographies the multiplicity of Europes and being European which exist both as they are viewed from the different geographies of the global South and within the continent itself Covering a wide spatial and temporal terrain in postcolonial and European cultural productions this volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of literature and literary criticism cultural studies post colonial studies global South studies and European studies

The Novel in German since 1990 Stuart Taberner,2011-09-01 Diversity is one of the defining characteristics of contemporary German language literature not just in terms of the variety of authors writing in German today but also in relation to theme form technique and style However common themes emerge the Nazi past transnationalism globalisation migration religion and ethnicity gender and sexuality and identity This book presents the novel in German since 1990 through a set of close readings both of international bestsellers including Daniel Kehlmann's Measuring the World and W G Sebald's Austerlitz and of less familiar but important texts such as Yad Kara's Selam Berlin Each novel discussed in the volume has been chosen on account of its aesthetic quality its impact and its representativeness the authors featured among them Nobel Prize winners G nter Grass Elfriede Jelinek and Herta and Paul Amirian demonstrate the energy and quality of contemporary writing in German

The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond, 2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns ideas of Europe conflict borders empire unification migration and marginalization offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders cultures and languages In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels
