Global Perspectives on Tarzan Annette Wannamaker, Michelle Abate, 2012-08-21 This collection seeks to understand the long lasting and global appeal of Tarzan Why is a story about a feral boy who is raised by apes in the African jungle so compelling and so adaptable to different cultural contexts and audiences How is it that the same narrative serves as the basis for both children s cartoons and lavish musical productions or as a vehicle for both nationalistic discourse and for light romantic fantasy Considering a history of criticism that highlights the imperialistic sexist racist underpinnings of the original Tarzan narrative why would this character and story appeal to so many readers and viewers around the world The essays in this volume written by scholars living and working in Australia Canada Israel The Netherlands Germany France and the United States explore these questions using various critical lenses Chapters include discussions of Tarzan novels comics television shows toys films and performances produced or distributed in the U S Canada Israel Palestine Britain India The Netherlands Germany and France and consider such topics as imperialism national identities language acquisition adaptation gender constructions Tarzan s influence on child readers and Tarzan s continued and broad influence on cultures around the world What emerges when these pieces are placed into dialogue with one another is an immensely complex picture of an enduring multi faceted global pop culture icon Prehistoric Humans in Film and Television Michael Klossner, 2015-01-09 From the early days of the movies cavemen have been a popular subject for filmmakers not surprisingly since the birth of cinema occurred only a few decades after the earliest scientific studies of prehistoric man Filmmakers however were not constrained by the emerging science instead they most often took a comedic look at prehistory a trend that continued throughout the 20th century Prehistoric humans also populated adventure fantasy films with the original One Million B C

1940 leading the charge Documentaries were also made but it was not until the 1970s that accurate film accounts of prehistoric humans finally emerged This exhaustive work provides detailed accounts of 581 film and television productions that feature depictions of human prehistory Included are dramas and comedies set in human prehistory documentaries and films and television shows in which prehistoric people somehow exist in historical periods from the advent of civilization up to the present or in extraterrestrial settings Each entry includes full filmographic data including year of release running time production personnel cast information and format A description of each film provides background on the prehistoric elements Contemporary critical commentary is included for many of the works

Babylon Under Western Eyes Andrew Scheil, 2016-01-01 Babylon under Western Eyes examines the mythic legacy of ancient Babylon the Near Eastern city which has served western culture as a metaphor for power luxury and exotic magnificence for more than two thousand years Sifting through the many references to Babylon in biblical classical medieval and modern texts Andrew Scheil uses Babylon's remarkable literary ubiquity as the foundation for a thorough analysis of the dynamics of adaptation and allusion in western literature Touching on everything from Old English poetry to the contemporary apocalyptic fiction of the Left Behind series Scheil outlines how medieval Christian society and its cultural successors have adopted Babylon as a political metaphor a degenerate archetype and a place associated with the sublime Combining remarkable erudition with a clear and accessible style Babylon under Western Eyes is the first comprehensive examination of Babylon's significance within the pantheon of western literature and a testimonial to the continuing influence of biblical classical and medieval paradigms in modern culture

Seventies British Cinema Robert Shail, 2019-07-25 Seventies British Cinema provides a comprehensive re-evaluation of British film in the 1970s The decade has long been written off in critical discussions as a doldrums period in British cinema perhaps because the industry facing near economic collapse turned to unacceptable low culture genres such as sexploitation comedies or extreme horror The contributors to this new collection argue that 1970s cinema is ripe for reappraisal giving serious critical attention to populist genre films they also consider the development of a British art cinema in the work of Derek Jarman and Peter Greenaway and the beginnings of an independent sector fostered by the BFI Production Board and producers like Don Boyd A host of highly individual directors managed to produce interesting and cinematically innovative work against the odds from Nicolas Roeg to Ken Russell to Mike Hodges As well as providing a historical and cinematic context for understanding Seventies cinema the volume also features chapters addressing Hammer horror the Carry On films Bond films of the Roger Moore period Jubilee and other films that responded to Punk rock heritage cinema and case studies of key seventies films such as The Wicker Man and Straw Dogs In all the book provides the final missing piece in the rediscovery of British cinema's complex and protean history Contributors Ruth Barton James Chapman Ian Conrich Wheeler Winston Dixon Christophe Dupin Steve Gerrard Sheldon Hall I Q Hunter James Leggott Claire Monk Paul Newland Dan North Robert Shail Justin Smith and Sarah Street
