Fetisch Holocaust Die Judenvernichtung Verdrängt Und Vermarktet:

The Claims of Memory Caroline Alice Wiedmer, 1999 Over a half a century after World War II Germany and France still struggle to understand the Holocaust and to confront their roles in the tragedy Through an interpretation of a wide array of contemporary cultural texts including memorials and memorial sites museums and exhibits national commemorations books and films Caroline Wiedmer traces the evolution of an often conflicted postwar politics of memory in these two nations Her analyses of sites of memory and of policies and national debates reveal the two countries deep seated ambivalence in the face of a desire to forget the horrors of the Holocaust and the need to remember them Among the issues Wiedmer examines are France s emerging sense of accountability and the fierce conflicts generated by the Memorial to the Murdered Jews of Europe to be built in Berlin In her detailed account of how the Nazis took over a ready made system of internment camps built by the French before World War II and in her discussion of the uses to which the Sachsenhausen concentration camp was put by both the Soviet and the East German governments after the war Wiedmer uncovers disturbing patterns of recurrence that painfully complicate France s and Germany s relationships to the Holocaust itself and to the act of commemoration The author also examines Art Spiegelman s Maus and Michael Verhoeven s film The Nasty Girl German Protestants Remember the Holocaust K. Hannah Holtschneider, 2001 Focusing on the 1980s 90s examines how Protestants in Germany interpret their self understanding as part of the community which is defined by its connection to the Nazi past Analyzes representations of the Holocaust and of the Christian Jewish relationship in three German Protestant theological texts the 1980 statement of the Rhineland synod of the Evangelical Church Zur Erneuerung des Verhältnisses von Christen und Juden Marquardt s theological text Von Elend und Heimsuchung der Theologie Prolegomena zur Dogmatik 1992 and Britta J ngst s dissertation Auf der Seite des Todes das Leben 1996 The analysis of these texts is informed by the development of narratives of collective memory of the Holocaust in German society in the 1980s 90s from the miniseries Holocaust to the Goldhagen controversy All three texts admit the responsibility of Christianity and Christians for the Holocaust and build theologies that do not reject Jews Contends that contrary to their stated intentions most Holocaust theologians do not truly listen to the Jewish perspective Calls on practitioners of theology after Auschwitz to embrace Jews and Judaism in order to restore the credibility of Christian Churches which abandoned the Jews in Auschwitz

Theoretical Interpretations of the Holocaust , 2021-10-25 This book aims to show the many resources at our disposal for grappling with the Holocaust as the darkest occurrence of the twentieth century These wide ranging studies on philosophy history and literature address the way the Holocaust had led to the reconceptualization of the humanities The scholarly approaches of Pierre Klossowski Georges Bataille and Maurice Blanchot are examined critically and the volume explores such poignant topics as violence evil and monuments Hitler's war in the East, 1941-1945 Rolf-Dieter Müller, 2009 Wendezeichen? , 2016-08-22 Die Beiträger dieses Sammelbandes wollen die nach 1989 offensichtliche

Facing the Nazi Past Bill Niven, 2003-09-02 Facing the Nazi Past examines how the communist East viewed the events of these years very differently from West Germany during the Cold War Following the unification of Germany these contrasting memories of the Third Reich have contributed to a new perspective on this period of German history Facing the Nazi Past explores the developments and debates that were symptomatic of this shift towards a more open confrontation with the past such as the image of resistance to Hitler in united Germany changes at concentration camp memorial sites since 1990 the commemoration of 8 May 1945 in 1995 how the revelations in Goldhagen s startling book Hitler s Willing Executioners triggered new discussion the plans for the construction of a Holocaust Memorial Anyone students scholars or interested readers who are involved in the study of European history will find this an enthralling and informative read

Facing the Nazi Past William John Niven, 2002 Facing the Nazi Past reflects on the most important developments and debates affecting the way united Germany remembers its past today This timely account is set to provoke fresh discussion of this dramatic historical period Jacket

Legacies of Dachau Harold Marcuse, 2001-03-22 Auschwitz Belsen Dachau These names still evoke the horrors of Nazi Germany around the world This 2001 book takes one of these sites Dachau and traces its history from the beginning of the twentieth century through its twelve years as Nazi Germany s premier concentration camp to the camp s postwar uses as prison residential neighborhood and finally museum and memorial site With superbly chosen examples and an eye for telling detail Legacies of Dachau documents how Nazi perpetrators were quietly rehabilitated to become powerful elites while survivors of the concentration camps were once again marginalized criminalized and silenced Combining meticulous archival research with an encyclopedic knowledge of the extensive literatures on Germany the Holocaust and historical memory Marcuse unravels the intriguing relationship between historical events individual memory and political culture to offer a unified interpretation of their interaction from the Nazi era to the twenty first century

Parables for Our Time Tania Oldenhage, 2010-04-10 Over the centuries New Testament texts have often been read in ways that reflect and encourage anti Semitism For example the parable of the wicked husbandmen who kill the son of their landlord in order to seize the land has been used to blame the Jews for the death of Christ Since the Holocaust Christian scholars have increasingly recognized and rejected this inheritance In Parables for Our Time Tania Oldenhage seeks to fashion a biblical hermeneutics that consciously works with memories of the Holocaust New Testament scholars have not directly confronted the horror of Nazi crimes Oldenhage argues but their work has nonetheless been deeply affected by the events of the Holocaust By placing twentieth century biblical scholarship within its specific historical and cultural contexts she is able to trace the process by which the Holocaust gradually moved into the collective consciousness of New Testament scholars both in Germany and in the United States Her focus is on the scholarly interpretation of the parables of Jesus She sets the stage with the work of Wolfgang Harnisch who exemplifies the problems surrounding Holocaust remembrance in the Germany of the 1980s and 1990s She then turns to Joachim Jeremias s eminent work on the parables first published in 1947 Jeremias s anti Jewish rhetoric she argues should be understood not only as a perpetuation of an age old interpretive pattern but as representative of German difficulties in responding to the Holocaust immediately after the war Oldenhage goes on to explore the way in which Jeremias s approach was challenged by biblical scholars in the U S during the 1970s In particular she examines the turn to literature and literary theory exemplified in the works of John Dominic Crossan and Paul Ricoeur Nazi atrocities became part of the cultural reservoir from which Crossan and Ricoeur drew she shows although they never engaged with the historical facts of the Holocaust In conclusion Oldenhage offers her own reading of the parable of the wicked husbandmen demonstrating how the turn from historical to literary criticism opens up the text to interpretation in light of the Holocaust If the parables are to be meaningful in our time she contends we must take account of the troubling resonances between these ancient Christian stories and the atrocities of Auschwitz

Fetisch Holocaust Richard Chaim Schneider, 1997 Examines the emotional factors involved in the debate taking place in Germany on the annihilation of the Jews Claims that although information on the mass murders was available to German society at the time wide sections of the population were not able to cope with it emotionally and grasp the extent of the crime Deals with the Goldhagen debate despite the massive criticism of his book condemning it as unscientific superficial inexact it is precisely this emotional approach to the Holocaust which enables it to reach the German postwar generation Goldhagen succeeded in clearing away the haze of the last 50 years enabling people to feel and enter into the event

Religion and Identity in Germany Today Frank Finlay, 2010 The contributors address a range of issues including the controversial building of a mosque in Cologne pressure experienced by German Jews to reconnect with a religion that their forebears cast off sometimes more than a century ago Trauma and the Memory of Politics Jenny Edkins, 2003-07-31 In this interesting study Jenny Edkins explores how we remember traumatic events such as wars famines genocides and terrorism and questions the assumed role of commemorations as simply reinforcing state and nationhood Taking examples from the World Wars Vietnam the Holocaust Kosovo and September 11th Edkins offers a thorough discussion of practices of memory such as memorials museums remembrance ceremonies the diagnosis of post traumatic stress and the act of bearing witness She examines the implications of these commemorations in terms of language political power sovereignty and nationalism She argues that some forms of remembering do not ignore the horror of what happened but rather use memory to promote change and to challenge the political systems that produced the violence of wars and genocides in the first place This wide ranging study embraces literature history politics and international relations and makes a significant contribution to the study of memory German Literature Between Faiths Peter Meister, 2004 Religion is a central concern of German literature in all centuries and the canon looks different when this perspective is acknowledged For example Goethe's fascination with evil is difficult to disentangle from the Holocaust Moses Mendelssohn is as profound as the playwright who portrayed him and Princess Sabbath deserves to be numbered among Heine's more enchanting lyrics This essay collection posits and tests the hypothesis that German literature at its best is often an expression or investigation of Judaism or Christianity at their best but that the best German literature is not always the best known and vice versa Asking whether the New Testament is anti Jewish and answering in the negative essayists range through the German centuries from The Heliand to Kafka and Thomas Mann Legal Institutions and Collective Memories Susanne Karstedt, 2009-08-03 In recent decades the debate among scholars lawyers politicians and others about how societies deal with their past has been constant and intensive Legal Institutions and Collective Memories situates the processes of transitional justice at the intersection between legal procedures and the production of collective and shared meanings of the past Building upon the work of Maurice Halbwachs this collection of essays emphasises the extended role and active involvement of contemporary law and legal institutions in public discourse about the past and explores their impact on the shape that collective memories take in the course of time The authors uncover a complex pattern of searching for truth negotiating the past and cultivating the art of forgetting Their contributions explore the ambiguous and intricate links between the production of justice truth and memory The essays cover a broad range of legal institutions countries and topics These include transitional trials as monumental spectacles as well as constitutional courts and the restitution of property rights in Central and Eastern Europe and Australia The authors explore the biographies of victims and how their voices were repressed as in the case of Korean Comfort Women They explore the role of law and legal institutions in linking individual and collective memories in the transitional period through processes of lustration and they analyse divided memories about the past and their impact on future reconciliation in South Africa The collection offers a genuinely comparative approach allied to cutting edge theory

Re-envisioning Jewish Identities Efraim Sicher, 2021-08-30 This innovative study shows how the imaginary constructions of self and Other are shaping identification with Jewishness in the twenty first century The texts and artworks discussed in this book test a diverse range of ways of identifying as Jews and with the Jewish people while engaging with postmodern and postcolonial discourses of hybridity and multiculturalism This book selects six key areas in which the boundaries of Jewish identities have been interrogated and renegotiated nation ethnicity gender sexuality religion and the Holocaust In each of these areas Sicher explores how major and emerging contemporary writers and artists re envision the meaning of their identities Such re envisioning may be literally visual or metaphorical in the search for expression of artistic self between the conventional paradigms of the past and new ways of thinking
