A Lady Trader in the Transvaal presents the South African adventures of Sarah Heckford a once famous but now forgotten Anglo Irish gentlewoman After trekking to the Transvaal in 1878 this intrepid woman served as governess doctor builder nurse and farmer When her farm failed she broke through the barriers of gender and class to make her fortune as a smous or peddler trading with the Africans and Afrikaners of the remote bush veldt Caught up in the Anglo Boer War of 1879 1880 she survived the hundred day siege of Pretoria only to find the British dishonored and herself financially ruined      Lady Trader Vivien Allen, 1979      The Hidden History of South Africa's Book and Reading Cultures Archie L. Dick, 2012-01-01 The Hidden History of South Africa's Book and Reading Cultures shows how the common practice of reading can illuminate the social and political history of a culture This ground breaking study reveals resistance strategies in the reading and writing practices of South Africans strategies that have been hidden until now for political reasons relating to the country's liberation struggles By looking to records from a slave lodge women's associations army education units universities courts libraries prison departments and political groups Archie Dick exposes the key works of fiction and non fiction magazines and newspapers that were read and discussed by political activists and prisoners Uncovering the book and library schemes that elites used to regulate reading Dick exposes incidences of intellectual fraud book theft censorship and book burning Through this innovative methodology Dick aptly shows how South African readers used reading and books to resist unjust regimes and build community across South Africa's class and racial barriers      A Lady Trader in the Transvaal Sarah Heckford, 1882
