Land Tenure Natural Resource Management:

Land Tenure and Natural Resource Management Keijiro Otsuka, Frank M. Place, 2001-08-14 The devastating environmental effects of deforestation and the exploitation of other natural resources in the developing world have been well documented yet their impact on local communities has received far less attention This volume fills this gap by looking at how land degradation and deforestation are being addressed at the local level where households have experienced the reduction of farm size and the decline of natural resources Through a comparison of Asia and Africa Land Tenure and Natural Resource Management examines the evolution of land tenure institutions within diverse cultural natural and policy environments Specific topics include the evolution of customary land tenure the impacts of land tenure policies and common property management The editors conclude that the best strategy for managing land and forest resources lies in promoting the establishment of property rights and investment in the improvement of the natural resource base Topics Include Issues and Theoretical Framework Quantitative Methodology Agroforestry Management in Ghana Agroforestry Management in Sumatra Tree and Cropland Management in Malawi Customary and Private Land Management in Uganda Management of State Land and Privatization in Vietnam Common Property Forest Management in the Hill Region of Nepal Timber Forest Management in Nepal and Japan Toward New Paradigms of Land and Tree Resource Management Tenure Policy and Natural Resource Management in Sahelian West Africa Steven W. Lawry, 1989 Local Land Tenure and Natural Resource Management Systems in Guinea Julie Elizabeth Fischer, 1995 Land Tenure Reform in Asia and Africa S. Holden, K. Otsuka, K. Deininger, 2013-08-30 Rural poverty remains widespread and persistent in South Asia and Sub Saharan Africa A group of leading experts critically examines the impact of land tenure reforms on poverty reduction and natural resource management in countries in Africa and Asia with highly diverse historical contexts Land Tenure and Resource Access in West Africa, 1999 A situational analysis of agricultural production and marketing, and natural resources management systems in northwest Vietnam International Livestock Research Institute, 2014-09-04 Pastoral Land Management E. K. Biamah, Wilson K. Yabann, Michael K. Biamah, 2016 In the arid lands of Kenya the social structure system associated with traditional pastoralism has evolved useful mechanisms for achieving sustainable resource utilization within fragile dryland environments The sustainability of traditional pastoralism in Kenya is no longer feasible due to the increasing pressure on a shrinking resource base This uncertainty with the sustainability of this traditional life style calls for a radical shift in thinking from traditional to commercial pastoralism Commercial pastoralism allows for the emergence of dynamic pastoralism which adapts quickly to technological changes and evolving market conditions in a fast changing pastoral environment Whereas this futuristic form of pastoralism must recognize pastoral communities as legal entities and accord them the rights of control and disposal or transfer it should also bestow the rights of access and use on individual pastoralists The individualization of the right of land disposal or transfer in non enlightened pastoral communities has led to the emergence of destitution and poverty in pastoral areas of Kenya This book publication provides valuable information on emerging issues and options on pastoral land management in Kenya It is based on a three year study on Land Tenure and Natural Resource Management in the Arid Lands of Kenya It also does provide the requisite information for the formulation of a policy and legal framework on sustainable pastoral land management in Kenya Data Sets, Indicators and Methods to Assess Land Degradation in Drylands Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2003-01-01 Includes CD ROM on inside back cover Implementation of the Africa Bureau Natural Resources Management Analytical Agenda ,1992
