Global Political Fallout The Vcrs First Decade:

Global Political Fallout Gladys D. Ganley, Oswald H. Ganley, 1987 Based on a wide variety of press reports and other sources this volume describes the rapid global spread of VCRs and cassettes often by illegal means into even those countries where censorship is the rule and information control has been for hundreds of years the universal practice This book describes the growing policial uses being made of the medium in both restrictive and more democratic countries It examines the controls instituted on VCRs and programming by governments and has found even the most severe of these to be almost totally ineffective Future Survey Annual 1988-1989 Michael Marien, Lane Jennings, 1990-01-01 BMW Z cars have carved a huge reputation for themselves in a very short time From the revolutionary and innovative Z1 of the late 1980s to the beautiful and exclusive Z8 of more recent times via the popular Z3 and its controversial replacement the Z4 the family has made BMW s name in the increasingly competitive sports car market The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of the Contemporary World Paul Graves-Brown, Rodney Harrison, Angela Piccini, 2013-10-17 It has been clear for many years that the ways in which archaeology is practised have been a direct product of a particular set of social cultural and historical circumstances archaeology is always carried out in the present More recently however many have begun to consider how archaeological techniques might be used to reflect more directly on the contemporary world itself how we might undertake archaeologies of as well as in the present This Handbook is the first comprehensive survey of an exciting and rapidly expanding sub field and provides an authoritative overview of the newly emerging focus on the archaeology of the present and recent past In addition to detailed archaeological case studies it includes essays by scholars working on the relationships of different disciplines to the archaeology of the contemporary world including anthropology psychology philosophy historical geography science and technology studies communications and media ethnoarchaeology forensic archaeology sociology film performance and contemporary art This volume seeks to explore the boundaries of an emerging sub discipline to develop a tool kit of concepts and methods which are applicable to this new field and to suggest important future trajectories for research It makes a significant intervention by drawing together scholars working on a broad range of themes approaches methods and case studies from diverse contexts in different parts of the world which have not previously been considered collectively Social and Cultural Aspects of Vcr Use Julie Dobrow, 2012-11-12 First Published in 1990 Although commercially available in the United States for more than a decade videocassette recorder VCR sales continue to rise This volume contains some of writing about video Although several of the chapters continue to address the very important questions raised in the previous two generations of VCR research the authors here have sought to explore how the VCR fits into a larger social and cultural framework The Routledge Companion to Global Television Shawn Shimpach, 2019-10-29 Featuring scholarly perspectives from around the globe and drawing on a legacy of television studies but with an eye toward the future this authoritative collection examines both the thoroughly global nature of television and the multiple and varied experiences that constitute television in the twenty first century Companion chapters include original essays by some of the leading scholars of television studies as well as emerging voices engaging television on six continents offering readers a truly global range of perspectives The volume features multidisciplinary analyses that offer models and guides for the study of global television with approaches focused on the theories audiences content culture and institutions of television A wide array of examples and case studies engage the transforming practices technologies systems and texts constituting television around the world today providing readers with a contemporary and multi faceted perspective In this volume editor Shawn Shimpach has brought together an essential guide to understanding television in the world today how it works and what it means perfect for students scholars and anyone else interested in television global media studies and beyond

Videoland Daniel

Herbert,2014-01-24 Videoland offers a comprehensive view of the tangible phase of consumer video when Americans largely accessed movies as material commodities at video rental stores Video stores served as a vital locus of movie culture from the early 1980s until the early 2000s changing the way Americans socialized around movies and collectively made movies meaningful When films became tangible as magnetic tapes and plastic discs movie culture flowed out from the theater and the living room entered the public retail space and became conflated with shopping and salesmanship In this process video stores served as a crucial embodiment of movie culture s historical move toward increased flexibility adaptability and customization In addition to charting the historical rise and fall of the rental industry Herbert explores the architectural design of video stores the social dynamics of retail encounters the video distribution industry the proliferation of video recommendation guides and the often surprising persistence of the video store as an adaptable social space of consumer culture Drawing on ethnographic fieldwork cultural geography and archival research Videoland provides a wide ranging exploration of the pivotal role video stores played in the history of motion pictures and is a must read for students and scholars of media history

Veni, Vidi, Video Frederick Wasser,2009-06-23 A funny thing happened on the way to the movies Instead of heading downtown to a first run movie palace or even to a suburban multiplex with the latest high tech projection capabilities many people s first stop is now the neighborhood video store Indeed video rentals and sales today generate more income than either theatrical releases or television reruns of movies This pathfinding book chronicles the rise of home video as a mass medium and the sweeping changes it has caused throughout the film industry since the mid 1970s Frederick Wasser discusses Hollywood s initial hostility to home video which studio heads feared would lead to piracy and declining revenues and shows how paradoxically video revitalized the film industry with huge infusions of cash that financed blockbuster movies and massive marketing campaigns to promote them He also tracks the fallout from the video revolution in everything from changes in film production values to accommodate the small screen to the rise of media conglomerates and the loss of the diversity once provided by smaller studios and independent distributors

The Future of the Mass Audience W. Russell Neuman, 1991-11-29 This book focuses on how the changing technology and economics of the mass media in post industrial society will influence public communication Consuming Modernity Carol Appadurai Breckenridge, 1995 Consuming Modernity illustrates that what is distinctive of any particular society is not the fact of its modernity but rather its own unique debates about modernity Behind the embattled arena of culture in India for example lie particular social and political interests such as the growing middle class the entrepreneurs and commercial institutions and the state The contributors address the roles of these various intertwined interests in the making of India's public culture each examining different sites of consumption The sites they explore include cinema radio cricket restaurants and tourism Consuming Modernity also makes clear the differences among public mass and popular culture Contributors include Arjun Appadurai University of Chicago Frank F Conlon University of Washington Sara Dickey Bowdoin College Paul Greenough University of Iowa David Lelyveld Columbia University Barbara N Ramusack University of Cincinnati Rosie Thomas University of Westminster and Phillip B Zarrilli University of Wisconsin Madison A Self-renewing Society Narain Dass Batra, 1990 Through the broad perspective of the systems theory the sociobiology of self renewal and the use of historical critical research this book explores the process of continuous dying and re birth occurring daily in American society in every society Conceptualizing the media and communications technology as the collective nervous system of a society can help us in understanding the above mentioned renewing process Of interest to professors and students of mass communications government and public information science Censorship Derek Jones, 2001-12-01 First published in 2002 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company Horror Film Steffen Hantke, 2004 Essays on the rise of the horror film and on how moviemakers package and promote fright Zoning China Luzhou Li, 2024-02-06 An examination of cultural zoning in China considers why government regulation of online video is so much more lenient than regulation of broadcast television In Zoning China Luzhou Li investigates why the Chinese government regulates online video relatively leniently while tightly controlling what appears on broadcast television Li argues that television has largely been the province of the state even as the market has dominated the development of online video Thus online video became a space where people could question state media and the state's preferred ideological narratives about the nation history and society Li connects this relatively unregulated arena to the second channel that opened up in the early days of economic reform piracy in all its permutations She compares the dual cultural sphere to China s economic zoning the marketized domain of online video is the cultural equivalent of the Special Economic Zones which were developed according to market principles in China s coastal cities Li explains that although the relaxed oversight of online video may seem to represent a loosening of the party state s grip on media the practice of cultural zoning in fact demonstrates the the state s strategic control of the media environment She describes how China s online video industry developed into an original creative force of production and distribution that connected domestic private production companies transnational corporations and a vast network of creative labor from amateurs to professional content creators Li notes that China has increased state management of the internet since 2014 signaling that online and offline censorship standards may be unified Cultural zoning as a technique of cultural governance however will likely remain

Moral Atmospheres Timothy P. A. Cooper, 2024-03-12

Lahore s Hall Road is the largest electronics market in Pakistan Once the center of film and media piracy in South Asia it now specializes in smartphones and accessories For Hall Road s traders conflicts between the economic promises and the moral dangers of film loom large To reconcile their secular trade with their responsibilities as devoted Muslims they often look to adjudicate the good or bad moral atmosphere mahaul that can cling to film and media Timothy P A Cooper examines the diverse and coexisting moral atmospheres that surround media in Pakistan tracing public understandings of ethical life and showing how they influence economic behavior Drawing on extensive ethnographic work among traders consumers collectors archivists cinephiles and cinephobes Moral Atmospheres explores varied views on what the relationship between film and faith should look sound and feel like for Pakistan s Muslim majority public Cooper considers the preservation and censorship of film in and outside of the state bureaucracy contestations surrounding heritage and urban infrastructure and the production and circulation of sound and video recordings among the country s religious minorities He argues that a focus on atmosphere provides ways of seeing moral thresholds as mutable and affective rather than as fixed ethical standpoints At once a vivid ethnography of a market street and a generative theorization of atmosphere this book offers fresh perspectives on moral experience and the relationship between religion and media
