Ender,2002-03-30 After World War II American political military corporate and humanitarian responsibilities abroad expanded greatly With families in tow government officials military service personnel business executives and missionaries began to travel and live in increasing numbers outside of their home country Other nations followed suit Ender examines this legacy of the late 20th century and analyzes the social psychological and historical imprints on people who came of age in these service organization families Such international experiences impose specific demands on employees their spouses and their children These include relocation risk of death or injury family separation and social controls on behavior This collection contains thirteen essays by researchers studying children adolescents youth and adults in a service organization family context including the military the State Department international educators and non governmental organizations The studies integrate research from sociology psychology child and adolescent development family studies and communications Mapping the Global Architect of Alterity Michael Jenson,2014-03-21 Due to globalization cultural spaces are now developing with no tangible connection to geographical place The territorial logic traditionally used to underpin architecture and envision our built environment is being radically altered forcing the adoption of a new method of conceptualizing space geography and what constitutes architectural practice Construction techniques design sensibilities and cultural identities are being transformed as technology transports us to places that were previously unreachable The resultant globalized architect must become more than just an artful visionary but also a master of the art of the political nudge willing to act within multiple mediums and at the simultaneous scales of a chaotic new world disorder

Though fearless they must also be responsible inherently understanding the necessity to align bold visions with the mundane details of the everyday in ways that are culturally flexible and accepting of change The potential for what must be considered the legitimate practice of the architect must move from a purely material venue to one more directly engaged in the chaos of the larger economic political and social spheres of a globalizing world The issues and possible interactions with globalization contained in this text exemplify ways that architecture is transforming into a more flexible and fluid interdisciplinary version of its traditional self in order to rise to challenges of this new international terrain A theme runs throughout in the form of a call that architects must conceptually re construct their frames of reference to better align with the demands of a rapidly globalizing world

Transforming Remote Work and Tourism in the Digital Nomad Era Correia, Ricardo, Martins, Márcio, Fontes, Ruta, 2025-04-11 The rise of digital technology has reshaped work and travel giving birth to a new era of flexibility and opportunity known as the digital nomad revolution As remote work becomes mainstream employees can blend their professional responsibilities with their passion for exploration This fusion of work and travel has transformed tourism with remote workers seeking destinations that cater to their lifestyle offering community infrastructure and resources that support their career goals The digital nomad era redefines what it means to work while traveling pushing the boundaries of traditional tourism and offering freedom for individuals and businesses alike Transforming Remote Work and Tourism in the Digital Nomad Era examines how the digital nomad movement impacts tourism particularly how destinations are evolving to cater to this group s needs It explores essential infrastructure like coworking spaces and reliable internet alongside nomad specific services and experiences that promote productivity leisure and cultural exchange This book covers topics such as destination tourism sustainability and rural communities and is a useful resource for business owners entrepreneurs computer engineers academicians researchers and data scientists

Digital Nomads Living on the Margins Beverly Yuen Thompson, 2021-06-11 In this increasingly neoliberal gig economy exponentially expanding with technological advances the ability to work online remotely has led some western millennials to travel the world to work and play while making a subsistence living as digital platform workers
