Hacia La Meta:

Química orgánica fundamental Louis F. Fieser, Mary Fieser, 1981 Este libro está organizado de tal manera que puede llenar las necesidades de cursos de longitud variable para aquellos alumnos que no tienen la Química como asignatura fundamental mediante una selección apropiada de capítulos. Se puede dar una visión bastante completa de la Química orgánica alifática y aromática aunque se supriman alguno o todos los capítulos siguientes: Cicloalcanos, petroleos, síntesis, transposiciones, hidratos de carbono, lípidos, proteínas, polímeros y colorantes.

Fútbol 500 fichas para el entrenamiento global de las estrategias ofensivas y defensivas Javier López López, 2010-02-18 La estrategia está demostrando tener una vital importancia en el fútbol actual dada la gran igualdad que preside el mismo y que trae como consecuencia la gran complejidad de hacer gol a través del juego dinámico. La importancia de la misma es tal que además de demostrar tener una gran relevancia en el resultado final del partido, un elevado porcentaje de los goles se consiguen a través de la estrategia; es capaz de modificar los planteamientos tácticos de los equipos y permitir que conjuntos inferiores igualen e incluso superen a conjuntos superiores a través de su mayor dominio del juego a balón parado. Del análisis de estos aspectos debemos sacar como conclusión que en los entrenamientos tenemos que otorgarle un gran protagonismo al entrenamiento tanto de la estrategia ofensiva como defensiva. Este libro pretende servir de ayuda a entrenadores, monitores, estudiosos del fútbol y aficionados. En él se van a encontrar una primera parte en la que se define la estrategia, se detallan sus objetivos, las acciones que son necesarias para su realización, etc. En la segunda parte del libro se presentan 500 fichas de jugadas a balón parado para el desarrollo de toda clase de saques para la realización de la estrategia ofensiva y defensiva.

Students at Risk of School Failure José Jesús Gázquez, José Carlos Núñez, 2018-10-18 The main objective of this Research Topic is to determine the conditions that place students at risk of school failure, identifying student and context variables. In spite of the fact that there is currently little doubt about how one learns and how to teach in some countries of the developed world, there is still a high rate of school failure. Although the term school failure is a very complex construct insofar as its causes, consequences, and development from the field of educational psychology, the construct student engagement has recently gained special interest in an attempt to deal with the serious problem of school failure. School engagement builds on the anatomy of the student's involvement in school and describes their feelings, behaviors, and thoughts about their school experiences. So engagement is an important component of student's school experience with a close relationship to achievement and school failure. Children who self-set academic goals, attend school regularly and on time, behave well in class, complete their homework, and study at home are likely to interact adequately with the school social and physical environments and perform well in school. In contrast, children who miss school are more likely to display disruptive behaviors in class, miss homework, frequently exhibit violent behaviors on the playground, fail subjects, be retained, and if the behaviors persist, quit school. Moreover, engagement should also be considered as an important school outcome eliciting more or less supportive reactions from educators. For example children who display school engaged behaviors are likely to receive motivational and instructional support from their teachers The opposite may also be true But what makes student engage more or less The relevant literature indicates that personal variables e g sensory motor neurodevelopmental cognitive motivational emotional behavior problems learning difficulties addictions social and or cultural variables e g negative family conditions child abuse cultural deprivation ethnic conditions immigration or school variables e g coexistence at school bullying cyberbullying may concurrently hinder engagement preventing the student from acquiring the learnings in the same conditions as the rest of the classmates
