Halal Food Good Eat London:

The Halal Frontier J. Fischer, 2011-08-16 In The Halal Frontier Johan Fischer shows that halal literally lawful or permitted is no longer an expression of esoteric forms of production trade and consumption but part of an expanding globalised market This book explores modern forms of halal understanding and practice in the halal consumption of middle class Malays in the diaspora

Halal Matters Florence Bergeaud-Blackler, Johan Fischer, John Lever, 2015-07-16 In today's globalized world halal meaning permissible or lawful is about more than food Politics power and ethics all play a role in the halal industry in setting new standards for production trade consumption and regulation The question of how modern halal markets are constituted is increasingly important and complex Written from a unique interdisciplinary global perspective this book demonstrates that as the market for halal products and services is expanding and standardizing it is also fraught with political social and economic contestation and difference The discussion is illustrated by rich ethnographic case studies from a range of contexts and consideration is given to both Muslim majority and minority societies Halal Matters will be of interest to students and scholars working across the humanities and social sciences including anthropology sociology and religious studies

Muslim Societies in the Age of Mass Consumption Johanna Pink,2020-07-13 In the course of the 20th century hardly a region in the world has escaped the triumph of global consumerism Muslim societies are no exception Globalized brands are pervasive and the landscapes of consumption are changing at a breathtaking pace Yet Muslim consumers are not passive victims of the homogenizing forces of globalization They actively appropriate and adapt the new commodities and spaces of consumption to their own needs and integrate them into their culture Simultaneously this culture is reshaped and reinvented to comply with the mechanisms of conspicuous consumption It is these processes that this volume seeks to address from an interdisciplinary perspective The papers in this anthology present innovative approaches to a wide range of issues that have so far barely received scholarly attention The topics range from the changing spaces of consumption to Islamic branding from the marketing of religious music to the consumption patterns of Muslim minority groups This anthology uses consumption as a prism through which to view and better understand the enormous transformations that Muslim societies Middle Eastern South East Asian as well as diasporic ones have undergone in the past few decades

Halal Food Febe Armanios,Bogac Ergene,2018-04-02 Food trucks announcing halal proliferate in many urban areas but how many non Muslims know what this means other than cheap lunch Here Middle Eastern historians Febe Armanios and Bogac Ergene provide an accessible introduction to halal permissible food in the Islamic tradition exploring what halal food means to Muslims and how its legal and cultural interpretations have changed in different geographies up to the present day Historically Muslims used food to define their identities in relation to co believers and non Muslims Food taboos are rooted in the Quran and prophetic customs as well as writings from various periods and geographical settings As in Judaism and among certain Christian sects Islamic food traditions make distinctions between clean and impure and dietary choices and food preparation reflect how believers think about broader issues Traditionally most halal interpretations focused on animal slaughter and the consumption of intoxicants Muslims today however must also contend with an array of manufactured food products yogurts chocolates cheeses candies and sodas filled with unknown additives and fillers To help consumers navigate the new halal marketplace certifying agencies government and non government bodies and global businesses vie to meet increased demands for food piety At the same time blogs cookbooks restaurants and social media apps have proliferated while animal rights and eco conscious activists seek to recover halal s more wholesome and ethical inclinations Covering practices from the Middle East and North Africa to South Asia Europe and North America this timely book is for anyone curious about the history of halal food and its place in the modern world

Proper Islamic Consumption Johan Fischer,2008 The West has seen the rise of the organic movement In the Muslim world a similar halal movement is rapidly spreading Malaysia is at the forefront of this new global phenomenon Examining the powerful linkages between class consumption market relations Islam and the state in contemporary Malaysia this is the first book to explore how Malaysia's emerging Malay middle class is constituted through consumer practices and Islamic revivalism By exploring consumption practices in urban Malaysia this book shows how diverse forms of Malay middle class consumption of food clothing and cars for example are understood practiced and contested as a particular mode of modern Islamic practice It illustrates ways in which the issue of proper Islamic consumption for consumers the marketplace and the state in contemporary Malaysia evokes a whole range of contradictory Islamic visions lifestyles and debates articulating what Islam is or ought to be The Bloomsbury Reader on Islam in the West Edward E. Curtis, 2015-10-22 For more than a millennium Islam has been a vital part of Western civilization Today however it is sometimes assumed that Islam is a foreign element inside the West and even that Islam and the West are doomed to be in perpetual conflict The need for accurate reliable scholarship on this topic has never been more urgent The Bloomsbury Reader on Islam in the West brings together some of the most important up to date scholarly writings published on this subject The Reader explores not only the presence of Muslim religious practitioners in Europe and the Americas but also the impact of Islamic ideas and Muslims on Western politics societies and cultures It is ideal for use in the university classroom with an extensive introduction by Edward E Curtis IV and a timeline of key events in the history of Islam in the West A brief introduction to the author and the topic is provided at the start of each excerpt Part 1 on the history of Islam in the West probes the role of Muslims and the significance of Islam in medieval early modern and modern settings such as Islamic Spain colonial era Latin America sixteenth century France nineteenth century Crimea interwar Albania the post World War II United States and late twentieth century Germany Part 2 focuses on the contemporary West examining debates over Muslim citizenship the war on terrorism anti Muslim prejudice and Islam and gender while also providing readers with a concrete sense of how Muslims practise and live out Islamic ideals in their private and public lives Halal and Kosher Food Osman Ahmed Osman, Abdel Moneim Elhadi Sulieman, 2023-10-12 In both Islamic and non Islamic countries many population groups worldwide such as vegetarians and people of the Jewish faith consumers do not eat pork Amongst these groups consumers are concerned about importing processed food which may contain or has been contaminated with pork or swine derived products This is especially true of halal foods in Muslim communities where the foods may be prepared or processed utilizing one of more non halal ingredients Halal and kosher foodstuff play an incredibly important role in the Muslim and Jewish diet economy and health This makes halal and kosher food product quality safety and shelf life preservation a major topic in these communities and for the manufacturers of halal and kosher food products Halal and Kosher Food Integration of Quality and Safety for Global Market Trends covers a wide range of important topics in halal foods including quality standards safety of food additives antimicrobial and veterinary drug residues aflatoxin in feedstuff application of Hazards Analysis and critical Control Points HACCP Important data regarding halal and kosher food similarities and differences are covered in full Best practices in halal food product manufacturing are covered plus the importance of halal food safety for consumer health Written by elite international halal food experts this work differs from other books on the subject which focus on history legislation and certification Readers can utilize this book as an orientation and practical guidebook to recognize the quality and safety of halal food products Studying Islam in Practice Gabriele Marranci, 2013-12-17 This book presents Islam as a lived religion through observation and discussion of how Muslims from a variety of countries traditions and views practice their religion It conveys the experiences of researchers from different disciplinary backgrounds and demonstrates the dynamic and heterogeneous world of Islam The fascinating case studies range from Turkey Egypt Morocco and Lebanon to the UK USA Australia and Indonesia and cover topics such as music art education law gender and sexuality Together they will help students understand how research into religious practice is carried out and what issues and challenges arise The Halal Food Handbook Yunes Ramadan Al-Teinaz, Stuart Spear, Ibrahim H. A. Abd El-Rahim, 2020-01-08 A unique handbook providing a set of good practice standards for both producers and consumers of Halal food This accessible authoritative book covers all aspects of Halal from its origins through to how we expect Halal to develop in the coming years It explains what Halal is where it came from how it is practiced and by whom In addition to putting Halal in a religious and cultural context the book provides practical standards for those working in the Halal trade It explains why there are so many different interpretations of Halal and why this needs to be resolved if international trade is to be developed Each chapter in The Halal Food Handbook is written by leading experts in their particular field of study The first one discusses how regulatory bodies have failed to stem the miss selling and adulteration of Halal foods The next chapters cover the slaughter process and issues around good practice The book then looks at regulators covering Sharia law UK national laws and the EU and outlines the legal framework for enforcing the law It also compares and contrasts different types of religious slaughter for faith foods examines attempts to set an international standard for trade and discusses pork adulteration in Halal foods The final chapter covers other aspects of Halal including cosmetics tourism lifestyle and banking and finishes with a look at what the future holds for Halal Written and edited by leading international experts in Halal who are backed by the Muslim Council of Britain Presents a set of good practice standards for both producers and consumers of Halal food Covers the complexity of the political legal and practical dimensions of Halal food production The Halal Food Handbook will appeal to a wide audience including abattoirs manufacturers retailers regulators academics public bodies catering for Muslims and the broader Muslim community A Journey to Mecca and London Begum Sarbuland Jung, 2025 Descended from Mughal nobility Akhtar al Nisa Begum Nawab Sarbuland Jung grew up in Hyderabad in southern India where she lived a quiet private and privileged life at the heart of the state s royal court In 1896 at the age of 20 she married Nawab Muhammad Hamidullah Khan Sarbuland Jung a prominent lawyer and the scion of a leading Muslim reformist movement In 1909 the wealthy couple embarked on a four month journey through the Middle East and Europe performing the hajj in Mecca and sitting for tea with the future king and queen of England A Journey to Mecca and London provides the first full English translation of Begum Sarbuland's Urdu travel diary from this journey of which only three original copies remain. Originally intended for circulation among friends and family and later published, her informal entries not only reveal the everyday practices of an Indian woman of her time but also detail her impressions and reactions as she explored the world alongside her husband. As Begum Sarbuland encountered other women and Muslims during her travels, those encounters shaped her reassessment of her own identity as a Muslim woman. Her observations hold continued significance for readers interested in critical questions about gender, Islam, and identity. Daniel Majchrowicz has thoroughly annotated his translation and paired it with rich appendices including a biographical sketch of Begum Sarbuland and excerpts from Hamidullah Khan's own accounts of their journey. Engagingly written and enriched with years of original research, archival work, and family interviews, A Journey to Mecca and London restores the nearly forgotten narrative of one of India's first Muslim women travel writers to its rightful place in Indian and Islamic history. Globalized Eating Cultures Jörg Dürrschmidt, York Kautt, 2018-09-10 This innovative volume explores the link between local and regional eating cultures and their mediatization via transnational TV cooking shows, global food advertising, and social media transfer of recipes. Pursuing a global and interdisciplinary approach, it brings together research conducted in Latin America, Australia, Africa, Asia, and Europe from leading scholars in sociology and political science, media and cultural studies, as well as anthropology. Drawing on this rich case study material, it facilitates a revealing and engaging analysis of the connection between the meta-concepts of globalization and mediatization. Across fifteen chapters, its authors provide fresh insights into the different impact that food and eating cultures can have on the everyday mediation of ethnicity and class, as well as local, regional, and transnational modes of belonging in a media-rich global environment. This exciting addition to the food studies literature will appeal in particular to students and scholars of sociology, anthropology, media, and cultural studies.

Religion, regulation, consumption John Lever, Johan Fischer, 2018-01-09 This book explores the emergence and expansion of global kosher and halal markets with a particular focus on the UK and Denmark. Kosher is a Hebrew term meaning fit or proper, while halal is an Arabic word that literally means permissible or lawful. This is the first book to explore kosher and halal comparatively at different levels of the social scale, such as individual consumption, the marketplace, religious organisations, and the state. Kosher and halal markets have become global in scope, and states, manufacturers, restaurants, shops, certifiers, and consumers around the world are faced with ever stricter and more complex kosher and halal requirements. The research question in this book is: What are the consequences of globalising kosher and halal markets?

Routledge Handbook of Islam in the West Roberto Tottoli, 2022-02-21 With new topics and contributions, this updated second edition discusses the history and contemporary presence of Islam in Europe and America.
