BRICS and International Tax Law Peter Antony Wilson, 2016-04-24. With the ongoing expansion of outbound foreign direct investment (FDI) in the countries representing the BRICS economic bloc (Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa) and with all of them at the same time listed among the top seven countries plagued by tax evasion and avoidance in the guise of illicit outflows, the five governments, both individually and through cooperative initiatives, have devised new international tax strategies that are proving to be of great interest and value to other countries, both developing and developed. The core of these strategies addresses the necessity of stemming the outflow of revenue while strongly supporting FDI both inbound and outbound while complying with international obligations, including those arising from human rights laws. This book is the first in-depth commentary on this new and evolving area of international tax law. The detailed analysis covers the entire field of BRICS international tax law, considering topics such as the following: information exchange procedures and pitfalls; response to the OECD's Base Erosion and Profit Sharing (BEPS) initiative; role of bilateral and multilateral double taxation conventions, including the Multilateral Instrument and the Bilateral Investment Treaties; thin capitalization; transfer pricing; controlled foreign corporation rules; shortcomings related to authorities' limited manpower; international audit and investigation procedures; the BRICS approach to residence and mandatory and binding arbitration; and the BRICS approach to shaping the developing world's international tax system. Notably, the author personally conducted interviews with senior international representatives of the BRICS tax authorities as well as with leading BRICS academics and practitioners. Tax cases, together with human rights and investment cases and administrative guidelines in all five countries, are also included in the analysis. The study concludes with recommendations for improving each of the five countries' tax law and procedures, especially in the area of dispute resolution. The author's goal is to extend the existing body of knowledge of the BRICS international tax laws in order to assist in developing an understanding of the BRICS approach to dealing with evasion and avoidance, an approach which facilitates both outbound and inbound FDI, simplifies tax authority administration, and establishes a basis for resolving international disputes which is compatible with sovereignty. In achieving this objective, the author has produced a major work that is of immeasurable value to tax advisers, government and governance officials, academics, and researchers, both in developing international taxation strategies and in helping to resolve disputes with tax authorities.

Transfer Pricing and Value Creation Raffaele Petruzzi, Romero J.S. Tavares Esq., 2019-09-02. Value Creation and its effects on Transfer Pricing and tax law. Emerging from the OECD G20 BEPS Project, a new, somewhat fuzzy notion of Value Creation came to permeate not only Transfer Pricing language but also wider allocation rules and anti-abuse provisions in international tax law. The notion of Value Creation reframes the interpretation and application of the Arm's Length Principle (ALP) that is embedded in Articles 7 and 9 of the OECD Model Convention. This new Value Creation notion and approach assist in understanding key enterprise functions while different industry sectors manifest these concepts in various ways. Situating such notions and this approach within the law of tax treaties and analyzing terms of the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines alongside their factual context is the aim of this book. Here law students address Transfer Pricing and Value Creation in sectors as varied as commodities trade, automotive, consumer products, food and beverages, pharmaceutical and life sciences, telecommunications, and the key topic of value creation in a digitalized economy. Our LL.M. students were required to address issues not explored in legal research and to discuss factual topics relevant for Transfer Pricing. All students focused on topics that are new to the international tax debate that keep evolving and on factual matters that often escape legal research.

Tax Compliance Costs for Companies in an Enlarged European Community Michael Lang, 2008-01-01. When it comes to taxation, administrative costs to the tax authorities and compliance costs to the taxpayers arise. A lot of studies have already been conducted in order to shed more light on such hidden costs of taxation. Particularly in the field of transfer pricing, administrative and compliance costs are assumed to be quite high due to the obligation of computing and documenting an arm's length price for each intra-group transaction. Apparently, European policy makers have also become aware of this problem since the European Commission's report released in 2001, 'Company Taxation in the Internal Market', recommends targeted measures in the short run and comprehensive ones in the long run, crossing the border line of the currently prevailing transfer pricing approach, inter alia in order to combat compliance costs in the field of transfer pricing. Eighteen national reports from countries all over the world and a general report deal with the basics of administrative and compliance costs of taxation in general as well as compliance costs in the field of transfer pricing in particular. The book is completed by three special reports on certain issues. The findings of the reports included is greatly influenced by the discussions on the occasion of the Jean Monnet Conference on this topic which was held in spring 2006 in Rust, Austria, under the academic guidance of the Institute for Austrian and International Tax Law at the Vienna University of Economics and Business Administration.
