Go And Sin No More:

And Sin No More Marian J. Morton, 1993 In this compelling study Marian Morton traces the development of public and private health care policies for single mothers and identifies the ways in which attitudes about religion race and cultural definitions of womanhood affected their treatment Focusing on the history of the public hospital and four private maternity homes in Cleveland Morton considers the care of unwed mothers in the context of developing American social policy from the mid nineteenth century to today While social policy has taken on a growing responsibility for health care of dependent people the perception of unwed mothers as sinful by the Christian church and undeserving because their situation was brought about by moral failure has differentiated them from other dependent populations Government provides unmarried mothers with the least support and private maternity homes run mostly by churches have remained committed to the nineteenth century notion of spiritual reclamation As Morton shows regardless of the time period women pregnant out of wedlock have been the dependent population most easily disciplined by private agencies and the most resented and politically vulnerable recipients of public assistance This vital work sheds new light on the current controversies over public assistance and legalized abortion and offers a powerful appraisal of the uncertainties and inequities of American social policy as it applies to women who fail to conform to social definitions of womanhood Sin No More M.L. Carrolton Michigan has a rapist on the loose The sister of one of the victims knows who the rapist is but cannot prove it The fact that he is a Catholic priest could protect him from answering for his crimes Lives are ruined and souls lost before Sister Margaret Breiding carries out the plan that brings an end to Father Edward Mueller s evil acts In her quest for vigilante style justice Sister Margaret finds that the vocations of some men and women who serve the Catholic Church are fragile at best

A Christian Theology of the Cross Allen George, 2010-07-29 A CHRISTIAN THEOLOGY OF THE CROSS presents three basic standards for discussing the subject and object God It underscores the connection between God s approval of Abel s offering and the establishment of the priesthood and names Genesis 4 7 as the foundation of the principal doctrines of Christian Salvation It stresses the importance of Christian freedom and argues that the doctrine of existentialism is rooted in Genesis 4 9b This book speaks directly to those who are spiritually hungry and thirsty for the Word of God in the twenty first century The reader will discover that the author is an analytical thinker George asserts that the ambiguities of Abel s offering don t negate the concept of his priesthood He champions the belief that the doctrine of the universality of salvation is a crucial divide between Judaism and Christianity He insists that the Gospel demands that Christians renounce their hate and intolerance The Invalid's Hymn Book ... Hugh White (Curate of St. Mary's, Dublin.), 1854 Gospel Hymns No. 6
