Haiku On Ice:

Haiku on Ice Margaret Wang, 2005-05-19 Haiku Ice P. J. Reed, 2019 Haiku Ice is the fourth part in my series of haiku collections exploring the four different seasons Each collection explores how the different seasons affect the woods fields hedgerows plants and animals which inhabit the beautiful Devonian countryside Above all Haiku Ice is a celebration of winter This collection explores the magical transformations discoveries and interactions with nature as winter tightens her grip over the sleeping landscape The world in winter is an enchanted place I do not think there can be anything more magical than watching snow fall by candlelight listening to Vivaldi's Four Seasons Winter is also the time of solitude and reflection as people and animals shelter from the cold and a wintry quietness settles on the frozen countryside I read my poetry at many events and one of the major pieces of feedback I have received was that people were fascinated to hear the story behind the haiku Therefore scattered throughout this collection are my reminiscences of how some of the following haiku were written Above all Haiku Ice is a memory of my Devonian winters Pictures of winters recorded as haiku for everyone to experience and enjoy

Melting the ice: Engaging and educational ice-breaker activities for every learning session Jen Schneider, 2023-04-14 The first five minutes of a classroom experience are critical The tone set in a session's opening minutes can significantly impact and influence in both positive and negative ways the quality and nature of the subsequent learning experience How students spend that time can also have a positive impact on their learning in both the short and long term When the opening minutes of a class are approached as an opportunity to build student connections collaboration and community all learners benefit As more and more learning experiences occur in synchronous and asynchronous online learning environments strategies that both welcome students to online sessions and support student learning are increasingly important Traditional ice breakers while typically shared with a goal of building community and student engagement can sometimes have unintended or even negative consequences on students This text shares a collection of powerful opening activities that are designed to simultaneously engage students build safe and connected classroom communities and support student learning All strategies are easily adapted and personalized to fit individual course and content needs including face to face synchronous online and asynchronous online learning contexts Shared activities are aligned with associated learning science research and incorporate strategies that have been shown to support student engagement and learning such as retrieval practice active recall spaced practice and interleaving among other evidence based instructional strategies Ice Dale Jacobs, 1999 Ice Thirteen O'Clock Press, 2015-02-19 Ice Beautiful in its frozen stark state dangerous to all who battle it lethal to those caught up in it Thirteen O'clock Press authors have come up with a startling variety of stories featuring ice prepare to be chilled

East Wind Melts the Ice Liza Dalby, 2009-02-17 To read East Wind Melts the Ice is to slip into a time stream that is both as long and sinuous as history and as ephemeral as the present moment Drawing inspiration from the thousand year old history of Japanese poetic diaries and form from the ancient Chinese almanac that she uses to contain her musings Liza Dalby has accomplished the seemingly impossible task of translating the sensibility of the Heian Court of 11th century Japan into the context of contemporary America The result is a stunning chronicle of the beauty of time passing and an evocation of the transient and whimsical nature of all things Ruth Ozeki author of My Year of Meats and All Over Creation I imagine Liza Dalby writing this book in an ancient library a lion sleeping at her side as in the paintings of Saint Jerome As she collects and layers arcane and fascinating pieces of knowledge she builds her own very personal almanac packed with the wonder of loving two cultures the intense inner life of each season and boundless curiosity of the scholar child This is a book to dip in and out of throughout the year Frances Mayes author of Under the Tuscan Sun Liza Dalby's memoir of the seasons is as fresh and captivating as springtime A very special book Michael Pollan author of The Omnivore's Dilemma This beautiful book awakens the senses A journal an almanac of the seasons and a series of reflections on ancient Eastern Chinese and Japanese cultures here you will find subtle observations of rain and heat tangerines mulberries and paulownia trees crickets and doves forming a rich tapestry as they are woven with evocative fragments of history stories of geishas of salesmen who sold bulk fireflies of the wood that was used for kimono chests of emptiness in the tea ceremony Like a lush garden this book is meant to savor Susan Griffin author of The Book of the Courtesans

Weaving Words into Worlds Caroline Durand-Rous, Margot Lauwers, 2023-10-10 Weaving Words into Worlds comes as the third spinoff of the international ecopoetics conference organized in Perpignan in 2016 Reflecting upon how the many stories we tell directly influence the world we live in each of the contributions in this international volume directs our attention to the constant ecopoetic weaving of word to the world at work via the many entanglements between mind matter and meaning whether on a local or a global scale It encapsulates how the words stories and concepts we humans articulate as we try to make sense of the world we inhabit give part of its shape to the web of ecological relations that we depend on for survival It seeks to cast light on the disenchanting and reenchancing powers of stories and poesis in general as stories retain the power to make us either become oblivious to and destroy or to feel and honor the many complex ties between the multitudinous nature cultures intertwined within the fabric of a multispecies world always in the making This book offers a total of fourteen articles written by international scholars in ecocriticism and ecopoetics who by their analyses of literature and or films and the political subtext they thus render visible aim at showing how the study of environmentally minded media may renew our attention to the entangled agencies of the human and the more than human realm Thus this work offers to counter a reproach ecocriticism has often been met with namely the over presence of US scholars and the lack of diversity in subjects in the field since the articles presented provide a wide variety of approaches and topics with examples of UK and Native American literature Polynesian myth graphic novels or haiku In doing so the book expands on the fields of ecocriticism and ecopoetics adding to this branch of study and enriching it with high quality academic studies
