Laying the Foundation John W. White, Heather Gilbert, 2016-03-15 Laying the Foundation Digital Humanities in Academic Libraries examines the library's role in the development implementation and instruction of successful digital humanities projects It pays special attention to the critical role of librarians in building sustainable programs It also examines how libraries can support the use of digital scholarship tools and techniques in undergraduate education Academic libraries are nexuses of research and technology as such they provide fertile ground for cultivating and curating digital scholarship However adding digital humanities to library service models requires a clear understanding of the resources and skills required Integrating digital scholarship into existing models calls for a reimagining of the roles of libraries and librarians In many cases these reimagined roles call for expanded responsibilities often in the areas of collaborative instruction and digital asset management and in turn these expanded responsibilities can strain already stretched resources Laying the Foundation provides practical solutions to the challenges of successfully incorporating digital humanities programs into existing library services Collectively its authors argue that librarians are critical resources for teaching digital humanities to undergraduate students and that libraries are essential for publishing preserving and making accessible digital scholarship
