Heshbon 1968 The First Campaign At Tell:

Tell El-Hesi W. J. Bennett, Jeffrey A. Blakely, 1989 The Tell el Hesi site comprises a 25 acre walled city from the Early Bronze III period It is located on the southeastern edge of the Mediterranean coastal plain 26 km northeast of Gaza in Israel Tell el Hesi was the first Palestinian site at which the principles of ceramic chronology and of stratigraphic excavation were applied and at which the relationship between pottery and stratigraphy was shown to be significant In 1890 W M Flinders Petrie excavated at Hesi and produced a general picture of its occupational history In 1891-92 F J Bliss excavated stratigraphically through each successive level of the mound and identified eleven occupational levels which he grouped into eight strata or cities In 1970 The Joint Archaeological Expedition to Tell el Hesi sponsored by the American Schools of Oriental Research and a consortium of educational institutions entered the site with the objectives of investigating in greater detail and with more refined methods the stratigraphic divisions identified by Petrie and Bliss This book appears as the third volume in the Joint Expedition's series of final publications regarding their field experience and findings The Joint Expedition completed excavation of four distinct Persian Period occupation sequences from the acropolis area Field I of tell el Hesi This volume presents and attempts to interpret all of the stratigraphic and artifactual material associated with the Stratum V occupation at the site It is a significant addition to the limited body of literature on Persian Period remains in the Levant

Heshbon 1968. The first Campaign at Tell Heshbân Andrews. University, 1969 The Madaba Plains Project Douglas R. Clark, Larry G. Herr, Øystein S. LaBianca, Randall W. Younker, 2016-04-08 The year 2008 marks the 40th anniversary of Madaba Plains Project archaeological research in the Hashemite Kingdom of Jordan The Madaba Plains Project is one of the longest lived continuously running archaeological excavation projects in the Middle East Spanning four decades the project with its beginnings at Tall Hisban in the late sixties has engaged 1 500 participants produced scores of publications and spawned a dozen other projects Its legacy includes being one of the first major Near Eastern archaeology projects to adopt a multi millennial regional approach to incorporate ethnoarchaeology and environmental studies to construct data around a food systems approach and to computerize procedures for archaeological data acquisition and analysis thus helping advance both the theoretical underpinnings and the field methods of archaeology in the southern Levant and beyond Madaba Plains Project directors wishing to celebrate this major scientific and historical milestone have produced this anniversary volume which highlights the value of ongoing collaborative research across the region of central Jordan attempting to explain life and survival from the Bronze ages through the Islamic and early modern periods and features the latest results from ongoing research enlivens the discussion by hearing from major scholars in the field who in the process of assessing the contributions of the project to the archaeology of the southern Levant broaden the discussion in the context of ancient Near Eastern archaeological research and expands the horizons of the project's research by presenting the ever enlarging number and extent of projects conducted by dig directors once on staff with the Madaba Plains Project thereby taking readers all over Jordan and beyond The Archaeology of Jordan and Beyond Lawrence E. Stager, Joseph A. Greene, Michael D. Coogan, 2018-07-17 James A Sauer was for many years the Director of the American Center of Oriental Research in Amman Jordan leading it to the preeminent place it now occupies as a research institution dedicated to the archaeology and history of Transjordan This volume honors him with more than 50 contributions from colleagues and friends With this volume the Harvard Semitic Museum inaugurates a new series entitled Studies in the Archaeology and History of the Levant History and Society During the Mamluk Period (1250-1517) Stephan Conermann, 2014 Once a person starts to study the 250 some years of the Mamluk Era in Egypt and Syria 1250-1517 one characteristic of that period stands out immediately the very unusual polarization of its society A predominantly Arabic population was dominated by a purely Turkish born elite of manumitted military slaves who sought to regenerate themselves continuously through a self imposed fiat The only person who could become a Mamluk was a Turk who had been born free outside the Islamic territories as a non Muslim then enslaved brought to Egypt as a slave converted to Islam freed and finally trained as a warrior Only those who met these prerequisites were members of the ruling stratum with all the concomitant political military and economic advantages On this historically unique model of a society Stephan Conermann has published a series of seminal articles In this edited volume the reader gets an excellent introduction to some of the central issues of the ongoing research on the Mamluk history and society Crossing Jordan Thomas Evan Levy, P.M. Michele Daviau, Randall W. Younker, 2016-06-16 Jordan is a key area of migration within the Levantine corridor that links the continents of Africa and Asia Crossing Jordan examines the peoples and cultures that have travelled across Jordan from antiquity to the present The book offers a critical analysis of recent discoveries and archaeological models in Jordan and highlights the significant contribution of North American archaeologists to the field Leading archaeologists explore the theory and methodology of archaeology in Jordan in essays which range across prehistory the Bronze Age the Iron Age the Hellenistic and Roman periods Nabatean civilization the Byzantine period and Islamic civilization The volume provides an up to date guide to the archaeological heritage of Jordan being an important resource for scholars and students of Jordan's history as well as citizens non governmental organizations and tourists Cities as Palimpsests? Elizabeth Key Fowden, Suna Çağaptay, Edward Zychowicz-Coghill, Louise Blanke, 2022-02-24 The metaphor of the palimpsest has been increasingly invoked to conceptualize cities with deep living pasts This volume seeks to think through and beyond the logic of the palimpsest asking whether this fashionable trope slyly forces us to see contradiction where local inhabitants saw and see none to impose distinctions that satisfy our own assumptions about historical periodization and cultural practice but which bear little relation to the experience of ancient medieval or early modern persons Spanning the period from Constantine's foundation of a New Rome in the fourth century to the contemporary aftermath of the Lebanese civil war this book integrates perspectives from scholars typically separated by the disciplinary boundaries of late antique Islamic medieval Byzantine Ottoman and modern Middle Eastern studies but whose work is united by their study of a region characterized by resilience rather than rupture The volume includes an introduction and eighteen contributions from historians archaeologists and art historians who explore the historical and cultural complexity of eastern Mediterranean cities The authors highlight the effects of the multiple antiquities imagined and experienced by persons and groups who for generations made these cities home and also by travelers and other observers who passed through them The independent case studies are bound together by a shared concern to understand the many ways in which the cities pasts live on in their presents Writers Directory NA NA,2016-03-05 Care or Neglect? Laszlo Bartosiewicz,Erika Gal,2018-02-28 Animals have always been integral to culture Their interaction with humans has intensified since the onset of domestication resulting in higher incidences of animal disease due to human intervention At the same time human care has counterbalanced pressures of natural selection reducing morbidity among wild animals Prior to the emergence of a veterinary record animal disease can only be traced by analyzing pathological symptoms on excavated animal remains This volume presents a collection of studies in the discipline of animal palaeopathology An international team of experts offer reviews of animal welfare at ancient settlements from both prehistoric and historic periods across Eurasia Several chapters are devoted to the diseases of dog and horse two animals of prominent emotional importance in many civilizations Curious phenomena observed on the bones of poultry sheep pig and even fish are discussed within their respective cultural contexts Many poorly healed bones are suggestive of neglect in the case of ordinary livestock On the other hand a great degree of compassion may be presumed behind the long survival of seriously ill companion animals In addition to furthering our better technical understanding of animal disease in the past this volume also mirrors the diversity of human attitudes towards animals during our millennia long relationship Some animal bones show signs of extreme cruelty but others also reveal the great attention paid to the recovery of sick animals Such attitudes tend to be largely hidden yet are characteristic aspects of how people relate to the surrounding world and ultimately to each other Secular Buildings in the Crusader Kingdom of Jerusalem Denys Pringle,1997-12-11 A descriptive gazetteer of all the secular buildings known to have existed within the Crusader Kingdom of Jerusalem Archaeology of Jordan D. Homès-Fredericq,John Basil Hennessy,Fawzi Zayadine,1986 Garden History John Dixon Hunt,1992 This collection of essays explores the issues methods and approaches that students in landscape architecture have developed during that period to cope with the expanding subject of gardens and their history The volume will serve as a bench mark in the field with its range of approaches and wealth of illustrative material Each contributor focuses upon a specific piece of his or her research and uses this as a basis to discuss the wider implications of the study of gardens within such contexts as botanical horticultural agrarian literary technological social culture political and art history Provided by publisher Heshbon 1968 Hans K.
